TODAY men buy new straw hats. Write this on your tablets:

Ten million men in America think more earnestly about this spring's straw hat than they will about next fall's Presidential vote.

IT looks like a "band wagon rush" for Secretary Hoover. William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee and Massachusetts leader, will vote for Hoover.

Mr. Mellon's strong endorsement of Secretary Hoover convinces nine "practical" Republicans out of ten that the thing is settled.

THERE seems to be nothing left of the plan to "beat Hoover" except the possibility that President Coolidge can be induced to change his mind. Those that know the President, even a little, do not expect it.

WILLIAM CHILDS, owner of many restaurants, says he is NOT trying to make America vegetarian by refusing to sell meat. Wise man. Vegetarian nations are usually slave nations.

Three hundred million ladies and gentlemen in India eat no meat, because their religion forbids it. They drink no alcohol.

A HANDFUL of Englishmen, thousands of miles away, eat plenty of meat, drink plenty of alcohol. But they boss and tax, with a force of only 100,000 British in India.

It took the earth millions of years to produce fertile soil, assisted by earthworms. The cow needs two or three years to produce a beefsteak from grasses. Man in half an hour manufactures brains from the beefsteak. Time is money, ergo, meat is money.

LILI DAMITA, beautiful lady, coming from France bound for Hollywood, says:

"American men are infants. They want to play, to dance, to act childish. They do not interest me. I like men with understanding."

The worst of that is the truth in it. The lady adds:

"I do not marry until I am an old woman."

She might make a film about Abraham's wife. The lady says:

"I have many princes and dukes in love with me.

YOUR glands regulate your personality. Prof. Berman of Columbia University can prove it. Your four parathyroids, small as a grain of wheat, mean more than all your education. A future revised version may read:

"I will praise the Lord for I am fearfully and wonderfully made, with my endocrines discharging hormones into the blood stream, and my parathyroids regulating the electrical condition of the lime salts of the body."

AND that is no pseudo scientific jest. When thyroid is lacking, idiocy is inevitable. Glands account for genius or lack of it, for crime and moral misbehavior. The thyroid is responsible for crimes of passion. Ninety per cent of delinquent girls have enlarged thyroid glands. It is all frightfully complicated.

ON top of this endocrine information, Dr. Blum of Berlin says:

"Fathers moderately addicted to alcohol are most likely to have male children, while the offspring of a temperate male parent are pre-eminently girls."

MOTHERS that wants boys will kindly remember that German scientists do not use bootleg whisky in their experiments.

MERELY smelling alcohol caused male mice to produce an overwhelming majority of male offspring. The alcohol entered father mouse's blood through the nose.

MADEMOISELLE SIMONE DE LA CHAUME, French, is woman golf champion of England. The British saw Mlle. de la Chaume beaten yesterday by the American girl, Glenna Collett.

Once more you wonder why European blood transplanted to America beats Europe, male and female.

However, we haven't produced anybody yet to beat that French lady marvel, Lenglen.

Preacher Feared Trouble

That trouble between Attorney Fayette J. Tyrrell and Philip Clark was feared in the First Christian Church at Munhall Sunday morning previous to Tyrrell's shooting of Clark was revealed today by County Detective Michael McDermott.

McDermott said his investigation today disclosed that the Rev. J. G. Waters, pastor, after talking to Tyrrell before Clark arrived at the church, went out to bring in a policeman.

"Why did you want a policeman?", McDermott said he asked the pastor. "Did Tyrrell make any threats against Clark?"

"I would sooner not answer that question until the proper time," the minister replied, according to McDermott.

"Well, why did you want a policeman?" the detective said he persisted.

"I wanted to avoid trouble and I feared trouble might arise when these two men came together", was the rather hesitant response, McDermott said.

PASTOR, ELDER CONFER

McDermott said the pastor admitted talking with Tyrrell about Clark and the charges the latter considered bringing. Thomas Thompson of Eighteenth avenue, Munhall, an elder in the church and chairman of the board, and the pastor called Tyrrell, the Sunday School superintendent, into an ante room to discuss the charges, McDermott said his inquiry disclosed. COAL RELIEF BILL READY FOR CONGRESS

By MAX HENRICI, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A bill designed to improve conditions in the soft coal industry will be introduced in Congress immediately, Senator James E. Watson, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, announced this afternoon.

The measure has been prepared by the United Mine Workers, he said, but declined to indicate its nature. Confidential copies of the bill have been printed and were distributed to the members of the committee this morning. Watson said the committee had not approved the bill, but that it would be submitted to Congress by request as a basis for discussion.

"Will it be introduced at this session of Congress?" he was asked.

"Right away," was the answer. He said he had not yet reached a decision as to whether he himself would introduce the bill or whether it should be left for another member of the committee.

As Congress plans to adjourn on May 26, there is no possibility of action being taken on the measure until next session.

MAY CALL GOV. FISHER

The committee considered the bill for a few minutes at an executive session this afternoon. It also considered the question of issuing a subpena for Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, but reached no conclusion.

Senator Watson said he was of the opinion that the committee had no authority to call the governor of a state. He had hoped, he said, that Gov. Fisher would waive his rights and voluntarily come to Washington to testify, but that hope apparently was not to be gratified.

Fisher, said Watson, was appar-

ATTACKER SEIZES WOMAN

Returning to her home early this morning, Mrs. Bertha Miller, of 1041 Powell street, Esplen, was attacked by a Negro. The attacker sprang at her in Carson street between Fourth and Fifth streets and robbed her of her purse, according to police.

The woman managed to make her way home and notify police.

Fourteen women have been summoned to appear in Morals Court tomorrow against Stanley Martin, 17-year-old Negro "Terror," of 7 Janewood way. All have identified him, detectives say, in connection with attacks and purse robberies.

Postoffice Bars Dry Snooping

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Postmaster Gosser at Pittsburgh has been ordered by Postmaster General Harry S. New not to lend further aid to Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, in his efforts to obtain confidential information regarding prospective jurors in enforcement cases.

This was made known today in a report from the postmaster general to Chairman Griest, Pennsylvania, of the House Post-office and Post Roads committee, on the resolution offered by Representative F. H. LaGuardia, of New York, making inquiry as to the co-operation given Administrator Pennington in his enforcement activities by postoffices in Western Pennsylvania.

CALLED BY CONGRESS

Postmaster General New was recently called on by the House committee to throw whatever light he could on the part Federal postoffice officials of Pennsylvania have played in the efforts of Pennington to obtain confidential juror information. His reply, made public today, took the form of a letter to Chairman Griest.

Neither the department nor any of the officials connected with it have directed postmasters or employes of the service to furnish information to the United States prohibition organization, Mr. New said. He declared that "the matter is one in which this department ought not to be expected to take a part,"

Game starts at 3:30.

The slumping Pirates, hammered down to a 50-50 standing through recent losses to invading eastern teams will make a strenuous effort to regain their form and turn the tables on the Brooklyn Dodgers when they square off at Forbes Field this afternoon.

Yesterday's defeat put the Bucs and Robins on exactly the same basis in the matter of games won and lost in the league standing. Both have 13 victories and the same number of defeats. It marked the second day in succession that the Robins had downed the Pirates, however, as Brooklyn won the Sunday game at Brooklyn.

Manager Bush will depend upon John Miljus to do the pitching for the locals, while Manager Robinson of the Dodgers will counter with another right-hander, Douglas McWeeny, who pitched with Miljus in the Coast League.

MAYOR, POLICE HEADS CALLED ON RUM RING

The Federal grand jury probe of Pittsburgh's liquor trust reached to Mayor Kline today!

Subpenas were issued for Kline, Public Safety Director James M. Clark, Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh and all the city magistrates, calling upon them to produce or have produced in Federal Court records from all the police stations.

It is understood the records are wanted to show what arrests have been made for violations of the Snyder Act—the state prohibition law—and what disposition has been made in those arrests.

Judge F. P. Schoonmaker ordered the subpenas issued at the request of United States District Attorney John D. Meyer.

This latest move was regarded by far the most important the government has taken in its persistent campaign to learn of the city's rum ring and all of its ramifications for the edification of the grand jury which has already heard several hundred witnesses.

It was pointed out that, with the police records in their possession, the government prosecutors may present evidence to the grand jury which will extend the probe to the city limits rather than only the North Side and South Side angles which have thus far occupied the jurors.

There was no interruption today in the parade of witnesses before the grand jury. The corridors were heavily guarded today after yesterday's second night session and rumors were rife that attempts were being made to investigate government witnesses. Many of yesterday's witnesses were recognized as bartenders and saloonkeepers who were thought to know nothing of the so-called "protection system" of Mrs. Beulah Knapp, Ingomar, escaped with minor injuries in a crossing crash near her home on the Harmony interurban street car line.

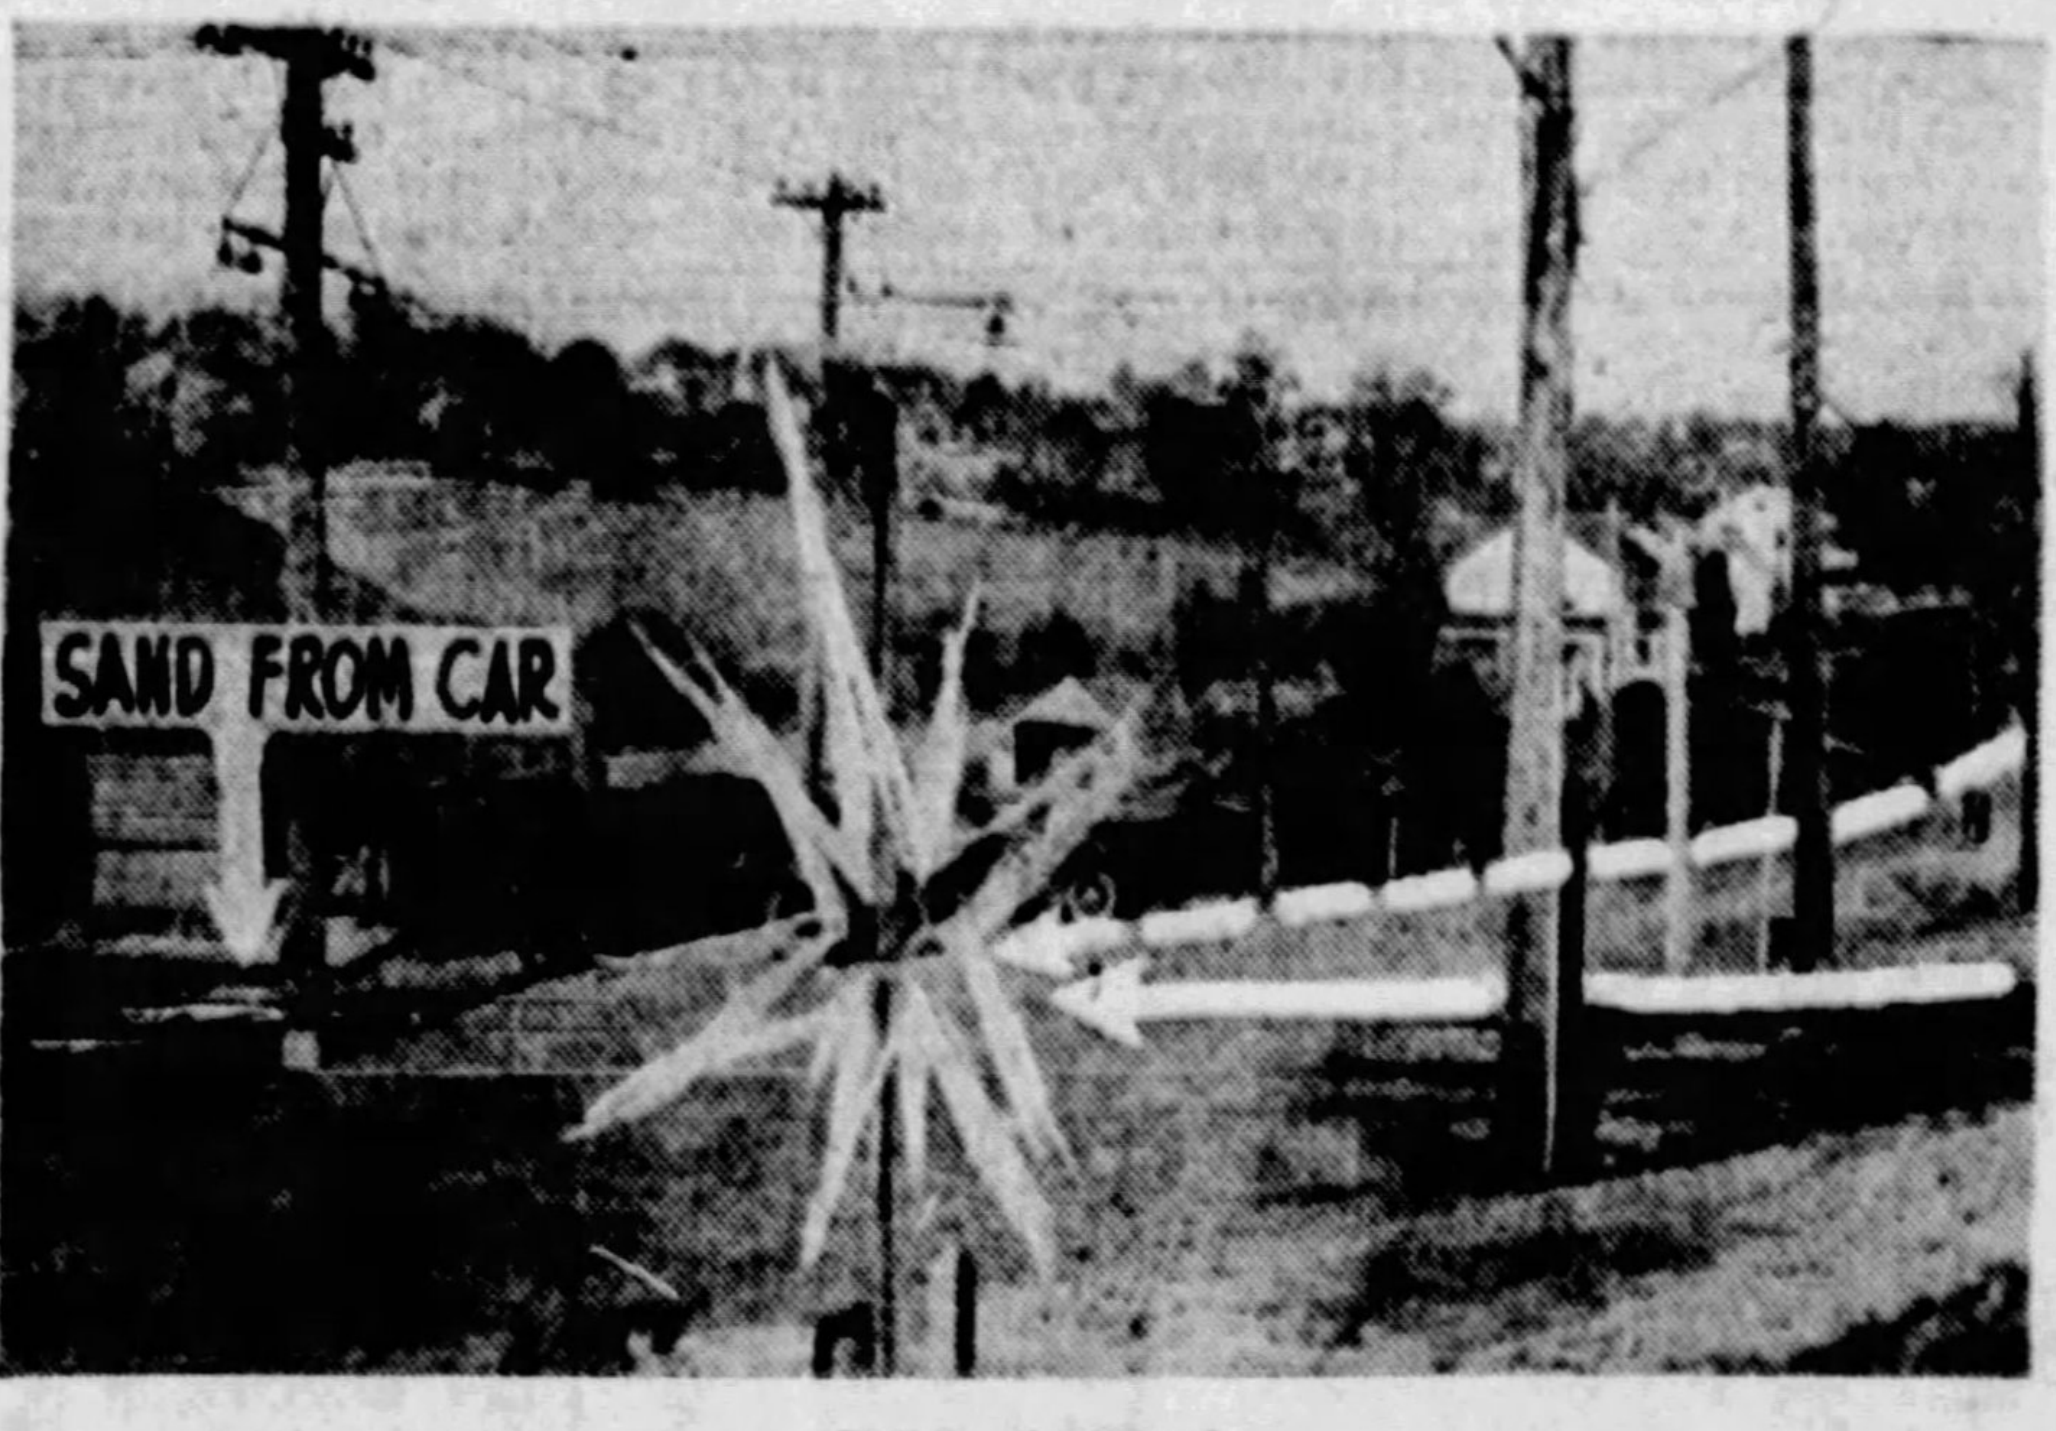
FRED KNAPP

Fred Knapp, Mellon Bank clerk, met death as his automobile was crushed at Ingomar station a few minutes after he left home en route to work.



TOO LATE!

Brakes were applied and sand released to stop the Harmony car when its motorman saw an automobile in his path. Crushed against its front truck was the wreckage of the Knapp automobile. The body of Fred Knapp, driver, was removed to the undertaking establishment of Herman P. Brandt, Perrysville, and an ambulance from the same place removed Mrs. Knapp to Presbyterian Hospital. Above is the scene of the crash, marking the courses of the automobile and street car.

KNAPP CHILDREN

As they were about to leave their home for school, Catherine, 12, and Marian Knapp, 7, learned their father had been killed and their mother injured almost within sight of their home.

TWO PLANES

Two Loening army amphibian planes, piloted by Capt. Ira C. Eaker and Lieut. Quesada, are flying to Greenley. The War Department, assured by German consul and the U. S. State Department that the Dominion of Canada would not object, is sending the planes for quick action, necessary before the Bremen becomes hopelessly morassed and must be abandoned until late fall. Both planes are fighting unexpected difficulties in their push into the north.

MAKE UP PARTY

Included in the little party that set out to brave the rigors of a north to which they are unaccustomed are Fred Melchoir, chief Junkers pilot in the United States; Maj. Gen. Fechet, chief of Army Air Corps, and Capt. Ira Eaker. If a landing is impossible either on the island or the sea, Melchoir will 'chute to the ground and prepare the plane for flight. Lieut. Quesada is flying instead of Lieut. Muir Fairchild (extreme left).

GETTING READY

Getting ready for the flight brought activity to Mitchel Field. Here, Lieut. Fairchaild, Maj. Gen. Fechet, Melchoir and Capt. Eaker laid their plans for the route the two great ships would follow. Time still remains, it is believed, to save the Bremen. One ship was mired at Maitland, Canada, but recovered; the other ran out of fuel.

P. R. R. TO BE AIR-RAIL SYSTEM LINK

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—New York newspapers today say that a new national transportation system using both airplanes and railway trains, which it is hoped will eventually link New York and the Pacific Coast on a 48 to 52-hour schedule is being planned.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, approached with an offer to become an official of the company, said he had no intention of identifying himself with a commercial project, but said he was interested in all programs that would aid aviation.

The plans call for the eastern field to be covered by the National Air Transport Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad. Overtures have been made to the Boeing Air Transport Company, the Western Air Transport Company and the Santa Fe, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas, and Missouri, Pacific Railway lines to extend the service west of the Mississippi.

The new service will be controlled by a new and independent operating company which is to have a capitalization of $5,000,000.

Passengers would use the established air lines for day travel and the railways at night.

DRY SNOOPING BANNED

adding that "Postmaster Gosser has been so informed."

La Guardia's resolution was the outgrowth of a letter written by Pennington to postoffice officials in his district setting forth a list of questions he desired to be answered through postoffice sources regarding prospective jurors in the prosecution of prohibition offenders.

NEW'S LETTER

New's letter, in part, follows:

"The Treasury Department has never to my knowledge called on us for service in connection with prohibition enforcement and I do not see how it would be possible for us to in any way aid in a service of that character. The only case of which I have any knowledge of anyone connected with the postal service being asked to do anything in this respect arose at Pittsburgh, where Postmaster Gosser received a letter over the signature of John D. Pennington, federal prohibition administrator for that district, enclosing a questionnaire concerning the habits, associations and characteristics of certain prospective jurors. I do not know that Postmaster Gosser did anything more in this case than to send the questionnaire to this department for instructions. After reading the list of questions included, it is perfectly apparent that they could not by any possibility be answered without long investigation and it would appear equally obvious that the matter is one in which this department ought not be expected to take a part. Postmaster Gosser has been so informed."

ALIBI OFFERED FOR WEST

An alibi was offered today in Criminal Court as the defense of Fred West, 20, of Fairmont, W. Va., on trial before Judge Thomas J. Ford for the holdup of the Aldine Theater and the theft of $2,400 the night of December 14, last. Clarence West, the defendant's father, and Marie Bowes, a friend, testified that West was in Fairmont the afternoon and evening of the robbery. Assistant District Attorney John F. Haggerty placed in evidence an alleged confession by West admitting his part in the robbery. Martin Sherman, of Fairmont, testified that West boasted of the robbery in Bellaire, O., December 23. G. C. Murphy, assistant manager of the theater, testified that two robbers, one masked, entered an upper office and at the point of guns scooped the cash into a bag about closing time.

which the grand jury has heard much. This is the system which is said to involve politicians and police.

Today was labeled South Side Day for the grand jury. The first batch of the 200 witnesses who have been summoned from that side of the city told their "stories" to the jury—stories said to involve forced buying of rum from the ring that enjoyed "protection."

FLOOD BILL BECOMES LAW

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP.)—President Coolidge today signed the Mississippi River flood control bill.

By affixing his signature to the measure, Mr. Coolidge placed upon the statute books an act which embarks the federal government upon the tremendous task of curbing the flood waters of the Mississippi—probably one of the greatest engineering undertakings ever attempted in history.

The same stroke of the President's pen also completed the first of what are regarded as the three major problems up to the present Congress. The other two, farm relief and tax reduction, still are pending in legislative form at the Capitol.

The new flood control law was framed jointly by Senator Jones, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, and Chairman Reid, of the House Flood Control Committee, and calls for the expenditure by the federal treasury of $325,000,000. The engineering plan for the work proposes the strengthening of the levees along the Mississippi River and the building of three floodways and a spillway as outlets to carry off from the main stream the excess flood waters into the Gulf of Mexico.

Upon the federal government is placed the entire expense of the flood control work with the exception of the furnishing of the levee foundations on the main river to be borne by the Mississippi Valley states; but this cost to the states is estimated only at abou $500,000t.

The new law represents over six months of labor by Congress. For four months Senate and House committees conducted exhaustive hearings on the problem, questioning three cabinet members and a host of army engineers, members of Congress and state governors and officials.

After the House and Senate had acted there began a series of conferences between House administration leaders and supporters of the flood measure in an effort to revise provisions to meet White House objections, paving the way for the President to affix his signature.

One of Mr. Coolidge's chief objections centered on the proportion of the cost of the control work to be assumed by the states and another hinged on whether the states or federal government would shoulder the cost of damages sustained by owners of the land in the proposed floodways.

On the first point, the new law requires states to provide the rights of way on the main stream and on the second point the federal government is obligated to obtain flowage easements or, in other words, to pay damages only when lands not previously subjected to flood menace are flooded as a result of the floodways and spillways having been constructed.

The federal government, further, would not be responsible for damages sustained in natural floodways such as swamp lands and marshes.

ently of the opinion that the committee planned to browbeat and bulldoze him, but that was far from the Senators' thoughts.

POLICE HEAD NOT "LOANED"

This was the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's day before the committee. Answering the charge that it was hostile to the United Mine Workers, it placed on the stand Capt. John G. Sersch, of the railroad police, who testified that when he organized the coal and iron police force of the Pittsburgh Coal Company in 1926 he did so of his own volition and had not been "loaned" to the coal company by the railroad company. He expected, when he took the job with the coal company, to remain permanently in its employ, he stated, but found conditions in Pittsburgh not to the liking of his family, and so returned to the employ of the railroad at Harrisburg.

SIDING NOT NEEDED

The Pennsylvania also placed on the stand Alfred W. Duke, division engineer at Cincinnati, who denied testimony of Thomas Sagle that the railroad removed the siding of the Roseville Coal Company at Roseville, O., because the company employed union labor.

Correspondence was introduced to the effect that the company voluntarily gave up the siding because it intended to abandon its mine.

was said by the trio has not been disclosed, but it is McDermott's theory, he said, that Tyrrell became so angered over Clark's determination to go through with the charges that the pastor became alarmed and started out for a policeman. Tyrrell left the ante room, going directly to the auditorium where he encountered Clark, McDermott declared, and shot him down without a word having passed between the two.

CLARK NOT ARMED

McDermott also revealed that his investigation disclosed that Clark did not carry a weapon. He was never known to carry a weapon, McDermott said, nor did he threaten bodily harm to the attorney, the detective declared, as far as his inquiry has disclosed.

"When I talked with Clark Saturday night," McDermott said, "he told me about his intention of bringing charges against Tyrrell, but never once did he threaten bodily harm. He was quite concerned over his wife's pending divorce suit and he worried about the case."

TO GRILL CHOIR SINGER

Mrs. Hazel Clark, the victim's widow, was on her way to county detective headquarters for questioning this afternoon. She left the home of her mother in Homestead where she has been living since her separation from her husband and went into seclusion on a farm near Vandergrift. County Detective McDermott went to Vandergrift this morning to bring her into Chief George W. Murren's office.

Clark's funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Clark, Sr., 202 Ann street, Homestead, with Rev. J. D. Waters, pastor of the church in which the shooting occurred, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. E. A. Krapp, of the First Presbyterian Church, Homestead.

SELF-DEFENSE PLEA

Tyrrell, will make a self-defense plea, it was indicated by his counsel, J. Thomas Hoffman, who characterized Clark as a "bully." He declared Tyrrell fired only when he believed his life was in danger. "Tyrrell has lived for the past year in fear of his life because of the senseless, baseless threats uttered by Clark," said Attorney Hoffman.

Still refusing to make a statement concerning the fatal shooting, Tyrrell was taken from jail today and photographed and measured by county detectives. Returning to jail he noted the absence of newspaper photographers and asked, "Where are all the sharpshooters?"

Fred W. Knapp, 42, a bookkeeper in the Mellon National Bank, was killed instantly, and his wife, Mrs. Beulah Knapp, 35, was injured when their auto collided with a street car on the Harmony-Butler line at Ingomar, near the Knapp home, early today.

Officials at the Presbyterian Hospital said Mrs. Knapp's injuries were not serious.

Knapp took up employment in the Mellon Bank 19 years ago as a messenger.

The scene of the crash is a blind crossing. Many other similar accidents have occurred there. According to witnesses the street car was coming to a stop at the station when it struck Knapp's machine as he apparently became bewildered and drove into its path.

The Knapp's children, Catherine, 12, and Marian, 7, were about to leave their home for school when the accident occurred, almost within their sight.

A second Central News dispatch from King's Bay said the Italia on its present trip was carrying only 14 men—just enough to man the airship.

An earlier attempt was made to hop off, but ice formed quickly upon the envelope and the motors, necessitating delay while the ice was removed.

COUNTY BANS DAMAGES

Allegheny county in the future will not pay property damages resulting from the building of new county roads or bridges or the improving of old county roads, County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, chairman, stated yesterday. His colleagues, Commissioners E. V. Babcock and Charles C. McGovern, concurred with Chairman Armstrong.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been paid annually by the county in settling such claims.

The commissioners contend that if a community wishes the county to build a new road or improve an old one at the expense of the county, the community should assume all property damages resulting.

"I think that it is only fair to citizens of the county that this should be done," Commissioner Armstrong said.

Will Says Bunion Racers Deserve Some Credit.

Will Rogers.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 15.—It's about time for somebody to give a real endurance test some credit. Think of a foot race to New York and a 20-year-old kid from Claremore, Okla, leading it. It's all right to kid it and call it bunion, but no athlete in any other branch of sport could get up every day for three straight months and run from 40 to 70 miles. Sporting writers write pages over some football player's 70-yard run. Our champion prize fighters can only fight 30 minutes every two years. There is not a golf player in America that could have stood this same trip in an automobile.

You will find it's the grit and the heart that's doing this more than bunions or ingrowing toenails. So be fair and give 'em a break.

Yours from Claremore,
WILL ROGERS.

THEY'RE NOT SUBWAYS

Things are happening beneath the surface in this town—and you, of all persons, didn't know that, did you? You didn't know, for example, that the innocent looking layout (top) was a hoisting device at Twelfth street and Penn avenue, enabling workmen to reach 3,000 feet of tunnel. And did you know that this (center) was a chamber where dirt is received and removed by the Allegheny County Steam Heating Company in its tunnel-building program? The bottom picture shows a partly completed tunnel which is to be used to carry steam pipes to heat buildings. This particular tunnel darts off Penn avenue and across Sixth avenue into William Penn way. It's all very dark, too, unless you have tunnel eye.

SHIELDS CASE UP AGAIN

Daniel J. Shields of Johnstown, prominent Cambria county politician, is on trial before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson on a charge of conspiring to violate the national prohibition law in connection with the operation of the Emmerling Products Company, a brewery, Johnstown.

He was convicted on the same indictment two years ago, but the United States Supreme Court granted him a new trial. The government is represented in the prosecution by Assistant United States District Attorney J. A. Richardson and the defendant by Attorneys Lowry E. Humes and Max V. Schoonmaker.

3 INJURED IN CRASH NEAR BROWNSVILLE

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., May 15.—Three men were injured when a truck and a smaller car collided on Brownsville Hill yesterday. Albert Bosha, 42, of Fairbanks, driver of the truck, was taken to Brownsville Hospital. John Karcen, of Vestaburg, and Frank Drahuse, of Fredericktown, occupants of the automobile, were only slightly hurt.

U. S. PLANE RUNS OUT OF FUEL

International News Service.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 15.—Following a succession of mishaps, the two Army amphibian planes of relief expedition going to the Straits of Belle Isle, Labrador, to attempt to bring the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen back to civilization, were separated today but it was hoped they would be able to rejoin and go forward northward together.

The plane carrying Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, commander of the expedition, and piloted by Lieut. Elwood Quesada, reached Pictou, N. S., late yesterday. The other plane, carrying Fred Melchior, Junkers expert, and piloted by Capt. Ira Eaker, was forced down near Tatamagouche, N. S., when it ran short of fuel.

PLANE MIRED

The planes left St. Johns, N. B., together yesterday morning. Both landed at the mouth of the Shubenacadie River in Cobequid Bay, near Maitland. Capt Eaker's ship soon departed without difficulty, but Lieut. Quesada found that the wheels of his ship were mired in the river bed. It was several hours before he was able to take off.

When the plane carrying Gen. Fechet arrived at Pictou, the general learned that Capt. Eaker's plane had been forced down in a field 20 miles away near Tatamagouche. Capt. Eaker sent word that, although he could procure fuel easily, he would not attempt to fly to Pictou until this morning.

Lieut. Muir Fairchild, originally pilot of Gen. Fechet's plane, is now at a hotel in St. Johns, after suffering an attack of appendicitis. He will be taken to Boston in a third Army plane as soon as his condition permits. Lieut. Quesada came from Washington to take Fairchild's place.

LIFE AFTER DEATH?

Is there a life after death? That, like most questions, has two sides. Sir Oliver Lodge, famous British scientist and spiritualist, says there is. He says there is evidence to prove it. Sir Arthur Keith, president, Advancement of Science Association, says there is not. He says the mind inheres in the brain and dies with it. Sir Oliver retorts that Sir Arthur is ignoring the evidence. And there you are!

UNIFORM TRAFFIC PLAN PROPOSED

A model municipal traffic ordinance, which would provide for the uniformity of all parking rules and driving regulations, was released yesterday by the National Conference on Street and Railway Safety, headed by Secretary Herbert Hoover, of the Department of Commerce. Under this ordinance all municipal units would have the same traffic laws and it would be possible to drive from coast to coast and find that traffic lights mean the same and all signs and signals would have the same import.

The new code is similar in practically its entirety to one now being developed by the Better Traffic Committee of Pittsburgh, of which Edwin C. May is chairman. The local committee has been working on its ordinance for more than a year and the final draft is awaiting only comparison with the Hoover conference report before being presented to Council for enactment.

Under the model ordinance, expected to be adopted by many municipalities in the near future, there will be a universal rule for turning on the green light only. Heretofore much confusion has resulted in some cities from the rule permitting left turns on the red light.

TWO HURT AS AUTOS CRASH AT ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 15.—Harry L. Wissner, 134 Clay street, and wife, Margaret, were injured when their car was struck by another auto on the Junction Park road and forced against a pole.

OIL LAMP BURNS KILL GROVE CITY MAN

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 15.—Burns received when an oil lamp overturned and exploded, caused the death yesterday of Burton Potter, 77, dairyman.

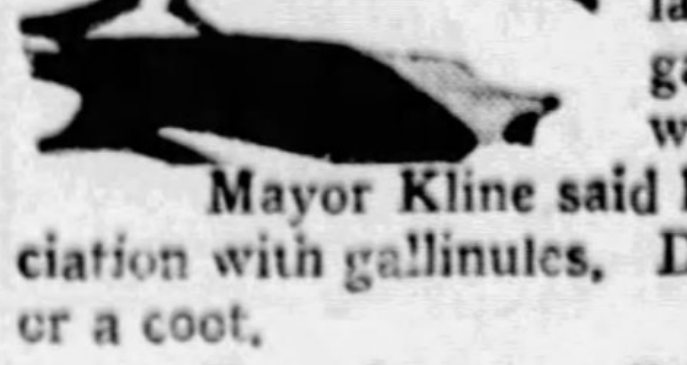
McConnell Charges Dropped

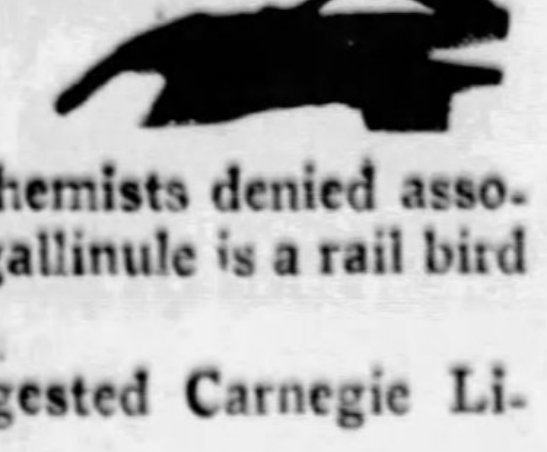
KANSAS CITY, May 15.—(AP.)— Technical charges of maladministration and "immorality," brought against Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of Pittsburgh, Pa., by the Rev. George A. Cooke, of Wilmington, Del., were summarily dismissed today by the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

ROCHESTER TO HAVE $500,000 THEATER

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 15.—A half-million dollar theater will be erected in the business district here. Attorney Paul H. Baldwin, representing theater men, has purchased the Dr. Frank Holt and William Hartman properties.

Council Buys $20 Worth— Of Something Worth $20





COUNCIL today was asked to spend $20 for two gallinules—but it was like buying something you don't know anything of.

"What," Councilman Robert Garland asked each and every one, "is a gallinule?" An overwhelming silence was his answer.

Mayor Kline said he would study the question. The city chemists denied association with gallinules. Did Highland Park Zoo know? Yes! A gallinule is a rail bird or a coot.

But what are rail birds and coots? Finally a genius suggested Carnegie Library. The consultation produced this:

"A gallinute is a mud-hen in purple. It likes the water."

Relieved, Council agreed as one to risk $20 on two gallinules for the city's zoo collection. (Tomorrow's lesson: Saprolegniales.)

Pittsburgh As Others See Us

"Frankly, I have never thought of Pittsburgh as 'The Smoky City.'"

ELLIS PARKER BUTLER

ELLIS PARKER BUTLER, author, born in Muscatine, Ia., December 5, 1869. Educated in the public schools. Has written many books and whimsical stories, the best known being "Pigs Is Pigs," published in 1906. "How It Feels to Be Fifty," 1920, is almost as widely read. Lives in Flushing, N. Y.

In Pittsburgh I am no stranger, and I have visited your great city many times in the last 30 years. My great-grandfather, William Gazzam II, and his wife, Ann Parker, moved to Pittsburgh from Philadelphia in 1802. My grandmother, Mary Alice Gazzam-Butler, was born in Pittsburgh in 1804.

My great-uncle, Gen. John B. Butler, was in command of the Arsenal for some years, and my father and others used to visit the Gazzams and Butlers in Pittsburgh and Allegheny before the Civil War. My grandmother, about 1818, used to visit friends in East Liberty when it was an all-day journey there.

Frankly I have never thought of Pittsburgh as "the Smoky City." I seem to have missed that particular phase somehow, and the picture that comes to me is of warm hospitality extended by both individuals and organizations, a properly energetic business district, wide and impressive boulevards with noble structures lining them, and the most charming suburbs I have seen anywhere in the world.

FAMED PILOT TO SAIL IN RACE

Ward T. Van Orman of Akron, O., noted balloon pilot, will guide the Goodyear entry in the national balloon derby from Bettis Field, McKeesport, on Memorial Day, the National Aeronautic Association announced today. Van Orman won the national race from Akron, O., last year.

He brought the James Gordon Bennett trophy to America for its first visit when, with Walter W. Morton, he won the 1926 international race from Antwerp, Belgium. Morton will accompany Van Orman as aide.

Prisoner Works Out Fine As Dog Killer.

NEWCOMERSTOWN, O. May 15.—Charged with disorderly conduct, Jack Russell was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Mayor Marion Mercer. His honor told Russell the entire fine would be remitted if he showed proof where he had killed 10 of the hundreds of stray dogs infesting the city. Russell agreed to be official dog catcher until his fine was worked out.

"DAUGHTER UNFIT"

Her daughter not being a fit person to have possession of her grandson, Ralph Affinito, 7, Mrs. Mary Marcks testified before Judge Josiah Cohen that the father, Nick Affinito, Monongahela business man, should have the lad. Mrs. Theda Affinito, 24, Sedgwick street, mother of the boy, was in court without a lawyer and decision was reserved until Wednesday to give her opportunity to fight habeas corpus proceedings. The mother is accused of running away with Mike DiBerry, sentenced to jail under the Mann act.

NINE DROWN AS LAUNCH SINKS

SEEK BODIES IN MAINE TRAGEDY

International News Service.

GREENVILLE, Me., May 15.—Bodies of nine prominent citizens of Brockton, Mass., and their Maine woods guide were sought in the lower reaches of Moosehead Lake today by Sheriff A. G. Rodgers and a party of searchers in a motorboat.

Grief-stricken relatives of the men, who had come here by airplane, automobile and train, waited patiently to receive all that was mortal of their loved ones—lost in the sinking of a motor launch.

Besides Dr. David Bridgwood, eye and ear specialist of Brockton, last seen swimming shoreward, the lost were: Fire Chief William F. Daley, of Brockton; Sheriff Earl P. Blake, of Plymouth county, Mass.; Dr. Arthur F. Peterson, former Brockton city physician; John Sandberg, manufacturer of Brockton; Dr. Frank Moberg, of Brockton; Fred Dahlberg, highway commissioner of Brockton; ex-Mayor Harry C. Howard, of Brockton; Knute S. Salander, Brockton business man, and Sam Buddin, of this town, Maine woods guide and skipper of the ill-fated lake craft.

ORPHANS AMONG CIRCUS CROWDS

Merriment reigned at old Exposition Park yesterday when thousands of people flocked there to see the opening performances of Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch Wild West Show, Probably the most enthusiastic and happy persons at the matinee were 655 orphan children from various homes throughout the city, The children were guests of the management and throughout the show plainly showed their appreciation, Prior to the performance, the youngsters, who were seated in a section, were entertained by Billy Lorette, noted clown policeman, and Chief Kills Crow, full-blooded Sioux Indian,

The big features of the show, especially enjoyed by the younger element, were the performances of the Cowboys, Indians and Mexicans. Among their acts was a portrayal of stage coach robbery and rescue.

Among the other features is a picturesque revival of the sports of ancient Rome, including chariot racing. Swift Zouaves have their place with military drills and wall scaling. Highly trained horses are a big factor in the show. The All-Nation act includes Rough Riders from many scattered countries who race in their native costumes.

Along with the big tent, the show is carrying with it the customary sideshows with their many weird features. The local stay will terminate with a matinee this afternoon and the finale tonight.

SAY UNION MINER URGED GUNPLAY

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

A NOVELTY program, "In the South," will be offered by the Hall Johnson Negro singers during the Eveready hour, which will be heard over Red Network stations, including WCAE, at 9 o'clock tonight. These singers comprise a chorus of 18 voices—eight women and 10 men. They will depict, with group singing, humorous dialogue and close harmony work, an excursion down the Mississippi River.

Singing by a male quartet will feature the Stromberg-Carlson presentation over the Blue Network, including KDKA, at 8:00 o'clock. The quartet will sing "Mandy Lee," "Can't You Hear Me Callin,' Caroline?", "Long, Long Ago," "I'm Wearing My Heart Away for You," "Indiana" and "Music When Soft Voices Die." Godfrey Ludlow, violinist, will play "Mighty Lak' a Rose," while Keith McLeod, vibraphone soloist and director of the Stromberg-Carlson sextet, will play "Deep River."

The Voters' Service, a network feature to be broadcast through WCAE at 7:30 o'clock, will present campaign issues of 1928 as seen by the directing heads of two important campaign committees. The speakers will be: Representative William R. Wood (Rep.), of Indiana, chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee, and Representative William A. Oldfield, (Dem.), of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee.

Request numbers will be offered by the Seiberling Singers in their broadcast through WCAE and associated stations at 8:30 o'clock. Among the numbers will be: "Nola," which will be sung by the quartet, and Sir Edward Elgar's ceremonial march, "Land of Hope and Glory," which will be played and sung by orchestra and voices.

The Sacred Song program to be broadcast by KDKA at 10:30 will be presented by a mixed chorus. The members are: Frazier Rankin, soprano; Jean McCrory Newman, contralto; Will Rhodes, tenor, and Fred Newman, bass. W. A. Reger will be at the piano. The following selections will be heard: "The Solid Rock," "We're Marching to Zion," "Since I Have Been Redeemed," "Loving Kindness," "The Great Physician Now Is Near," "Who'll Be the Next to Follow Jesus," "That Sweet Story of Old," "Trusting Jesus That Is All," "Shall We Meet Beyond the River," "When I Get to the End of the Way," "Jesus, Son of Mary," "Softly Now the Light of Day," "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and a reading titled, "Jesus Received Them."

ROSSITER MINE BAN ARGUED

INDIANA, Pa., May 15.—"Every man who went in on the man-trip deserved to be sprayed with bullets from a machine gun," was the remark attributed to a striking union miner in testimony today at a hearing in the "hymn-singing" Rossiter mine injunction case before Judge J. N. Langham.

The hearing is on the motion to make permanent an injunction against union miners to prevent interference with non-union men, even to the singing of religious songs in a churchyard adjoining the entrance to the Rossiter mine.

Bruce Sciotto, counsel for the union, today said he hoped the Senatorial investigating committee, composed of Senators Wagner, Pine, Gooding and Wheeler, would respond to his summons to appear and testify as to what they saw on their visit of the mining district here.

HOW TO TREAT ECZEMA AND ITCHING SKIN

What every sufferer wants is quick relief from the terrible itching that almost drives them mad.

Nothing acts more quickly than Peterson's ointment when rubbed thoroughly into the skin. Many times all itching disappears overnight.

As a remedy to banish eczema and to rid the skin of pimples, blotches, and eruptions, Peterson's ointment has been in great demand for many years—its mighty healing power is marvelous.

A South Dakota woman writes: "I have found nothing so good for itching skin and insect bites as Peterson's Ointment."

An Iowa woman writes: "It is the only Ointment that helps control my Eczema," and from the State of Washington another woman writes: "It is the only Ointment I can find that will cure eczema."

Get it at any drug store—a box for only 25 cents.

You Can Secure Thousands of Miles of Added Gruelling Service at Reduced Cost Just as the Stage Lines Do With Beautiful, Comfortable—

SAMSON TIRES

Balloon — High Pressure — Stage and Truck

Some day you'll realize—just as the big stage lines did years ago—that tires play a very important part in your automobile upkeep expense, and the amount of service and pleasure you secure from your car.

Years ago stage lines took very definite steps to secure greater mileage, at much lower costs, from their tires. As a result, Samson years ago developed a stage line tire that outwore and, therefore, gave lower cost than any other tire made.

And when its engineers were finally able to develop that same construction on down into beautiful, comfortable passenger car tires, motorists everywhere had the opportunity to secure the same advantages in their tire usage that the stage lines had obtained under even more gruelling service, years before.

Now, with Samson tires, any tire user can secure thousands of more miles of trouble-free service at a much lower cost per mile than from any tire made because Samson is the only tire built with this same rugged stage line Construction, and at no higher price.

Price alone is no guide to tire value. Real value is determined finally by the number of miles of trouble-free service you secure compared to the original cost.

Think of this the next time you need a tire—then come see us and let us prove our statements to you.

COUNTY ASKED FOR HELP BY GREENTREE

Greentree borough is as poor as church mice. Officials of the borough admitted this to County Commissioners. A large delegation of borough officials and residents met with the Commissioners and asked aid in improving two miles of Washington pike, through the borough.

"We are large in area, but poor in revenue," Councilman Oakley Heselbarth said. "The borough is not able to do the work and we appeal to you."

Washington pike is a through highway to Pittsburgh from Bridgeville, Woodville and Carnegie, Commissioners were told. "We need the improvement and would gladly help," Councilman Heselbarth said. "But we must improve 18 miles of streets in the borough this year and we have only $9,000 to do it with. That is how poor we are." The estimated cost of the improvement is $200,000.

County engineers were ordered by Commissioners to make a survey of the improvement.

GANGSTER PUT IN MORGANZA

Described as the last of a bad gang of Soho youths, Stanley Bird, 19, of 34 Orr street, was committed to the Morganza reformatory after pleading guilty to five charges of robbery before Judge Joseph M. Swearingen in Criminal Court. Detective Jerry Deasy said the gang robbed a number of stores and junk shops and "rolled drunks" in the Soho district during the last few years. The gang has been rounded up and sent to various institutions. Bird was arrested April 20 after returning here from Chicago, where he had fled, Deasy said. Welfare workers said Bird came of a good family, but had been affected as a result of concussion of the brain suffered when he was struck by an automobile at the age of 10.

HURT AUTOISTS ASK $25,500

Charles E. Collier and Rosa B. Collier, his wife, filed suits in Common Pleas Court against George Wood for $25,500 damages. They claim that their automobile was wrecked by Wood's machine at Beech and Beaver streets, McKeesport, April 10, 1927. Both were injured.

$100,000 JEWELS LOST

GEMS IN TAXI, SAYS WIFE OF FINANCIER

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—The loss of jewels valued at $100,000 which she said she left in an overnight bag in a taxicab, was reported to the police last night by Mrs. Alfred H. Chapin, of Crescent Hills, Springfield.

Mrs. Chapin, accompanied by her 2-year-old son, Kay, and a nurse, had arrived at the Grand Central station, entered a taxicab and had been driven to the Ambassador. As she entered the hotel she said she remembered she had left the overnight case in the cab, which had driven away.

She told police the bag, which bore the identification, "A. H. Chapin, Crescent Hills, Springfield, Mass.," contained a platinum bracelet set with diamonds, a platinum lorgnette with a diamond chain, a bar pin set with diamonds, sapphires and emeralds; a platinum ring with a diamond inset surrounded by a cluster of diamonds, a string of pearls with a platinum clasp, a platinum lavaliere with diamond pendant, an oval shaped pin set with diamonds, a wrist watch with onyx strap, crystal and pearl beads, a book-shaped man's watch with mother of pearl back, two diamond rings, and a ruby dinner ring with diamond cluster. She said the jewels were insured.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 15.—(AP.)—Mrs. Alfred H. Chapin, who left $100,000 in jewels in a taxicab at New York, is the wife of a Springfield financier. Mrs. Chapin, a former actress, left at noon yesterday for New York. Her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of this city, are widely known tennis players.

ST. LOUIS PAYS HOMAGE TO BREMEN FLIERS

FOLLOW ROUTE OF LINDY'S TRIUMPH

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—(AP.)—Traveling over the same route as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his triumphant return from his European flight, the trans-Atlantic fliers paraded over Lindell boulevard and downtown streets today and received the plaudits of Lindbergh's home city.

HEAD BIG PARADE

The parade was the chief public ceremonial in honor of the three guests, Baron Ehrenfried Guenther Von Huenefeld, Capt. Hermann Koehl and Maj. James Fitzmaurice, who arrived here yesterday afternoon and will remain until tomorrow morning.

A mild spring rain, which was falling as the fliers left their hotel, had given way to sunshine before the parade started. Lines of spectators cheered the airmen. Flags of the United States, Germany and Ireland were displayed along the parade route and were waved by many of the watchers.

OFFICIAL ESCORT

The guests of honor rode in the third of 10 official cars. Mayor Victor Miller and City Register Jack Grosse sat facing them. In the other cars were Dr. George Ahrens, German consul, military officers of Jefferson barracks, Scott Field and Lamber-St. Louis field and various city officials.

The parade ended at City Hall where a public reception was held. The afternoon's program included a visit to the site of the new German house for ground-breaking ceremonies and a luncheon at the country home of August A. Busch, where the fliers planned to remain until the public banquet tonight at Hotel Chase.

ATHEISTS' CHIEF CONVICTED

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—An effort to convert the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton to atheism resulted yesterday in the conviction of Charles Lee Smith, president of the Association for the Advancement of Atheism, for sending annoying letters and literature to the fundamentalist pastor of Calvary Baptist Church. Smith will be sentenced May 21.

After Dr. Straton and A. H. Utley, father of Uldine Utley, girl evangelist, had testified, Smith, who acted as his own counsel, told three Justices in special sessions he had hoped only to convert the pastor to atheism and "sex sanity." Smith said the prosecution grew out of his remarks against Uldine Utley.

The Justices, however, ordered Smith continued in $500 bail pending sentence while his career is investigated by probationary officers.

Smith was tried on a complaint sworn out last fall by Dr. Straton, who said he had been sent copies of magazines and literature setting forth the views of atheists. The charge was dismissed in December by Supreme Court Justice Crain, who ruled the sending of "silly" literature to the pastor was not a crime. The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, however, reversed Justice Crain's order and Smith was rearrested.

In a statement before the trial Dr. Straton said:

"The literature was 'blasphemous, sensuous and even seditious,'" and today described it as "revolting and disgusting." The latter description was ordered stricken from the record.

Utley testified he was present last October at what was to have been a peace conference between Smith and Dr. Straton, but Smith "kind of laughed" when the pastor insisted the literature being sent to him must be stopped.

The maximum sentence Smith may receive is three years in state prison.

The Secret of Good Digestion

How Anybody Can Have It

Most all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble are due to or accompanied by acid, which causes fermentation and the formation of gas. Correct this condition and all pain and distress almost instantly disappear. For this purpose the best thing known is to take 4 or 5 Bi-nesia tablets or a teaspoonful of Bi-nesia powder. This instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and formation of gas, heals the stomach lining and permits painless, normal digestion to follow naturally. Get a 50 cent package of Bi-nesia tablets or powder from your druggist today. Nothing else will relieve your indigestion as quickly and surely.

"THE COOLEST SPOT IN TOWN"

WORDS STAND---MELLON

"HOOVER CAN WIN," MELLON ASSERTS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The capital wrote Pennsylvania's 79 votes at the Kansas City convention into the Hoover column today.

Almost the last lingering doubt that the Mellon-Vare organization will go solidly for Hoover was dispelled today by Secretary Mellon's amplification of his Philadelphia statement.

"I don't see any reason for any doubt as to what I meant," said the secretary. "I spoke plain English. I think Mr. Hoover can win if he is nominated, and I think he would make a good president. Many things can happen between now and the convention, and for that reason it was thought unwise to make final committment so far in advance."

COOLIDGE FIRST

The one thing that apparently can switch Pennsylvania from Hoover, it was indicated, would be for President Coolidge to consent to stand again. And that is a very remote possibility, not only in Mr. Mellon's opinion, but in the opinion of every politician in Washington.

Mr. Mellon has had numerous callers since he returned to the capital. To them he has explained that with President Coolidge out of it, he doesn't believe the Kansas City convention can logically go to any other man than Hoover. He considers that the party must go to the country in the approaching campaign in the record of the Coolidge administration, and he believes it would be entirely illogical for the convention to nominate a candidate who has disagreed with Coolidge policies, as have both Lowden and Dawes.

GAS MASK SUIT THROWN OUT

A suit brought by the Rodman Chemical Company and Hugh Rodman, Verona, to recover compensation from the United States government for use, during the World War, of an unpatented gas mask process, was refused consideration yesterday by the Supreme Court, where it had been carried after an adverse verdict in the Court of Claims.

Rodman said today that he devised an improvement over the process used by the government for treating carbon in gas masks, and that it was adopted when he presented it. Later he was refused compensation, he said.

Children Like

this new way of taking Milk of Magnesia

NOW, thanks to Science, you can take your Milk of Magnesia and enjoy its taste. Just think of it . . . no longer the old-fashioned liquid dose, but instead, an accurate dose in a tablet that dissolves sweetly in the mouth. And how the children love it, for it tastes so good! Doctors and dentists know it's the better way, too, for as it slowly dissolves in the mouth, it conquers the acid conditions so serious to teeth and gums before it finds its way into the stomach to neutralize the acid conditions there.

Yes—it's the purest Milk of Magnesia, and each delicious MILNESIA WAFER is certified to contain two teaspoonfuls of Milk of Magnesia. There is no quick corrective like MILNESIA WAFERS for the relief of acid conditions which cause sourness, food ferment and indigestion.

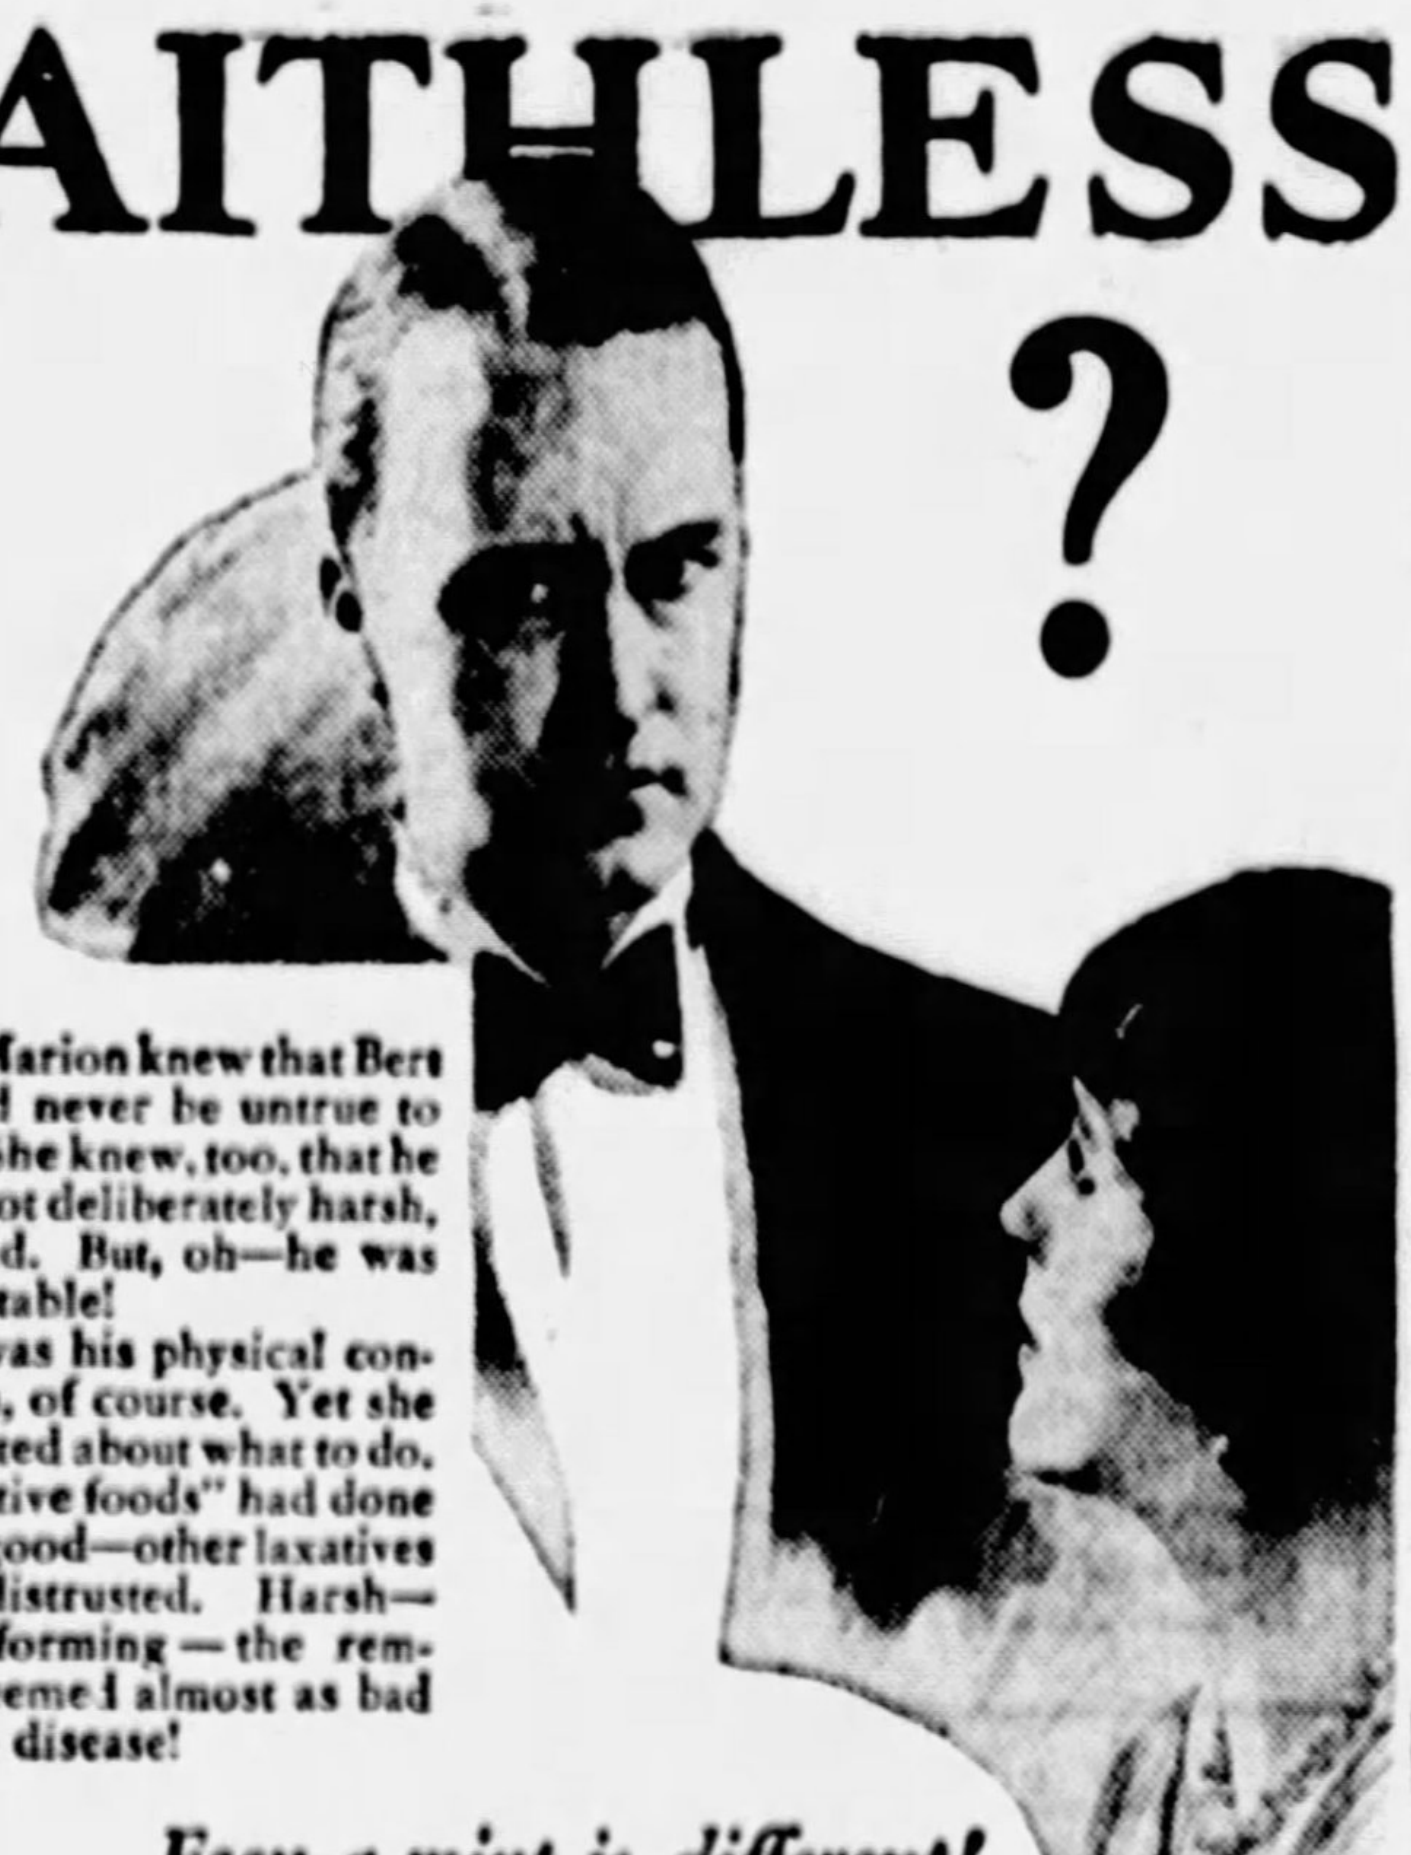
FAITHLESS ?



No, Marion knew that Bert would never be untrue to her. She knew, too, that he was not deliberately harsh, unkind. But, oh—he was so irritable!

It was his physical condition, of course. Yet she hesitated about what to do. "Laxative foods" had done little good—other laxatives she distrusted. Harsh—habit-forming—the remedy seemed almost as bad as the disease!

Feen-a-mint is different!

It is just like a bit of delicious chewing gum. You don't swallow it—you chew it!

Its magic laxative principle is released slowly, the way science meant it to be released. It actually becomes part of the digestive fluids—does not disturb digestion. It works with the body—not against it!

It won't torture you with griping pains. It won't poison or weaken the system. It won't enslave you to laxative pills. Begin today to correct constipation this modern scientific way.

CLAIMS BENEFITS WERE WONDERFUL

Beechview Citizen Says Ten Herbs Was Fine for Kidneys, Nerves and Bowels.

"Three bottles of Ten Herbs certainly made a wonderful change in me," was the statement of Mr. Martin Joyce, 306 Lamasco Avenue, Beechview, Pa., (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at

MR. MARTIN JOYCE

May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this new herbal compound to crowds of people.

"My worst trouble seemed to be my kidneys," continued Mr. Joyce, who is a plasterer. "I had to arise three or four times a night, and had severe pains across the back. In the morning I would be so stiff I could hardly get out of bed. My bowels were irregular, and I was continually taking salts or pills. I became so nervous that I could not sleep at night. I must have been bilious, for if I sat down to read a newspaper I would fall asleep.

"Ten Herbs made me feel like a new man. My kidneys are working the way they should, as the pains have left my back and I do not have to get up at night any more. My nerves have become quiet, and I sleep the night through. My bowels are regular, and biliousness has left me. Food has a better taste. Ten Herbs seems to have given my whole system a thorough cleansing, with the result that I feel better and stronger in every respect. Your medicine helped me so much that I intend to give it to my nineteen-year-old son. He needs a good tonic, and I am sure that your preparation is just what his system needs. I shall always be glad to recommend Ten Herbs."

Try Ten Herbs and feel the way it relieves your burdened, gassy, painful, sick stomach. Let it awaken and invigorate your sluggish liver, and thus relieve headaches, dizziness and attacks of biliousness; let it regulate your bowels; let it tone up your kidneys and relieve the soreness and stiffness in your back and limbs, and put an end to night-rising. Ten Herbs has helped many in this section and why not you?

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

MADMAN ATTACKS FLIER 2,000 FEET IN AIR

HAMMERS PILOT, PLANE CRASHES

PONTIAC, Mich., May 15.—(AP.)—The story of a battle 2,000 feet in the air between two fliers, Harry Anderson, of Roseville, Mich., pilot, and Clarence Frechett, of Detroit, an aerial exhibitionist, which resulted in the plane's crashing and in a remarkable escape from death by the occupants, was under investigation today.

Both men were found seriously injured in the plane, which was demolished in landing on the grounds of the State Hospital for the Insane yesterday.

Anderson told police he was attacked by Frechett with a hammer while flying over Pontiac. Losing consciousness after repeated blows from the weapon, Anderson said, he recovered after the plane had taken a sheer drop of nearly 1,800 feet, in time to right it for the rough landing that averted almost certain death for himself and Frechett.

SKULL FRACTURED

Anderson's skull was fractured and he was painfully injured about the face, most of his teeth having been knocked out, supposed by blows from the hammer. Frechett was less seriously injured, but required hospital treatment.

Under heavy police guard at a hospital, Frechett raved. From coherent parts of his talk, police pieced together the information that he is a stunt flier and parachute exhibitionist, who went to an aviation school at Roseville a few days ago for instructions.

Yesterday he engaged Anderson, who operates a small commercial flying concern in Roseville, to pilot him to Pontiac. From letters found in Frechett's clothing police thought the purpose of the trip might have been a bizarre and preconceived plan of self-destruction, the epilogue of which was to have been over the home town of his sweetheart.

One of the letters, addressed to a Miss Georgia Pardee, of Pontiac, couched in endearments, concluded as follows:

"Death is my message—sweetheart."

Another, addressed to Frechett's mother, said he feared that "death approached."

Anderson, who told police he was not previously acquainted with Frechett, said the man appeared to be normal when he made arrangements for the flight. When they arrived over Pontiac, however, the pilot said, the passenger grabbed a hammer and began to belabor him over the head.

"It was awful," Anderson told Sheriff Harvey Teddler. "The first blow at me barely grazed my head. I tried to grapple with him and at the same time keep my machine from pitching. One of the blows made everything black. Then I remember coming too I saw we were heading in a nose dive. I jerked the controls and tried to right the plane. Just as I was swinging out of the dive, I felt the wheels of the undercarriage touch the ground for distance and then the ship went over the nose."

PLUNGE DESCRIBED

Attaches at the asylum filled in the narrative. The plane approached Pontiac cruising leisurely at an altitude of about 2,000 feet. Suddenly it began to spiral about. This continued for about a minute, then it banked at an angle of about 45 degrees and began a dizzy plunge earthward, nose down. When within 200 feet of the ground, the ship righted itself and, after attaining an even keel, made as if to land. When it touched the ground, however, the underpinning crumpled, throwing the machine over several times.

Anderson was found unconscious, strapped in the pilot's seat; Frechett, badly dazed, still clutched in his hand the handle of a broken hammer.

KEYSTONE STORES HEAD DENIES RUMOR OF SALE

"Entirely unfounded and without truth," was the statement issued by the president of the Keystone Stores Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., relative to a recent published report claiming negotiations were being made for the sale of the Keystone chain of grocery stores to another concern. It was learned that since the Keystone Company's recent reorganization last fall, two quarterly dividends have been declared, a number of new stores opened and an expansive program laid for further development of the chain in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

EDEBURN QUITS POLICE JOB

DETECTIVE HEAD TAKES POST IN STORE

Inspector of Detectives Clyde S. Edeburn has requested and received a leave of absence from June 1 to September 1, it developed today, to accept provisionally a position with a downtown store. If it proves satisfactory Edeburn will resign as detective chief, he said today.

Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh today denied reports of friction between him and Edeburn.

"We always have been on friendly terms," said Walsh. "There has been no friction whatever, and we have worked together for the best interests of the department."

Thomas Malone, night lieutenant, was acting inspector of detectives today in Edeburn's place.

The retiring inspector was appointed a detective April 4, 1904, by Mayor Charles Kirschler of old Allegheny and entered the Pittsburgh force the next year when the cities were consolidated. Previously he had been a constable in old Allegheny's Second Ward.

Rumor had it that Edeburn had been contemplating retirement recently and only awaited a favorable opportunity. Reputed differences with Police Supt. Peter Walsh are alleged to have marked Edeburn's direction of the detective force. When Walsh was head of the North Side police Edeburn's detectives investigated conductions in the Twenty-second Ward and turned in a report said to have been unfavorable to the present superintendent.

WYLIE AVENUE CLUB RAIDED BY AGENTS

Merriment in a club on the second floor of 605 Wylie avenue was just getting under way last night, Federal prohibition agents reported today, when the raiders arrived. Besides arresting two reputed bartenders the agents reported confiscating an assorted supply of liquors, including champagne, rum, gin, ale, whisky and beer. Those taken intocustody were Louis Passolano, 40, of 1107 Melba street, and Nat Klein, 51, of 316 McKee place.

Investigating when they discovered bulky cans in an automobile being driven in West Carson street near South Main street last night, agents say they found 30 gallons of moonshine. Gip Constatine, 26, of 1309 Webster avenue, the driver, was arrested.

Other places raided, seizures made and those arrested, according to agents, follow:

Dwelling, 157 West Carson street, 160 bottles home brew, 82 gallons beer mash. Joseph Farren, 25, and Frank Zyetowski.

Dwelling at Bridgeville, two 300-gallon stills, 40 gallons moonshine, 1,000 pounds corn sugar, 112 barrels mash, 75 pounds yeast, no arrests.

Announcing
A New Policy for Children

AGAIN Reliance Life has enlarged its service to the public through the Juvenile Policy, a new contract added to the many forms of personal insurance issued by this strong, progressive company—another expression of Reliance Life's interest in good public service.

What it is and what it does

It is an insured savings contract for children, issued from birth to age of fourteen on the Twenty Payment Life and Endowment forms.

It is carried on your child's life, premiums being paid by you.

In case of your premature death, or total, permanent disability by accident or sickness, no more premiums are required. Thus, you are assured that the policy will continue in force.

The contract provides cash to assist you in meeting expenses should the child be taken early in life.

The payments at maturity or the cash surrender value will provide a fund for your child when its need is greatest.

It guarantees your boy or girl the means for a college education and enables you to anticipate this expense through small installments paid over a long period of years.

It provides a dowry and gives financial independence to your daughter upon her marriage.

It establishes a fund for your son that will enable him to start a business of his own.

Through it you can give concrete expression of a parent's affection and realize your ambition for your child's future welfare.

Excellence of service is the dominant purpose of Reliance Life. The Perfect Protection Policy was developed to fulfill this aim.

Queer Ivory Gods Mystify Scarface

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

While their schooner is becalmed off Singapore, Capt. Scarface Sweeney and Marlow, the mate, discover a bit of wreckage floating some distance from their ship. Investigation reveals that the "speck" is a fragile bark containing the body of a dead man. Now go on with the story.

"YOU'RE wrong," said Capt. Scarface. "What they are, I don't know myself; but to begin with, Tom Kingsley ain't the man to be carrying that kind of truck around in his pockets. You've a better eye for boats, my lad, I'm thinking. Anyway, you're wrong here. These ain't ordinary."

He gathered up the articles he had laid on the thwart, and depositing them, together with the ivory idols, in his own pocket, retired to the other boat to make room for Marlow and the serang.

"We're ready," he said.

Capt. Scarface did not answer for a moment. He looked in a distressed and perplexed sort of way at the mate.

"We ain't got a prayer-book aboard," he said at last. "D'ye by any chance remember a prayer, Marlow?"

Marlow shook his head—and a flush crept over his sun-tanned cheeks.

"Only a kid's prayer—part of it—'Now I lay me,'" he answered hesitantly.

Capt. Scarface in his turn shook his head.

"'Tain't fitting!" he said. "Nor me—I don't remember any either."

There was another moment's silence. Capt. Scarface's eyes traveled from Marlow to the schooner's rail above his head, where, lined along it, the native crew stood staring down upon the scene.

And then Capt. Scarface stood up and took off his cap. Marlow followed suit.

"A damned white man," said Capt. Scarface hoarsely. "God rest his soul!"

CHAPTER III.

HE motioned a little helplessly to Marlow—and the white, canvas-sewn form slipped into the sea.

For a few minutes Capt. Scarface stood there cap in hand; then, with a gruff order to cast the worthless boat adrift, he made his way back to the schooner's deck and his canvas chair.

Here, on the cabin skylight beside him, he spread out the articles he had taken from the dead man's person; and here, shortly, Marlow joined him.

The mate sat down on the edge of the skylight, and jerked his head 'n the direction of the little collection of personal effects.

"What're you going to do with 'em?" he asked.

"What else but send 'em to his brother?" replied Capt. Scarface. "Robert's the only family he's got that I ever heard of, except Robert's son, Bob."

Marlow nodded without comment.

"In a day or two, if we ever get any wind," said Capt. Scarface as though communing aloud with himself rather than addressing the mate, "we'll make Momboa. There's no one there to speak of but old Hawk Griswold; but some of the Dutch boats touch there off and on, and that means mail. I'll make a package of these things and likewise write a letter, though I ain't much of a hand at putting things down on paper; and the package and the letter I'll have Griswold send along by mail to Tom's brother, Robert, on the first boat that puts in. The Lord knows when Robert'll get 'em, as he lives in about the last place on earth that's ever visited by any steamer; but with us being on a trading cruise that, depending on the luck we have, will take us maybe a month or more before we touch what you might call civilization again, the best thing I know to do is to get Griswold to send 'em along."

"Where's he live, this brother you're talking about?" demanded Marlow.

"Up north of Celebes on an island called Patua," Capt. Scarface answered.

Marlow nodded.

"I know the place, or leastways the name of it," he said. "You're right about it taking some time for any mail to get there—about every six months, I'd say. But at that, this brother of his ought to have heard that something's wrong before he gets your letter. 'Tain't so far from Kalawa to Singapore, and the word should be in Singapore by now that Tom Kingsley's missing, even though there may not be anything else known about what's happened."

Capt. Scarface sucked moodily at his pipe.

"Maybe!" he said. "It all depends on when the next boat is due in Patua. Anyway, what I'm doing is all I can do." He clenched his fist suddenly. "As a matter of fact, I'd damned well like to know what happened myself—and all I know is that it's a plain case of murder."

"It looks like it," admitted Marlow slowly. "I'd say it looks uncommonly like it."

"It is!" asserted Capt. Scarface with grim finality. "There's no 'looks' about it!"

Both men stared for a time in silence at the little array of the dead man's possessions that were spread out on the cabin skylight.

"It's better'n 25 years now since I first met the Kingsley boys," said Capt. Scarface abruptly. "We all came out to this part of the world at about the same time, and for a bit we three were pals together. They were a tough pair to buck up against in a row, and there were rows aplenty, for, rough as it still is out here, it was a lot rougher in them days; and what with the Malays, it being the Oranglaut crowd I'm referring to, still sticking to their ancient traditions whenever they got a chance, and the Chinese river and junk pirates not a long way behind them in deviltry, you didn't have to hunt far for trouble. And that ain't saying anything about the coolie trade where hell thrived best of all!"

Capt. Scarface laughed out suddenly, raucously.

"He was a rare one, was Tom!" he exclaimed. "By God, he was a rare one—and all man! It was him that was with me one night on a lousy Chinese junk when I got this"—he touched the scar on his face with the stem of his pipe—"and he near cashed in, too. But no matter! There's some things it don't do to talk about. What I'm trying to say is that old Tom and Robert and me was friends, and it's lasted for 25 years, though I ain't seen much of 'em in the last 25. I took to the sea and I've stuck to it, and Tom and Robert took to planting; and I don't know who's had the best of it, for none of us ever made any more than enough money to scratch along with. Tom and Robert got married and settled down; Tom's wife died without leaving him any children, and Robert's wife leaving a boy that they named Robert, too, though he's never been called anything but Bob. That's 25 years ago, and I ain't seen young Bob since he was 15 or 16. He took more to the sea than to life ashore on a plantation, and a few years ago he got a small schooner of his own and went in mostly for pearling, and—"

"Say," interrupted Marlow, leaning suddenly forward, "you ain't talking about the chap they call Black Bob by any chance, are you—the fellow that got into trouble up Sarawak way about a year ago on account of the killing of one of his crew? The name is the same anyway, come to think of it. Black Bob Kingsley! Everybody's heard of him, and I'll say he's got a reputation I'd rather he had than me. I've heard a dozen yarns about him, and that Sarawak affair ain't no worse than some of the others."

"That's the lad I'm talking about," he said with an ominous growl; "but I'll have you know he was cleared fair and square of that Sarawak business—aye, and before some sort of a court they held up there. 'Twas a case of mutiny and a dirty native trickery plain and simple, and what would have happened to most men in young Bob's shoes would have been that it wouldn't have been the native that turned up his toes. Savvy? I ain't saying he's any angel, and that there ain't some hard tales about him, but square and clean I'll swear he is, as he couldn't help but be with the blood that's in him." Capt. Scarface's scowl departed and suddenly he laughed softly. "Maybe you heard too of the time he cleaned out Chinese Charlie, the measly crimp, at Kangyan, and did it single-handed! Oh, aye, he's got a hard name—and Chinese Charlie'd be one of them that would help to spread it. You take it from me that while maybe he couldn't qualify as a missionary, there's some of the aforesaid I could mention that ain't got half the chance young Bob has of making port at the pearly gates at the end of the cruise!"

"Maybe," said Marlow hastily. "I've got him wrong. I'm only telling you what I've heard."

"Heard it myself—and a blamed lot more!" Capt. Scarface flung back tartly. "Anyway, be that as it may, young Bob's sea-going's been a bit restricted of late. The last I heard from Patua was that old man Robert wasn't very well, which keeps young Bob ashore now and then to take a hand on the plantation. There's a touch of liver in it, I figure; but Robert calls it rheumatism, and he has spells of it when he's fair gnarled up and has to push himself around in a wheelchair. Rotten tough, I call it! That sort of thing'd drive an active man like Robert Kingsley near crazy and"—Capt. Scarface sucked hard on his pipe, and stared moodily again at the dead man's possessions on the cabin skylight—"this ain't going to help things any."

"No, it ain't—none whatsoever," agreed Marlow soberly.

Capt. Scarface did not appear to hear the other. He remained silent—still staring at the pipe, the empty tobacco pouch, the revolver, the wristwatch, and the two little ivory gods.

The silence becoming prolonged, Marlow shifted his position awkwardly, and finally, with a muttered excuse about "having to see to things for'ard," got up and moved off along the deck.

For a time Capt. Scarface did not move, then he reached out and picked up first one and then the other of the ivory gods. They seemed to fascinate him. He kept turning them over and over in his hand—and a puzzled furrow came deep between his eyes.

Presently he voiced his thoughts:

"Don't see how they could have anything to do with it, but they're queer things for Tom Kingsley to be carrying around in pockets that were otherwise mostly empty! I think I'll put in at Kalawa on the way back."

Again he lapsed into silence—and then after a moment he spoke again.

"Aye—damned queer!" he said grimly. "I wonder!"

Strange Shipment to Gen. Grant

CHAPTER XXXI.

SINCLAIR and I now argued the feasibility of following him up and establishing trading outposts in the best localities, this I agreed to do. I made several more trips to the sea and always contrived to meet Nina. She was more than willing to be carried off, by force if necessary as the poor lass longed for freedom and had begun to realize her position. She had studied English in her spare time and could write fairly well, but I was careful to put nothing in them which might disagree with her captors, should any letter miscarry and fall into their hands.

ALFRED A. HORN

But she always told me to watch myself as the Black Encomi would take any chance to kill me, as they were determined to get even with me for opening the river up and especially for the fight I had won, and although they might not dare to attack me openly to always beware.

If anything happened whilst I was away she would always let me know if possible.

On a future occasion she told me of a spring which she used for bathing and was situate across the creek opposite where the Josh house was. But I must be careful not to let myself be seen.

Planning Nina's Rescue

She generally took one of her maids with her, but could send her back for something whilst I could come there from the big river by a small path which would lead me to the spring which was easily found by the grove of tall trees around it. After discussing many plans we agreed on this last one as best. She had a good head.

She would take over her clothes and hide them in the rushes near the big river. I was to drop a stone in the water from the bank into the creek where she would always watch when I was ready to steal her.

Furthermore I could call when I was ready for her and make my wish with plenty of liquor for the holy men. And wear on that occasion a scarf round my neck and drop a piece of string on the floor with a knot in it. At the time I smiled and thought surely the tricks of a owman are wonderful.

Furthermore she told me she would slowly shut one eye and at this I smiled but I told her I thought this was a sensible way of getting clear. Yes she said and after that I shall come away from the enago (house) just as I am dressed as it must all be done quickly to make all sure.

I shall dive in the water without sound and shall climb to the bank near the Icondu tree (great cotton tree). Then as I can run fast you will pull for the middle of the stream. The darkness and speed will help us.

Gamble With Death

The poor Godess was really in great earnest and of course any fumbling meant her death if not mine also. I had well understood. And afterwards made a note in short hand as nearly verbatim as possible of what she had told me.

As future events will show she was quite right, and as things worked out well on that memorable night, the night I stole her, I always gave her credit for having a better head than I had, as all the plans I could think of were a swift attack on the Holy Men during a visit and carry her off Scotch boarder fashion or young Lockinvar in a boat whilst the fathers were drunk.

And I found her plan work out so plainly that Nina must have seen lots more happenings round the Josh house than what she liked me to know. Anyway, she had saved my life by her timely warnings and I was determined on taking her away from that ungodly surroundings.

Strange to say, although I liked Nina and it would not have taken much to have balanced my loving in her favor then, I could never keep my head about a little blue-eyed lass I had known up in North Lancashire in the country we used to call the Clog and Shawl; we used to pluck posies together and she used to gather cowslips and primroses and garden pinks and tulips and make such pretty buttonholes, which always seemed to smell better when she had plucked them and pinned them on.

Love There, Too

No wonder I could not get her out of my mind, and I just couldn't. Of course she would always crop up in my mind when I was admiring Nina, who never seemed to notice there was something, ah, a Lancashire fairie between, so there it was.

I wrote to little Peru, of course, and explained how Nina herself had planned the getaway, and do you know to my great surprise in his next letter he declared he was going to be in at the stealing with me, and as he was shortly coming of age, he was going to see me out of that God-forsaken land, the West Coast.

Money he said was no object I must come and sojourn with him where he would build a place in healthy and romantic Peru, where we could love and enjoy life as it should be, with my Goddess of high degree, and where they would both admire my wife and my baby.

I could only laugh heartily, as I knew his nature so well, British and Inca it was just as I expected. But I wondered if I should tell of my fairy, but I never did. In fact he admired my sketch of Nina which he declared was A-1. Somehow I felt that if he once saw my Belle Sauvage he would succumb, heart, silver mines and all. And Nina had such simple winning ways I thought it would be wise to warn him, but I didn't, anyway come eventually he did but not before I advised him, and whether he succumbed or not we shall see later on in the story.

(Here Trader Horn pauses to lament over the colonizing opportunities lost to Great Britain in Africa and to give his opinions on Stanley and Rhodes to Mrs. Lewis.)

Imperial Ambitions

"Aye, when I saw de Brazza's canoes disappearing to make new country for the French . . . And the singing came back to us . . . .

"Commissioned by his country to enlarge her territory. I could 'a' done it for England a dozen times and over.

"If I'd been Sinclair I'd have owned the country. In Britain's name, of course.

"If I'd sent home for proper backing I'd have got clear of Sinclair's timidity and photo-worship. Rhodes knew the power of home backing. He knew that when his ambitions became 'unfait accompli' he'd succeed. Nothing succeeds like success —with the stay-at-homes. But pioneers 're built like that. It's not gaudy success that Rhodes was after. Leave that to Stanley. It was to make something to grow in the breast of tamed Nature, when it's yourself that's done the taming.

"I've collected curios for a good many people in my time. Speaking of gorillas in spirits there was that feller I packed for President Grant when he came to the West Coast. He was naturally looking for souvenirs and I sold him a gorilla for 30 pounds. I put him in a puncheon of spirits same as the big chap de Brazza sent to his medical society. Aye. But by some misfortune the wrong puncheon got put aboard the Alaska. Alaska, was it? It's so long ago I can't trust me memory too well over names. Howbeit, I'd got a poor feller, a goldsmith from Accra, sleeping his last sleep in a vat of spirits in my store-shed, and only waiting for a ship to take him home to his own people. Mind you, 'twas a burial which, even as a temporary measure, would have suited many. That feller the Duke of Clarence would never have turned up his nose at such a purgatory.

"Aye, I labeled him 'Accra' and I'd already written to the British consul at Accra to look out for him. But after the Alaska had sailed I found they'd put the wrong one on board. So he went to America as a gorilla.

"No, I never heard any complaints. I meant to write but— 'twould 'a' been a long business. And I was a gorilla to the good. I was doing a lot with the museums just then."

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

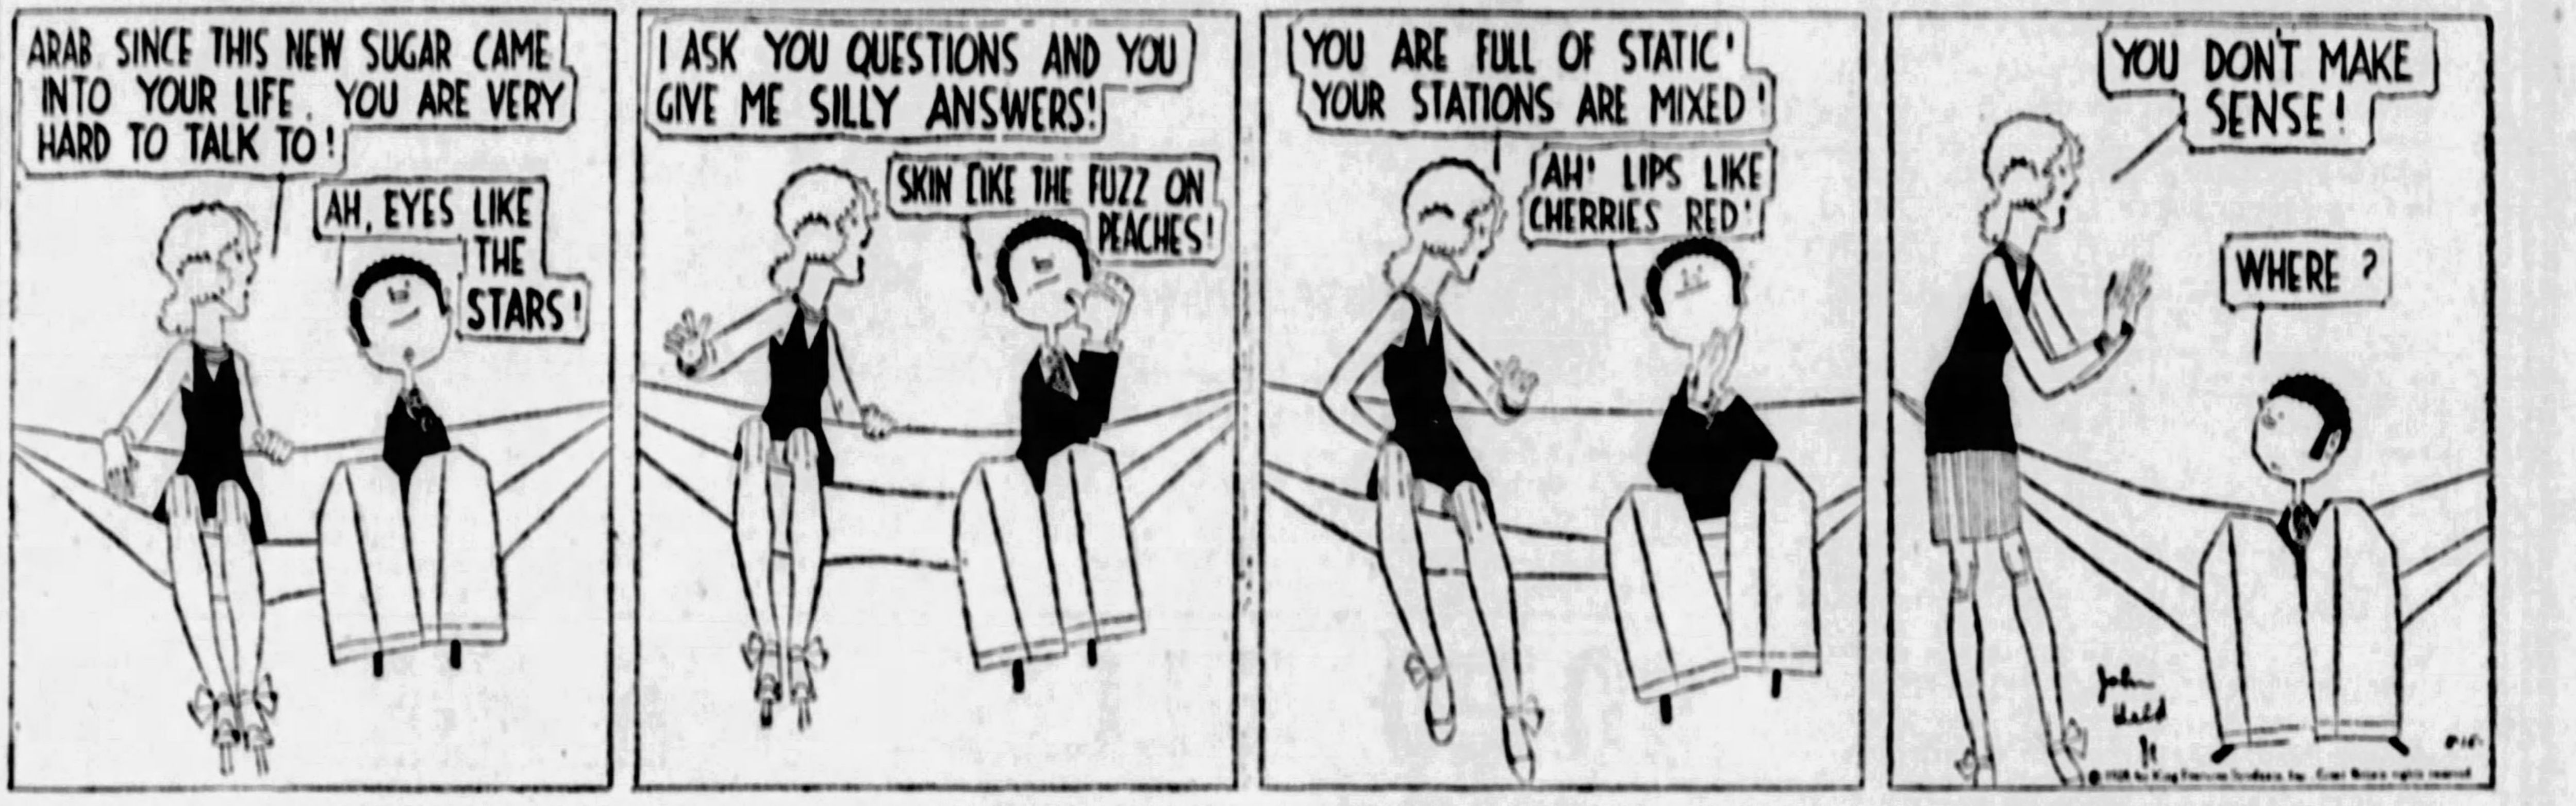
Story by Lloyd Mayer

By John Held, Jr.



ARAB SINCE THIS NEW SUGAR CAME INTO YOUR LIFE, YOU ARE VERY HARD TO TALK TO!
AH, EYES LIKE THE STARS!
I ASK YOU QUESTIONS AND YOU GIVE ME SILLY ANSWERS!
SKIN LIKE THE FUZZ ON PEACHES!
YOU ARE FULL OF STATIC! YOUR STATIONS ARE MIXED!
AH! LIPS LIKE CHERRIES RED!
YOU DON'T MAKE SENSE!
WHERE ?
John Held Jr

"My dear, I'm all-of-a-GROPE-and-FUMble, no less! I mean I'm PRACticably ready to go MAD and BITE myself at this point because ARab deFEATS me UTterly because I mean he's comPLETEly BALMy on the subject of this new GIRL who's inTRIGUED him, my dear—can you BEAR it? ACtually, he BORES me to SOBS because ALL he can TALK about is this SILly little SHIMmy-fluffer who prob-ly hasn't a BRAIN above the KNEES, my dear, and is just WORKing him for what she can get OUT of him or something which knowing ARab as well as I do, my dear, won't be MUCH or I miss my GUESS, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, it's no GOOSEflesh to ME if he wants to let a FLIP little CHIT like that make a FOOL of him, my dear, because I don't give a WHOOP-de-doodle WHO he falls for, my dear, only I'm just terribly SORry for him because he has such simply VILE taste in GIRLS, my dear, because I mean instead of picking out somebody atTRACtive he practicably ALways falls for some GIGgleminny who looks like NOTHing HUman, my dear, and spends her enTIRE time trying to intrigue MEN by letting them NECK her or something—you know the type! Only I WISH to Heavens he wouldn't stick aROUND when he's all hot and BOTHered over some inANE girl like that, my dear, because I mean ALL he does is TALK on and ENDlessly about her, my dear, until I'm BORED to TEARS—I ACtually AM!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife" By Adele Garrison

New Complications Brought On by the Portrait

LILLIAN'S reply to my query concerning little Mrs. Townsend's odd bit of news so startled me that I was guilty of banal repetition the while I groped for coherent talk.

"You wish my father and Allen Drake were here!" I stammered, the exclamation but feebly expressing my wonder at her statement. I knew that except in the most important problems involving questions of international importance did Lillian ever trouble my father and Allen Drake, both high in the ranks of the secret diplomatic service of the government.

She glanced at my widened eyes and gave a mirthless little laugh.

"Exactly that," she said. "This thing was amusing before, with only a vague idea of menace in it, enough to give a fillip to our proximity to it. But now—"

Her voice trailed away and as I saw her bend over, her elbows resting on her knees, her chin cupped in her palms, her eyes looking out toward the distant ocean. I knew that she was pondering something concerning which I had no knowledge, but which gave me a sinister sense of hidden menace.

Knowing her irritation at any distraction when some serious problem is engaging her attention, I did not venture even to turn the pages of a magazine, but silently shared her vigil. But I knew that while my eyes were reveling in the beauty of the meadows, farmsteads and wood land stretched out before me, her eyes saw nothing of them.

At last she stirred and lifted her arms high above her head, a familiar signal to me of her relaxation at the end of what she calls "a rodeo of her reasoning powers."

"Let me give you the low down about this as far as I can figure it out," she said, and I looked at her with tense interest. Not in years had anything outside my own affairs so intrigued me as this mystery which had for its central figure our beautiful young neghbor of The Larches.

"Of course, common sense tells us that little Mrs. Townsend must be mistaken in her guess as to the identity of Miss Lincoln," Lillian began judicially. "The superficial resemblance of our neighbor to the celebrated young woman of Mrs. Townsend's conjecture is startling, at first sight, I will admit, but you saw, didn't you, how unlike their features really were?"

I nodded an assent both because I agreed with her, and because I saw that she wished me to return an affirmative answer to her question. But I have been associated with Lillian too many years not to know her every inflection, and something in her voice told me that she was not so absolutely skeptical of Mrs. Townsend's conjecture as she appeared. But that she was not yet ready to act upon something which at its best could be only an extravagant guess, I also knew, and gave no hint of the excitement which was mine at the bizarre ideas which Mrs. Townsend's call had engendered.

"But every piece of the puzzle which the girl presents fits into the theory that she is connected very closely to the original of the picture Mrs. Townsend saw in the European gallery. You say she was agitated when Mrs. Townsend first mentioned that her pose with the dog, Fedor, reminded her of some famous picture she had seen abroad?"

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Federation of School Societies Arranges for Annual Luncheon Monday at University Club

JUST about once or twice a year we hear something about the activities of the Federation of Girls' School Societies, the occasion-in-chief, of course, being around Christmas time when the federation holds its big charity ball. Then we hear a lot about its pet charity, the Home for Convalescent Women and Children at Harmarville, where women are cared for until they are able to earn a living and take charge of their children themselves. But the federation's work for the Home goes on just the same all the year around, the alumnae of each school having their own particular share.

The annual luncheon is held about this time each year and, I understand, the date set is next Monday, at the University Club. Mrs. Ambrose N. Diehl is president of the federation, and she will hear reports from the various schools. The report of particular importance this year, I hear, is that of the Farmington Society, which is planning to erect a new building at the Home.

Mary Shiras is in charge of the luncheon, and she is being assisted by Helen Leovy and Mrs. Reginald Quaille.

Perhaps you would be interested in knowing that the John Denny Ritcheys, who have been living at the Morrowfield Apartments, have just moved into their new country home, "Talleymont," in the Oak Hill Farms district along the Butler pike near Elfinwild. The house is a charming one in modern English style, and situated on top of a knoll overlooking the Pine Creek valley.

You remember, don't you, that Mrs. Ritchey was Jane Flower before her marriage several years ago. Her mother, Mrs. W. S. Flower, of the Schenley Apartments, also has a country place further out the pike near Valencia.

I hear that while Thruston Wright was out in St. Louis last week his mother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Wright, who live there, gave a dinner for him in the St. Louis Country Club. Among the guests, I understand, was a sister, Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus, also of St. Louis.

An engagement I know you will be interested in has just been announced, involving a girl well known here and a Britisher. It is that of Jean Browne Scott, daughter of the John R. K. Scotts, of Glenhardie Farms, Strafford, Pa., and Nigel Claudian Colman, son of Mrs. Frederick Edward Colman, of Broadleas, Reigate, England, and Grosvenor Square, London.

Jean is a graduate of Mrs. Dow's School at Briarcliff Manor and Mlle. Rey's School in Paris, and aside from the fact that she has numerous relatives here in Pittsburgh, she has made a wide acquaintance through the horse shows at the Allegheny Country Club. She has had entries in most of the recent shows, and this coming event will be the first she has missed for several years.

Jean is a niece of the Walter Hardies, of Bartlett street; the Alexander Hardies, of Juniata place; the John L. Hardies, of Forbes street; the Edward Hardies, of McKee place, and the James Hardies, of Devon road. She and her mother were guests of the Walter Hardies early last week after her return from Europe, and she plans to return to London early in July. The wedding is scheduled for the latter part of July in London, and Jean is going to have two Pittsburgh girls in her bridal party. They are Janet Hardie and Betty Alcorn.

The William Forman Bickels and their children, William Forman Bickel, Jr., Harry Croft Bickel and Mary Augusta Bickel, of Westminster place, are leaving tonight for New York, I understand. Mrs. Bickel's sister, Winifred Croft, is to be married to William Stavely Wilson on Saturday night at the Croft summer home in Greenwich, Conn., and the Bickels will go to Greenwich the latter part of the week for the wedding.

All the elements of a real ball—tickets, boxes, patronesses and all—surround the phantom radio ball scheduled for Saturday night, but your own fireside must provide the setting. The Pleasant Hill Farm Association, which is sponsoring the event, has hit on this happy scheme, the "ball" to consist of a most interesting radio program between 9 and 10:30 o'clock. There will be orchestra music, of course, and in addition to that, the program will be given by Mrs. Daniel M. Clemson, Fred Newman, Jean McCrory Newman, Jack Thompson and the well-known announcer, Philipps Carlin.

Mrs. Kirkland Wiley Todd, of Wightman street, and her sister-in-law, Helen Todd, of the Schenley apartments, are going to entertain at tea next Tuesday afternoon in the Twentieth Century Club for Darrel Ewing Morrow, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson Morrow, of Swissvale. Miss Morrow's engagement to Robert Charles Todd, brother of the hostesses, has just recently been announced.

Among the returned travelers are the Harry Sweetser Tacks and their daughter, Lois Virginia. They got back to their Sewickley home today after spending a fortnight at the Marlborough-Blenheim in Atlantic City. Frank Martin Tack, their son, who is a pupil at the Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J., came back with them, I understand.

More than 50 relatives and friends attended the surprise party and dinner given Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Donahue in Stanford street, Esplen, in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donahue and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paddock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Walton and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fenner and family, all of Detroit.

* * *

Mrs. Catherine Reid, of Liberty avenue, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Mary Reid, to Stanton Bradbury Howard, of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Howard, of Biddeford, Me.

SAVES MOTHER, ILL, AS HOME IS BURNED

SHARON, Pa., May 15.—Mrs. Caroline Taylor, ill with the grip, was rescued by her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Thomas, when their home near Clarksville burned yesterday. Mrs. Thomas was burned severely. The fire started from a chicken brooder explosion and caused $10,000 loss. Mrs. George Marenchin rescued her 4-year-old son when fire damaged their Hickory township home last night. The child was overcome by smoke.

BRANCH BANKS URGED BY ANTHONY

H. E. Anthony, of San Diego, Cal., vice president of the Bank of Italy, visiting W. B. Hamilton, of 604 Wood street, and making his first trip to the East in 20 years, foresees greater financial security to the country in the establishment of the system of branch banks. The method of bank control, similar to that in Canada, he says, is growing in this country and is effective in stabilizing industry.

"Community banks feel temporary business depression or a slowing up in any important industry," said Mr. Anthony. "Failure of the wheat crop is certain to be felt by a local bank in a wheatgrowing country. A poor cattle market affects the community bank in a stockraising district and so on, whereas the branch of a large financial institution suffers only the minimum when one class of industry is hit.

"The growth of the Bank of Italy in California demonstrates this. The Bank of Italy, with 284 branches in California with the National Bancitaly Company, has a capital of $105,000,000 and $600,000,000 in deposits. In the point of deposits it is the third largest in the United States. It has 27,000 stockholders. According to the bonus plan, 40 per cent of the net profits go to the employes and eventually the bank will be owned by its workers. In three years they have accumulated $10,000,000 worth of stock."

BELL'S FAILURE LAID TO SIGNING MINE SCALE

The financial collapse of John A. Bell of Carnegie, once a millionaire banker and coal operator, now a hospital prisoner of Allegheny County, can be traced to the Jacksonville wage agreement, with its increased wages for miners.

This was the contention of Attorney Thomas Patterson in an address to the jury in Common Pleas Court today when the ejectment suit involving the Bell farm in Coraopolis was renewed.

Bell signed the Jacksonville scale in 1923, Patterson pointed out, and was forced into financial difficulties. Patterson is counsel for the Colonial Trust Company and the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., which is opposing the attempt of James M. Jarvis, trustee for Bell, to claim the $200,000 proceeds from the sale of the farm. In 1923, the banker deeded the farm to his son, John A. Bell, Jr., for $1.

Man Kicked By Horse Wants $10,000.

There are still kicking horses in Pittsburgh, according to Nicholas Ozasky, a truck driver. He filed a $10,000 damage suit against S. H. Silverman, a horse dealer, yesterday in Common Pleas Court. He says he was standing near the auction block in Silverman's stable during a horse sale May 7, when one of the animals kicked him on the knee, permanently injuring his leg. He charges one of Silverman's men hit the horse with a whip, which caused it to kick.

TOT CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER FATHER'S AUTO

LANCASTER, Pa., May 15.—Disobeying his father's admonition to stay away from the driveway of the family garage, little Kenneth Mull, 3, of near Mechanics Grove, was run over and killed by his parent's automobile late yesterday. The father, Irving Mull, was backing the machine out of the garage at the time. Mr. Mull had just ordered Kenneth and another son, one year older, away from the driveway before the accident occurred.

Floors Always Look NEW
Wear is on Wax Polish!

Whether your floors are old or new, wood, linoleum, varnished, shellacked, painted, or waxed—all can quickly be given this needed protection against scratches, heel-marks, children's carelessness and dirt.

And so easily! Just apply a thin coat of Old English Wax. Allow a few minutes for drying, then polish by hand or with an Old English improved Electric Polisher (you can rent this new wonderful machine from your dealer for $2.00 a day).

Then you will have beautiful waxed floors that stay beautiful. Never again the need of a complete refinishing! The wear is on the wax, not on the floor. An occasional waxing will keep it beautiful.

Old English Wax contains such a high percentage of hard, high-grade Carnauba wax (imported) that the wax goes farther, and the polish lasts longer. It costs no more than ordinary floor wax. That's why it is preferred by hundreds of thousands of thrifty housewives—whose mothers and grandmothers also used it.

A one-pound can covers 300 square feet—or about two ordinary sized rooms. You can also buy it in two, four and eight-pound cans at quite a saving over the smaller sizes.

On sale at paint, hardware, drug, housefurnishing and department stores.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

WHAT IS YOUR BRAND OF LOVE?

ONCE, love was believed to be a divine flame of the spirit; now it is regarded as merely a "biological urge," sugar-coated with romance and flavored with curiosity.

But "love" is a word which every man has always defined according to his own symptoms. And the secret of happiness consists in finding the man or woman whose definition agrees with your own.

You may differ in your literary tastes, your ideas on interior decorations and your notion of a perfectly broiled steak; but if you look at LOVE from the same angle, you at least start "on the same wire."

HELEN ROWLAND

Love is as old as Adam—and as new as the "last word" from Paris.

Love is as wise as the prophets—and as foolish as second childhood.

Love is as changeless as the stars—and as fickle and uncertain as the moon and the weather.

Love is the soul of unselfishness—and the most merciless tyrant in the world.

Love is the distilled essence of spirit and purity—and the triple extract of sin.

Love is the "dope" which makes a strong man weak—and the stimulant which makes a weak man strong.

Love is comradeship sprinkled with star-dust; love is passion thinly covered with imagination and sentiment.

Love is a wild flower which springs up where it is least expected and thrives and flourishes on neglect. Love is a delicate orchid which requires constant care and scientific cultivation.

Love is the goad to jealousy—and the staff of sublime faith.

Love is the magic and mystery which caused Abelard's heart to remain steadfast forever—and caused Solomon's heart to change seven hundred times.

Love is what causes one man to idle away his days dreaming of a woman—and inspires another man to sit up nights working for her.

Love is a will-o-the-wisp which tempts one man to run after a woman—a danger signal which makes another man run away from her.

Love is a divine fire which keeps the heart alive and glowing. Love is a holocaust which scorches the soul and withers the illusions. Love is a bonfire which brightens a summer holiday.

Love is a game, a tragedy, or a miracle, according to how YOU envisage it. High or low, deep or shallow, fine or cheap, beautiful, or tawdry, glorious or shabby, you choose your own brand of love?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.
U.S. Senator From New York

Keeping the Breath Free From Offense

THERE are two things which we like to dodge. Fortunately, one of these—snoring—is practiced in seclusion. On this account we do not run amuck of it except on a sleeping car, or in a thinly partitioned summer cottage.

DR. COPELAND

But the other—bad breath—we cannot escape. A clerk in the store, a neighbor in the street car, a fellow pupil in school, and even the doctor or the lawyer may be afflicted. Hardly a day passes but from some casual contact each of us must endure at least a passing whiff of bad breath.

Many persons are painfully conscious of their own affliction. They dread to face people and may even avoid all social indulgence, because they know they have bad breath.

There are several causes for offensive breath. All of them relate to the nose, mouth and digestive tract.

Taking these organs in the order mentioned, we find that certain types of catarrh may impregnate the breath with disagreeable odors. One disease of this sort is known as "dry catarrh." Crusts and scabs form in the nose. These become the breeding place of germs and fermentation. As the material decays it becomes very offensive.

To get rid of bad breath due to catarrh there must be appropriate treatment of the nose and of the cavities, known as the nasal sinuses, care is needed in such cases.

Decayed teeth and pus-infected tonsils are other causes for this trouble. No sensible person will neglect disturbances of mouth or throat. It is not alone to make the breath sweet that attention should be given to such defects. It should be given to guard the general health and even the very life.

Indigestion, especially those forms of indigestion associated with habitual constipation, is one of the most common causes for bad breath. A healthy baby is as sweet as a rose and the breath of a well child is like new mown hay. Let a baby or an older child suffer from gastric fermentation or constipation and the breath becomes offensive.

The last factor I shall mention is one rarely included among the causes of this disagreeable symptom. I refer to a heavily coated and offensive tongue.

Some persons have rough tongues, with very uneven surfacing. Food debris and bacterial growth lead to decay and offensive odor. Scrape the tongue with the bowl of an inverted spoon, a piece of whalebone, or a special tongue scraper. You will be surprised at the quantity of material you remove.

Keep the teeth clean. Scrape the tongue daily. Wash out the mouth and gargle the throat with some pleasing solution. With these precautions you should have sweet breath.

"Have you Not Heard It Said Full Oft, a Woman's Nay Doth Stand for Naught?"

"SHAKESPEARE said that," ruminated a young man I know. We'll call him "Beau," so he won't know himself; for he is beautiful only in temperament and character, and not in looks, and does not know that he is so in the first two! Those are the men for the lady that is me; not too beautiful on the outside, but all beautiful on the inside when you know them. Like invisible ink when you warm it.

"And when Shakespeare said that he was saying something!" said Beau. "Neither the yea nor the nay of my girl stands for aught yet! My girl loves me and she loves me not. At noon she has a soft heart for me. At 1 o'clock she gives me a snooty shoulder and a lifted nose. At 2 she blows me kisses and at 3 she is giving me sultry looks. At 4 p. m. she can hardly do until she sees me, and at 5 she won't speak! At 6 she is all of a twinkle at the mention of my name, and at seven bells she doesn't recall it. At eight bells she yoo-hoos to me across the town to say I am the darlingest boy she knows, and at 9 she 'never said it!' At 10 she dreams of me while she brushes her curly locks—so she whispers—and at 11 she kissed another fellow's picture—so she brags. I am poor Pierrot to all the world—for all the world is smiling at me. Even the new moon does. For in the world's mind I am forever pulling daisies apart—I have pulled a million daisies apart—saying, 'she loves me—she loves me not,' and never getting anywhere. But I do not believe her 'nays,' and if I have to ruin all the daisies in the June world I am going to find out for certain; for I'm an old-fashioned guy, and I must confess that the girl in 1928 who does not say yes too soon, who is hard to win and doesn't show the backs of her knees, is the girl for me!"

So ruminated a modern young man named Beau. It's a true story, and something for a girl—alas!—who says yes before she's asked—to think about. —NELL BRINKLEY.

FOR THE LOVELORN

G. F.

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have written you before and think your advice is wonderful and would like to have you give me some through your column for a very dear girl friend. This is how things are: She is 19 years of age and very attractive, not pretty but cute. She has always been very popular with both sexes until three months ago when she met a young fellow and since then has given him all of her time. Before she met him she was invited everywhere because of her "pep." She was always the life of every party or gathering, but when the boys found out she preferred him to most of them they quit calling on her. The last time he came to see her he asked her to go to a dance, although he knew at the time she was observing Lent. Naturally she would not go. He told her he would go to the dance and take another girl and she said that would be O. K., but that she would remember that night and would date in the future if he did go to the dance. He told her both parties could play the game that way, meaning that he would date too. Now he couldn't love this girl and talk to her like that, could he? Don't you think he is just kidding my girl friend? He is not of her religion and neither of them can see the other's way. Don't you think it would be better for them to quit? He is a very fine chap and sometimes I think he is crazy about her and then again I wonder. Won't you please answer this and give me some of your advice that I can give her because I know she loves him and does not want to go out with any one else and I love her and do not want any one to make a fool of her. How could one overcome a jealous disposition?

G. F.

It was inconsiderate and selfish in this boy to insist on your friend's going to the dance, but his consequent actions seem to me to be the result of hurt pride. No doubt he is very fond of the girl. Jealousy is very difficult to overcome, but the application of pure common sense often helps.

M. B. W.

DEAR MISS GALE:

I've been reading your column for over two years and have cause to write to you at last. I am 16 year old. I do not have dates as a rule, but once in a while I go out with a boy. I met this boy a short time ago and have had a date with him once. He wanted to hold hands and pet and I wouldn't. He didn't seem to mind so much then. He calls me up and talks what is commonly known as "mush" to me. I simply cannot stand him any more and would like to bring our friendship to an end. But I don't wish to hurt his feelings in any way. Will you please advise me what to do, Miss Gale, for I sincerely hate him and his "type."

M. B. W.

I am afraid you will have to hurt his feelings a bit, my dear. Refuse to talk with him over the telephone or to see him and he will soon stop bothering you. You are quite right in disliking his type.

An Unhappy Woman

DEAR MISS GALE:

Can you help solve my problem? I am married now for two years and have a little girl, but my husband doesn't seem to care for either of us. He hasn't worked for several months and when I mention it to him he says when he is good and ready he'll start to work. I am head over heel in debt and am worried sick. One can't make him get going, as he has been that way since school days, although I had not learned this until he quit his job. He wants to be free. Shall I give him freedom? I have a home to go to with my baby. I am in love with another, who is yet single. I sent him a telegram to come to my sister's home. He did and I told him I was thinking about a divorce and he said just as soon as I am divorced he'll go out with me. I have written him several times, but got no reply. Do you think he cares for me and what can I do to gain his love?

AN UNHAPPY WOMAN.

This man can be legally made to support you and the baby, you know. Divorce is not to be lightly considered when there are children. Don't take any such step with the idea of marrying this other man. His indifference to your letters is an indication that he is not particularly interested in you.

Why Folks Get Fat and how they lose it

Science, some years ago, found a cause of excess fat which is easy to correct. Scientists proved it on thousands of test animals, then on human beings. The results were reported in medical journals, and the use of this method has spread the world over.

Then a great medical laboratory embodied this method in Marmola prescription tablets. They have now been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The use has grown to vast proportions through users telling others.

The results are seen in every circle. Slenderness prevails. Excess fat is much less common than it was. Now physicians everywhere are prescribing for obesity the chief factor in Marmola.

Abnormal exercise or diet is not required, not advised. One simply takes four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal.

The prescription is not secret. A book in every box gives the formula complete. It explains the results so you may know they are natural and helpful. Learn how easy it is to get these results if you need them. New beauty, new health and vitality come when the fat departs. Few things bring more joys to men and women than reduction by Marmola.

Go get a box and watch effects. You will be delighted.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

CAN Childless MARRIAGE bring Happiness?

Read this wonderful story of a woman who held to her ideals—and her little ones—through poverty, illness, and society's scorn.

A gay triple wedding—with three bright roads to happiness leading away through the years!

Yet, how strangely they drifted apart . . . and what a shock it was to Ella when her own sisters called her "a little fool" for wanting children.

But firmly, faithfully, she believed the voice of life within her could not lie. Six dear little ones—she would show her fashionable, childless, scornful sisters what true happiness was!

They were rich. She and Charles were poor . . . Their life was gay, smart, endlessly varied and thrilling—while hers sank to the bitterest depths of poverty and struggle and worry.

Perhaps, after all, her sisters were right! The world seemed to have no gifts for her, who had given so fully. Only six smiling, hopeful faces that now brought tears of despair to her tired eyes.

Then, as though life's heaviest blows were not enough, death struck the heaviest blow of all—and took the father.

"Ah, my dear—now we will take the children. Otherwise they will have no chance,"—this from her own sisters!

Should she give them up? Let them learn life from those hard, selfish faces?—

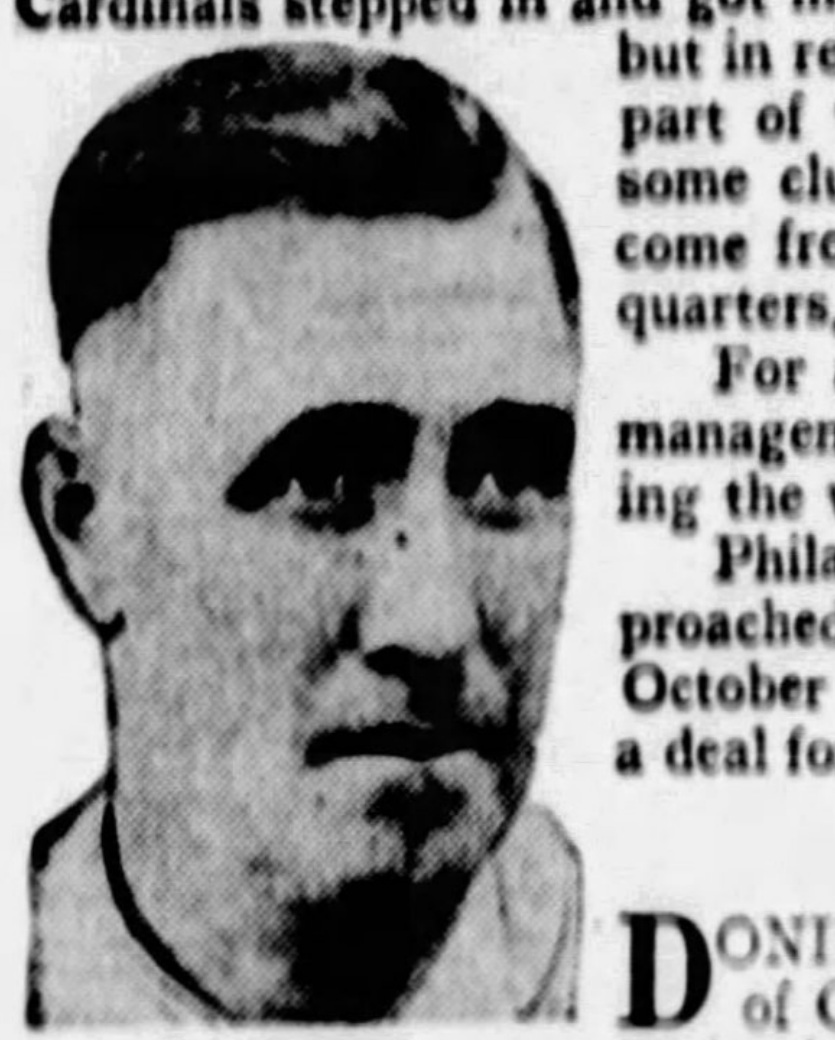
SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Pittsburgh Club Tried for Many Months to Get Wilson, But Leaders Say Baker Informed Them Catcher Was Not for Sale—Big Offer Refused Recently—Vance Beats His Old Jinx, Grantham.

ANY criticism of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club's failure to obtain Catcher Jimmy Wilson from the Phillies before the Cardinals stepped in and got him, ostensibly for some rookies, but in reality for a large sum of money, part of which may have been paid by some club other than St. Louis, must come from uninformed or misinformed quarters.



Donie Bush

For as a matter of fact, the Pirate management was after Wilson all during the winter.

Philadelphia was the third club approached by Manager Owen Bush last October when he started out to make a deal for Kiki Cuyler.

DONIE tried to swing a single trade of Cuyler for Hughey Critz of the Reds; he attempted a double swap of Cuyler and other Pirates for Jimmy Welsh and Eddie Farrell of Boston, and he also offered Cuyler, considerable other playing material and a catcher for Catcher Wilson and two other members of the Phillies.

The Buc bosses realized that they needed a right-hand-hitting catcher of experience, and they were determined to get the best in the league if possible.

They even approached Stuffy McInnis on the subject while Stuffy still was manager of the Quakers and later took it up with President W. F. Baker after McInnis had been deposed, but Baker, it is said, would not listen to any offers on the matter and declared with every sign of sincerity that Wilson would not be sold or traded to any club.

ONLY three weeks ago the Pittsburgh club went after Wilson again. The Phils showed an interest in a young player on the Pittsburgh list and made a ridiculous trade proposal for him by offering a 37-year-old pastimer in exchange. Manager Bush naturally refused to consider such a swap for a minute, but he had a counter proposition to offer, and the Philly chiefs were informed that the Pittsburgh club was willing to give the young player desired, three other players and as much cash on the side as Baker thought reasonable if the Phils would turn Wilson over to the Buccaneers.

"I would not give Wilson for your whole ball club," Baker is said to have replied. "He is not for sale."

Burt Shotton.

ON May 3, when the Phils had an open date to make the jump from home to Chicago, for the beginning of their western trip, President Baker was asked to permit Manager Shotton to stop off in Pittsburgh for the day so that he and Manager Bush might have a chance to try to arrange a deal, but he is said to have refused once more to listen and said Shotton would have to go to Rochester, N. Y., that day. He again declared, it is reported, that Wilson was not on the market and that he would not trade him for the whole Pittsburgh ball club.

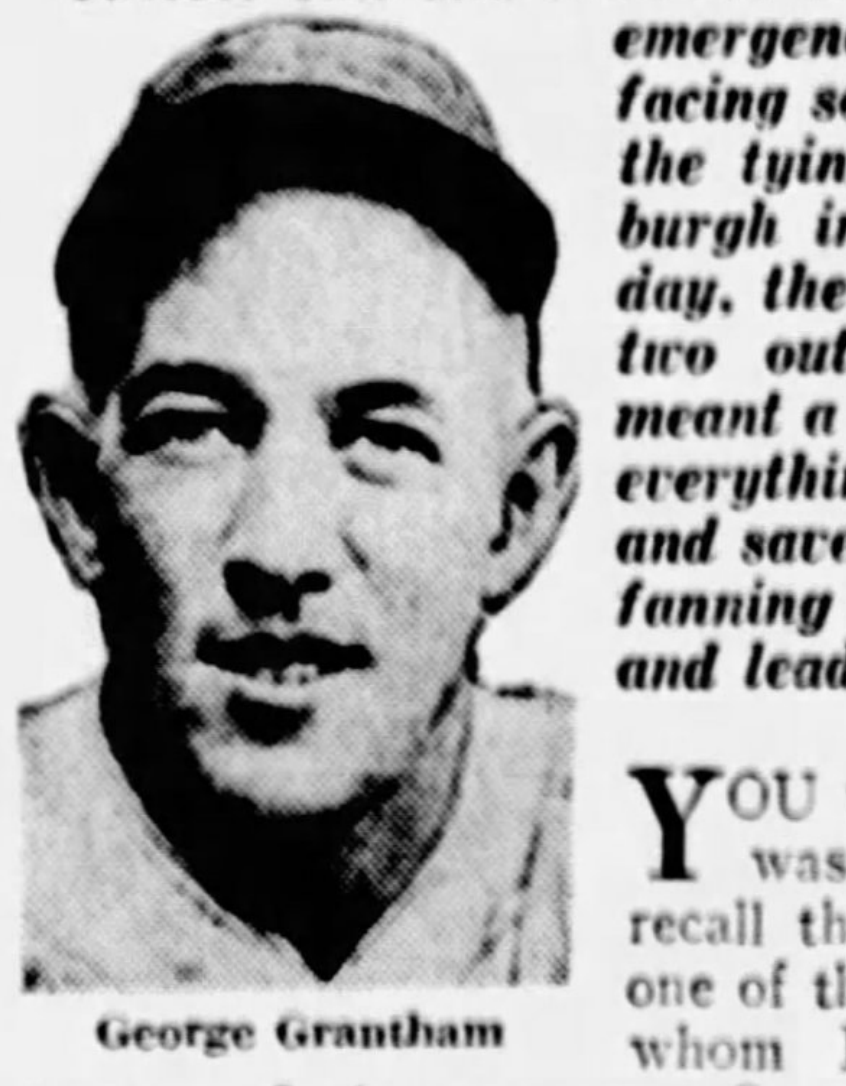
THE fact that Shotton went to Rochester that day instead of accepting an invitation to stop here and discuss a Wilson trade with Bush, and the additional fact that First Baseman Donald Hurst, one of the rookies used in the—there'll be more about this young man later by the way—alleged trade, was playing for Rochester, a Cardinal farm, indicates that the sale of Wilson had practically been completed when Baker was insisting that he was not on the market, and that it probably was part of the O'Farrell-Harper deal.

ONE question is, "Why were Pittsburgh's offers refused and the Pirate chiefs told that Wilson was not for sale?" Another is, "Who paid the freight for the transfer of Wilson from the Phils to the Cards?" for it is an insult to the intelligence of the fans to ask them to believe that the best catcher in the National League was traded for merely a few rookies.

Some one appears to have a finger in both the Philadelphia and New York clubs.

Fans are still wondering why McGraw did not grab Wilson instead of O'Farrell, as from several angles, particularly batting and age, Jimmy is the better bet.

IT is said that Dazzy Vance has arrived at the age when he must save himself and that he only uses his fastest ball and tries for strikeouts these days in dire emergencies, but he surely was facing something of that kind with the tying run on third for Pittsburgh in the ninth inning yesterday, the winning run on first and two out. A single would have meant a tied score, but old Daz put everything he had in his pitches and saved the day for Brooklyn by fanning the Pirates' first baseman and leading hitter.



George Grantham

YOU won't realize what a feat that was on the part of Vance until you recall that Grantham has always been one of the few hitters in the league for whom Dazzy appeared to hold no terrors. In bygone years George was wont to hit Vance like Joe Tinker used to hit Christy Mathewson—a case of one batter whom a star pitcher could not fool.

Grantham holds a record against Vance that has never been duplicated by any other batter when facing the Brooklyn luminary—that of making two home runs against him in his first two times at bat in the game.

WHEN the Robins were fighting the Giants for the pennant back in 1924, Vance pitched out of turn against Chicago in Brooklyn on September 23. He fanned 11 men and allowed only four hits in 10 innings, but three of the four safe drives were homers and two of them were made by Grantham.

WITH the bases empty and two out in the first inning, Grantham came up, and, after two strikes had been called on him, whaled a fast pitch over the right field wall for a homer. In the third with two out, Vance walked Heathcote. This brought Grantham up again, and once more, after two strikes had been called on him he smashed the ball over the starboard barrier, three runs resulting.

A homer by Leo Hartnett in the tenth inning won the game for the Cubs, and the defeat played a big part in keeping the Robins from winning the pennant, as the Giants beat them out by only a game and a half.

Hartnett, Clifton Heathcote and Bill Barrett are the only

FOUR U. S. WOMEN IN 4TH ROUND

HUNSTANTON, England, May 15.—Led by Miss Glenna Collett, who won her third victory of the British woman's golf championship, all the Americans in the title event today stroked their way into the fourth round, which will be played tomorrow. Miss Collett won her third match while her three compatriots had to play only two to enter the fourth round.

Miss Collett continued to kill off champions and former champions by defeating Mrs. Temple Dobell, 4 up and 2 to play. Mrs. Dobell, the former Gladys Ravenscroft, has won both the British and American titles.

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former British and American champion, won from Miss Dianna Esmond, a French girl, 6 and 5.

Miss Elizabeth Curtis, Clinton, Ia., had the hardest fight of the American quartet, disposing of Miss Couper, a Scotch player, one up.

Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, defeated Miss Alice Firebrace, of England, 2 and 1.

MISS WRAGG NEXT FOE

Miss Collett's first opponent tomorrow will be Miss Mabel Wragg, a Yorkshire girl, who is regarded as the best player in the North of England.

Miss Collett was three up on Mrs. Dobell at the turn. The first two holes were halved, Miss Collett win-

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

WITH many clubs in the National League complaining about the patronage at the parks, the Cubs, under the direction of Joe McCarthy continue to play to packed houses. The nine-game winning streak of the Bears apparently has stirred Chicago fandom to a feverish degree.

CUBS' fans were "plenty" feverish when the Pirates were in town. With wintry breezes blowing off Lake Michigan about 45,000 people came out to see the Bears and Buccos in a single game.

FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND is about 15,000 more people than the number witnessing the Pirates and Giants in three games at Forbes Field. The Giants were not here for a Saturday game, yet it is no secret that the attendance at the "big series" was a disappointing surprise, especially to those who handle the "gate."

McCARTHY personally is largely responsible for the healthy condition of the Chicago patronage. He took a team that was relegated to seventh or eighth place and proceeded to put it in the flag fight. In both his seasons in Chicago Joe made the Bears a contender right up to the last week or two.

EAST'S DERBY HOPES SHIPPED TO DOWNS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15.—The Eastern hopes for the Kentucky Derby began arriving here today, including the most formidable that engaged in the Preakness. All but the victor, Victorian, arrived this morning.

The arrivals included Toro, Strolling Player, Vito, Sortie, Distraction, Bobashella, Typhoon, Sun Beau, Petee Wrack and Don Q.

There were indications of at least 20 starters before Reigh Count's sparkling performance yesterday, but it is now more than probable that there will be an extensive deflection from the race next Saturday. Such performers as Bonivan, Irish Pal, Bar None, Colonel Shaw, Dodgson and a few others may not face the barrier. The Easterners who arrived will no doubt all go to the post.

Considerable regret was felt here when it was learned that the Preakness winner, Victorian, would be an absentee. There is a general feeling, though, that Trainer James Rowe will place Victorian aboard a box car after he works him at Belmont, where the horse is now quartered.

REIGH COUNT IMPRESSIVE

Reigh Count's sparkling performance of yesterday came in the Mammoth Cave purse, in which he headed five other Derby colts, including Lawley and Colonel Shaw, to the wire by three lengths.

Under the piloting of Chick Lang, who will have the leg on him in the derby, Reigh Count displayed courage and speed, taking the lead at the head of the stretch and crossing the wire in a drive that showed plenty in reserve. He ran the mile and a quarter distance in 2:05 2-5, handily. Whiskery's time for the derby last year on a heavy track was 2:06. Reigh Count was clocked yesterday for the distance in two seconds under the track record for the event, 2:03 2-5, made by Old Rosebud in 1913.

The track was fast and the weather clear.

MISSTEP IN GREAT RUN

Misstep, the hope of the Le Mar Stock Farm, was caught by clockers in a workout this morning in the sensational workout time of 2:06 4-5 for the Derby distance and carrying regular Derby weight of 126 pounds. It was his best training work so far this season at Churchill Downs.

The track was lightning fast, just before rain fell and blocked the chances for any fast work by others, and the chestnut colt, by Upset out of St. Theresa, was caught at the posts in: Quarter, :24 1-5; half, :48 4-5; three-quarters, 1:13 2-5; mile, 1:39, and the mile and a quarter in 2:06 4-5.

PAYNE RETAINS DERBY LEAD

ASHTABULA, O., May 15.—(AP.)—Andrew Payne, of Claremore, Okla., remains on top of the heap of 55 bunioneers trekking toward New York in the bunion derby, sponsored by C. C. Pyle.

Payne and John Salo, of Passaic, N. J., led the pack to the seventy-second control station here yesterday, both of them finishing the 41.1 miles from Arrowhead Beach in 5:50:48. The day's performance left the Oklahoman still in possession of his lead of 21 hours, 49 minutes and 27 seconds ahead of Salo, who holds second place.

The 12 leaders and their elapsed times follow:

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 469:39:10; John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 491:28:37; Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 503:32:08 Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 518:23:24; Louis Perrella, Albany, N. CONNIE MACK SEEKS COAST MOUND STAR

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—(AP.)—Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics is a bidder for Gordon Rhodes, young right handed pitcher of the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League it was learned today.

Mack is declared to be willing to turn over some players and cash for an option on Rhodes who last week pitched 18 successive scoreless innings in two games. Hollywood obtained him direct from the University of Utah.

STAR BACK IN WINNING FORM FOR CLEVELAND

Pitcher George Uhle of the Cleveland Indians has had his ups and downs since the club plucked him off the Cleveland sandlots, in 1919, and this is one of his up years, judging from the start he has made. He has won six of his first eight games, the first four in succession. He is the only pitcher to get a decision over Herb Pennock of the Yankees, shutting out the slugging American League champions on four hits. He pitched this game last week and then came back in a 10-inning game with the Yankees and was charged with a defeat after pitching 1 1-3 innings and followed this up Sunday by shutting out the Athletics, 2-0, allowing only one hit, which was made by Mickey Cochrane in the second inning. After winning 27 games and losing 11 in 1926, Uhle slumped last season and won only eight against nine defeats, so that his "comeback" this season is of a pleasing variety. With fine assistance from Shaute, Hudlin, Miller, Grant and Buckeye, Uhle is keeping the Cleveland club up in the pennant fight. He is a six-footer and weighs around 190 pounds.

McGraw Injured When Struck By Auto.

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP.)—John McGraw, veteran manager of the New York Giants, was hobbling about with the aid of a cane today as the result of a near serious accident after the Cubs-Giants game yesterday.

McGraw was crossing a traffic-jammed street in front of Wrigley Field when his right leg was clipped by an automobile. No bones were broken, but the leg was severely bruised. The driver of the car was not held.

RENEW HOCKEY DRAFT PLAN

TORONTO, May 15.—(AP.) The Major-Minor League agreement in Professional Hockey was renewed yesterday for the 1928-29 season at a session of Minor League executives with Frank Calder, president, and other leaders of the National League.

The agreement provided for the protection of the Minor leagues from the inroads of clubs similiar or superior classification, establishing a uniform player draft and sets the terms for loan or sale of players.

Find Shot Light, New Record Won't Stand.

EUGENE, ORE., May 15.—(AP.)—The world's intercollegiate shot-put record claimed for Herm Brix, University of Wisconsin weight star, after the dual track and field meet between Washington and Oregon here last Saturday, will not stand because the weight of the shot with which the reputed record was made, was a full half pound less than the regulation 16 pounds.

Brix hurled the shot 50 feet 9½ inches, a mark which bettered the old record set by Bud Houser, of Stanford, by two inches.

MANAGER WILLING TO TALK TRADE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

"NO, I don't think the Pirates are going to get one of my catchers while we are in town. I've got three good ones, but I figure that Pittsburgh would not want to give me what I wish. I am after a good pitcher or a good infielder if I make any deal with the Pirates."

Manager Robinson of the Dodgers today voiced himself in this wise when interviewed on the prospect of a deal with the Freebooters.

Robbie said he was still waiting to hear from the Buccos. He will listen to a deal for Lefthander Jess Petty, suspended star of the mound, or one of his catchers, but he doesn't seem to be interested in

STARS TO COMPETE

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP.)—Bobby Jones, Jess Sweetser, Chick Evans and Francis Ouimet have accepted invitations to compete in Chicago's first annual Memorial golf tournament here, August 28.

NOTES of the BOXERS

JIM MALONEY, former heavyweight contender, is about to essay a "comeback" try. He meets Tom Roper in a six-round bout in Brooklyn Saturday night and Jack DeMave at Braves Field, Boston, May 28.

Jack McAuliffe, retired undefeated lightweight champion, is picking Jimmy Mandell for the title Thursday night for two reasons. One is that Jimmy is Irish and the other that he is a natural fighter.

Otto Von Porat and Napoleon Jack Dorval, Jack Kearns' heavyweight, meet in a 10-round bout in Chicago tonight.

Willie Davies, of Charleroi, boxes Phil Tobias at Atlantic City next Monday night and has a return bout in the making with Midget Wolgast at Philadelphia.

California Joe Gans, Negro lightweight of McKeesport, has been matched for a 10-round bout with Jack Mackin, of Georgia, at Greensboro, N. C. June 4.

29 SCHOOLS IN RELAYS

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER

A new era in scholastic track and field sports for this district will likely come with the running of the first annual Shady Side Academy relay interscholastics on Saturday. Twenty-nine schools already have entered to compete for the 19 permanent trophies and 42 sets of gold, silver and bronze medals donated by the nine Shady Side houses. Even a larger entry is anticipated, inasmuch as post entries will be accepted, according to Capt. Palmer, who is running the meet.

Fourteen events are on the program, including a 100-yard dash, quarter-mile relay for junior high schools; mile relay for Class B high schools; half-mile relay for junior high schools, half-mile run, open to all high schools, mile relays for Class A and B high schools, mile invitation relay for preparatory schools; mile relay for Class C high schools; half-mile relay open to all high schools; mile run, open to all high schools, mile relay for Pittsburgh high schools, and sprint medley relay, open to all high schools.

The officials in charge of the meet will be Henry Blum, referee; John T. Taylor, starter; Joe Wagman, clerk of course; John H. Rush, chief track judge, and Carl Colmery, scorer.

Houses which donated the trophies are Morewood, Alpen, Ellsworth, Day Student Club, Gargoyle, Sargon, St. Andrews, 1927 Alumni and Junior School.

Donie Gwinn.

THE tri-state district, of which Pittsburgh is the core and most important part, will have to be content to cheer a Canadian as its representative in the coming Olympic Games at Amsterdam. It seems unlikely that any tri-state athlete will make the United States team, leaving Vic Pickard, Pitt's Canuck pole vaulter as the lone district entrant in the world classic.

When the present track season opened, there were two boys who were considered as potential Olympic stars. One was Gibby Welch and the other Don (Joe Hammer) Gwinn, both of Pitt. Welch, an all-around star, figured to make his mark with the discus, while Gwinn was looked upon as a strong contender in the difficult hammer throw. But just when they were reaching the peak of condition, the week previous to the Ohio State Relays, Don and Gib were quarantined in their fraternity house, lost a week of much needed work and as a result, are far below the condition they should have attained by this time.

WELCH UNDER 1927 MARK

In competition he has engaged in so far, Gibby has been unable to hurl the platter better than 140 feet, which is eight feet below his best mark. He will make a try at breaking the local record which he holds, in the Big Four meet here Saturday, but will have a difficult job, though he should win the event hands down. He will also assault the javelin and shot put marks on the same day.

In the Olympic try-out competition it will take a mark of about 155 feet to qualify. There will be stars to beat of the caliber of Bud Houser, Glenn Hartranft, Biff Hoffman, Wright and other veteran discus heavers who are capable of 150 foot efforts. Welch will have to rise to great heights to compete on equal terms with such an array.

Pittsburgh catchers or outfielders.

"I don't need any more catchers and I am O. K. in the outfield, but I could use another pitcher or a good infielder," he mused.

An ailing pitching staff added to the handicap of a receiving set that operates on a left-hand basis at the plate have combined to make the Oaklanders look like a very ordinary ball team. The Buccos don't resemble the Quakers—neither do they make you think of topnotch clubs as they move along in their present gait.

SEEK NEW CATCHER

But brighter days may be ahead. The management apparently is working for another catcher, but nothing definite has developed. Moreover, things in general could be a lot worse. The season is very young and so long as the Buccos can stay within gunshot of the leaders they cannot be said to be in sore straits.

More than two hours were required to finish yesterday's fight, the Dodgers taking the game, 7 to 6.

RUDY-O'MALLEY BOUT TO HEAD BENEFIT CARD

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 15.—Young Rudy of Charleroi and Steve O'Malley of Bellaire, O., will be the headliners of a boxing show to be held here Thursday night for the benefit of St. Francis College. Tommy Ward and Mike Hogan, both of Pittsburgh, box the second bout, and Johnny Wildner of Pittsburgh and Rudy Sloan of Pittsburgh meet in the opening bout.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

men now with the Bruins who played in that game, and Vance and Hank DeBerry are the only participants who are still with Brooklyn.

YESTERDAY'S defeat, in which Fred Fussell pitched better ball than the result indicates, put the Pirates back at the .500 mark, but they are not likely to linger in that neighborhood for any lengthy period. They are due to pull themselves together again and start on the upward road again. That some of the Bucs' defeats have been due to their own poor work cannot be denied, but they have not been getting their share of the breaks in close-score games, and with crippled pitching and catching departments in addition, the Corsairs are having a tough time of it. But they're working hard and that's going to get them somewhere eventually. Mentioning hard work and spirit, you probably have not seen many hurlers pitch a full game one day and then jump in to do relief duty the following day, as Burleigh Grimes did Sunday and yesterday.

Fred Fussell

BABE RUTH was three days ahead of his 1927 home run schedule when he made his ninth four-baser of 1928 yesterday. Last year he did not make his ninth until May 17. He has until May 22 to keep up with his record by making No. 11.

ED MORRIS, the Mobile recruit with the Redsox, continues to twirl just about as sensationally as any new pitcher in the majors. He hung up a 3-to-2 victory over St. Louis yesterday, allowing only five hits. In his last three games, Morris has yielded only four runs and 13 hits.

PITTSBURGH MAINTAINS LEAD

The world-wide campaign of the Studebaker Corporation of America to make May the champion sales month as Studebaker is the champion of cars, is little more than a week old, and already The Studebaker Sales Co., of Pittsburgh, has piled up a commanding lead. The Pittsburgh sales teams have backed up their claims of being the livest in the country with wagers. To keep Pittsburgh in the lead, liberal allowances are to be had for used cars. The box score today:

PITTSBURGH....96,800 points
Cleveland ...85,400 points Buffalo .....47,400 points
Philadelphia, 83,500 points Baltimore ...35,800 points

Body of Lewis To Rest in Syracuse

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—(INS.)—The body of Dave Lewis, widely known automobile racing driver, who committed suicide in his ranch home near here, will be sent to Syracuse, N. Y., for burial, it was announced here today by his wife, Mrs. Laura F. Lewis.

Bowed with grief, Mrs. Lewis accepted the official theory that her husband had killed himself in his lonely San Francisquito mountain-side home, though, at first, she had refused to believe that the racing driver had met death other than at the hand of an assailant, bent on robbery.

COLEMAN VICTOR

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—(AP.)—Fay Coleman of the California Country Club yesterday won the Southern California amateur golf championship at Lakeside by defeating Charles Seaver, 6 and 4.

KEARNS SEEKS SPOT FOR TRAINING CAMP

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP.)—Jack Kearns, manager of Mickey Walker, is inspecting prospective sites here for an out-door training camp in which the world's middleweight champion will prepare for his title match with Ace Hudkins, June 21.

Walker will arrive May 29 to begin the three weeks' stretch. Meantime, he will box Joe Simonich at Elizabeth, N. J., May 21 and Tony Marullo at Cleveland May 28. Both bouts will be over the weight.

ALTMAN PACEMAKER

BUTLER, Pa., May 15.—Jimmy Altman of Greensburg will be the pacemaker of the 100-lap auto race here Memorial Day and also, with his wife, may participate in the marathon dancing derby over the regulation course of 26 miles, 385 yards, that will be offered as the morning end of the card.

BRYN MAWR LOSES

BRYN MAWR, Pa., May 15.—(AP.)—The Meadow Brook Ramblers yesterday defeated the Bryn Mawr polo team, 9 goals to 5 in the Wolton Cup tournament. John W. Converse, playing No. 1 for the victors, was the high scorer with five goals.

Bruins Climb Without Aid Of Kiki

NEW YORK, May 15.—(INS.)—Despite the fact that they are carrying a flock of weak-hitting infielders and that the highly-touted Kiki Cuyler has been a total flop, the Chicago Cubs are riding on the crest of a wave of nine straight victories today. Joe McCarthy's gang set off a third bomb under the Giants yesterday, shoving the New Yorkers down into fourth place.

The substitution of Earl Webb for Cuyler has jacked up the Bruins like a check from home on the day before pay day. His double and triple drove in four of Chicago's eight runs yesterday, while Charley Root held the Giants to two runs in registering his fourth straight triumph.

Bambino Clouts Ninth, Beats '27 Pace

NEW YORK, May 15.—(INS.)—"Bam Lams Elam" chorused the headline writers as Babe Ruth nicked Elam Van Gilder of the Detroit Tigers for his ninth homer of the season yesterday. Cousin Elam, as the Bambino calls pitchers who are easy for him to hit, has been the victim of a Ruthian four-base wallop eight times in his career.

Liver Eating Not 'Just a Fad'
Thousands Now Taking
HEMO-LIVER

Millions of people are eating liver daily and there is a good reason for it. It is not because they enjoy eating liver. They know, as everybody ought to know, that liver contains the vital elements that create rich red blood that every man and woman must have in order to be strong and robust.

The vitalizing elements of liver will be used for years to come because of the marvelous benefits given to thin-blooded, weak, run-down men and women.

But who wants to eat liver as a continuous diet? Thanks to Science, the health-restoring elements in liver are now extracted and put up in a pleasant-to-take elixir called HEMO-LIVER.

A big 12-ounce bottle will last 8 days and a tablespoonful is a dose. One would have to eat liver a great many times to get as much benefit as Hemo-Liver will give you.

So gratifying have been the results to thousands of run-down, anemic, thin-blooded men and women that any progressive druggist will now sell you a bottle of Hemo-Liver with the distinct understanding that if you are not greatly improved, your money will be refunded.

As a Spring tonic it surpasses old-time remedies.

Get a bottle of Hemo-Liver today at May Drug Co. Stores.

DORMONT, HOMEWOOD NINES HOSTS

By TOM BIRKS.

TODAY will see the official opening of the Allegheny County League for the season. Two games are scheduled, Beltzhoover traveling to Homewood to help Daly pry off the lid there, and Manager Jimmy Greenough will take the Bellevue nine over to Dormont to help George Falconer start the season on the right foot.

Big doings are scheduled for Homewood. A band will be on hand and following a parade, Councilman John Herron and Scott Morgan, president of the club and new ward chairman, will do a little ball throwing act and then the season will be officially on. Homewood had a workout in their new uniforms last Saturday against the Pittsburgh Railways. The suits are white with red trimmings, and Homewood-Brushton lettered on the front in red. They make a very nifty appearance.

It is hard to tell who will do the twirling for the openings. George Falconer will use Besterman or Leo Carroll. Both are in good shape. Despite the fact that Bellevue would like to get the jump in this game, it is hardly likely that Hilty will be used before Thursday when Bellevue opens at home. Carl Stewart, Earl Mosely or Art Shaw can pitch for the North Boro nine.

It has been announced that Bimmy Steele will work the opener for Homewood, but Bimmy goes better when the weather is hot, so that brings Earl Zinn into the picture. Zinn worked a few innings on Saturday and had loads of stuff. Steele followed in the box and Isherwood finished. Manager Hite, who dearly loves to beat Homewood, has Foster and Crandall ready.

PLAY IN TRAFFIC CLUB TOURNAMENT

JOHN J. KOCH

The traffic manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, John J. Koch, seemed to be enjoying his golf at the Shannopin Country Club yesterday when the photographer caught him in the act of addressing his ball.

SOUTHERN RAILWAYS DELEGATES

Among others, a number of representatives of large railway lines from all parts of the country attended the Traffic Club party, but none of them were more enthusiastic than the Southern Railways group, shown above. Pictures show, reading from left to right, E. R. Oliver, vice president; J. E. Fitzwilson, executive general agent; G. H. Kerr, freight traffic manager west of Cincinnati; R. H. Morris, assistant freight traffic manger; F. D. Claggett, freight traffic manager, and E. C. Morgan, district freight agent.

FRANK G. MINNICK

Another of the local men who enjoyed a perfect day of golf was the general manager of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie R. R., shown above as he finished walloping a real ball down mid-fairway.

The seventh was halved in fives, Glenna winning the eighth, although she missed her first putt by an inch. Glenna hooked into the rough at the ninth, but recovered to halve for another five. The cards:

Out—
Miss Collett.. 4 5 4 3 3 4 5 4 5—37
Mrs. Dobell... 4 5 5 3 4 4 5 5 5—40

Glenna dropped the tenth hole when she overran the green and both required sixes to halve the eleventh. At the twelfth, Miss Collett's second shot would have overrun the green, but it hit Mrs. Dobell's ball. The referee replaced Mrs. Dobell's ball, and although Miss Collett narrowly missed a long putt, she won the hole, 5 and 4, to become three up again. The thirteenth was halved, at the fourteenth Glenna narrowly missed a 15-yard putt, winning, 3 and 4. She dropped the fifteenth, and won the sixteenth, 3 and 4, when her tee shot dropped neatly on the green. The cards:

In—
Miss Collett.. 5 6 4 5 3 6 3 * *—32
Mrs. Dobell... 4 6 5 5 4 5 4 * *—33

Three British favorites, Enid Wilson, Doris Fowler and Molly Gourlay, remain in the running, but Misses Wilson and Fowler meet tomorrow.

Miss Collett should be able to get a breathing spell if she disposes of Miss Wragg. If the two Americans survive until the semi-finals Thursday Miss Collett will be opposed by Mrs. Hurd.

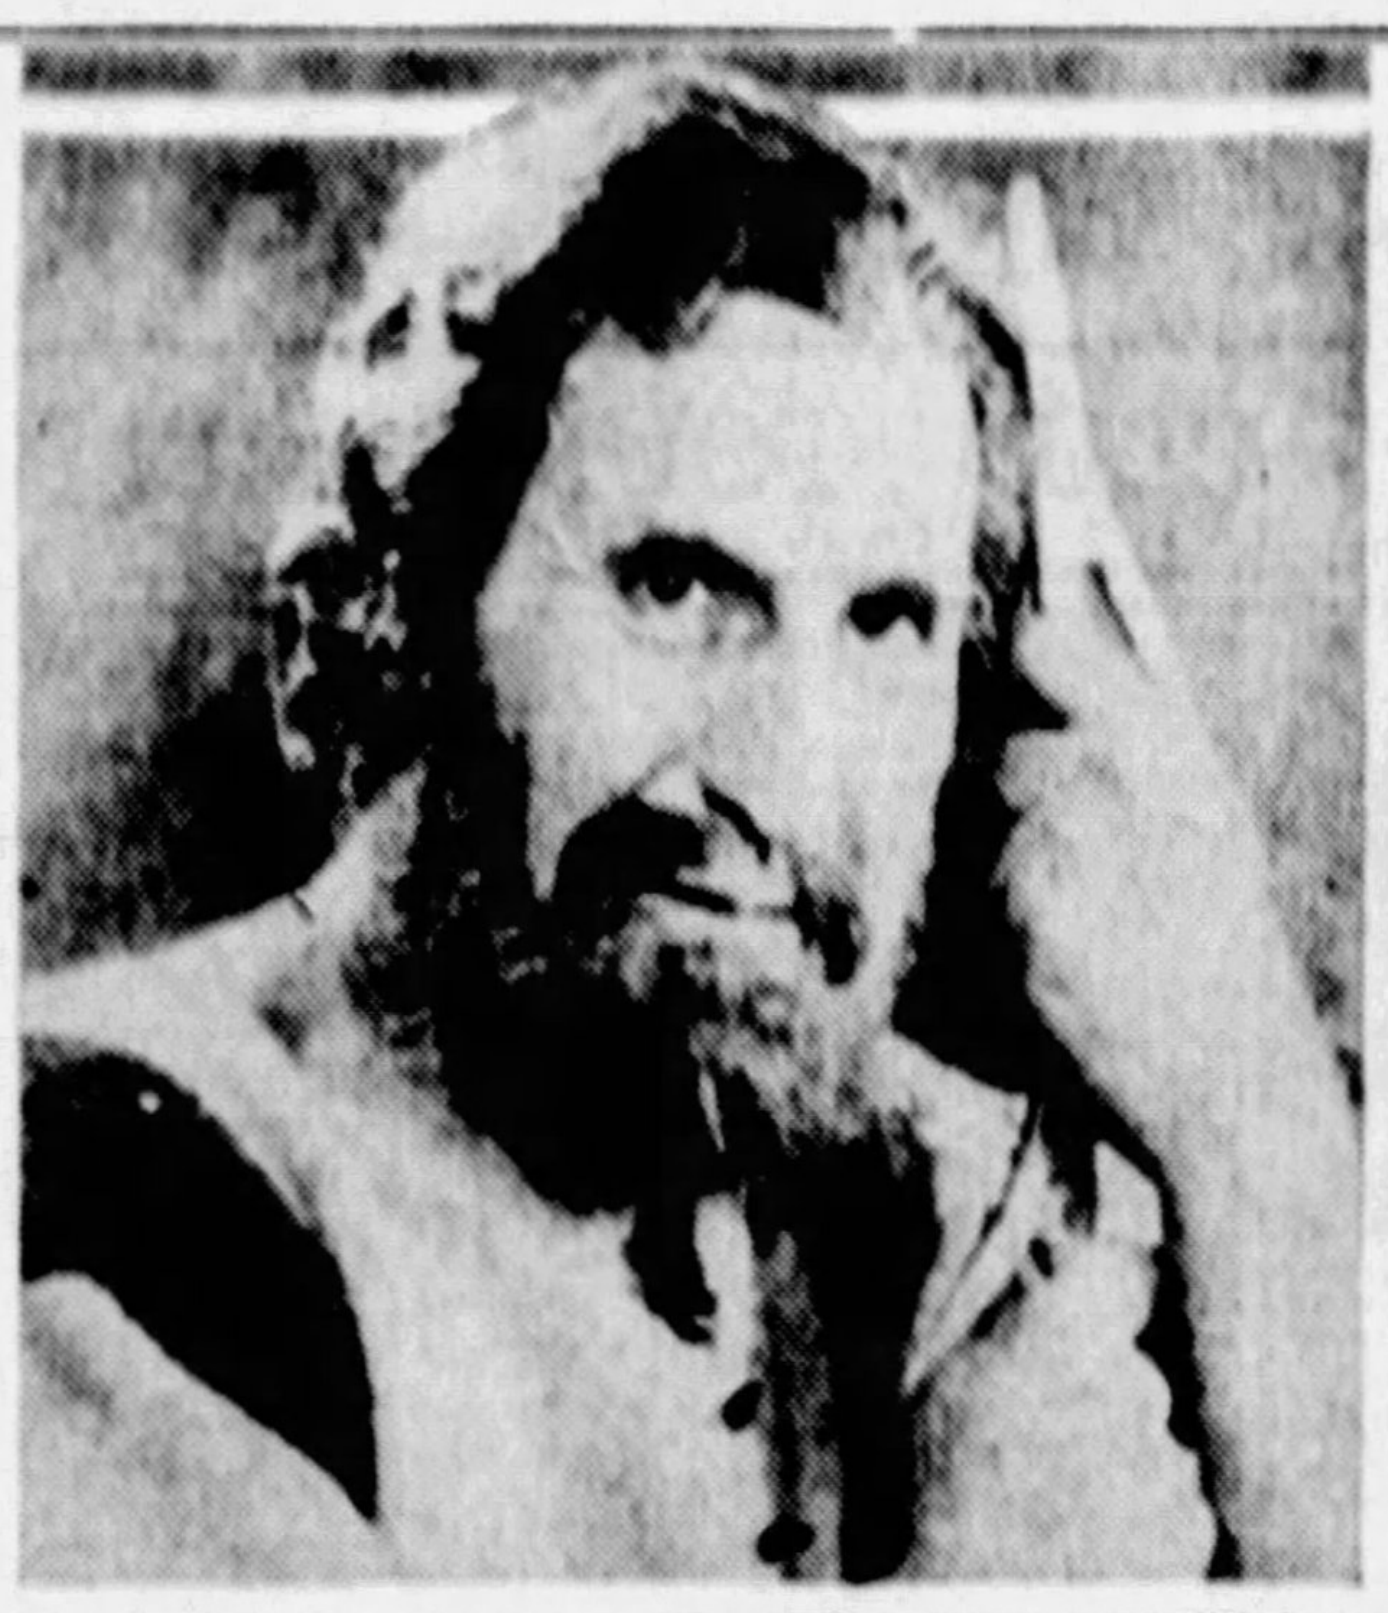
Comedy, Vaudeville, Photoplays and Burlesque Offer Varied Entertainment in Local Theaters

BRINGING ILLUSION -:- TO OUR THEATERS -:- IN WEEK'S PROGRAMS

Marion Davies in a characterization of Mae Murray in "The Patsy," current screen feature in the Penn.



Ernest Torrence as Peter in "The King of Kings," spectacular biblical photoplay making its second Pittsburgh visit in the Alvin.

Frances White, minute-size singing comedienne, who is the feature of the stage presentation in the Stanley.

Ted McNamara is featured in the Davis screen presentations, appearing as landlubber sailor in "Why Sailors Go Wrong."

FUN ACT IS HIT IN DAVIS

Jay Brennan and Stanley Rogers renewed acquaintance with Davis audiences yesterday. Featuring the debonair type of masculinity and a comedy male impersonation of femininity, they again proved their art never grows stale. With them even old jokes take on youthful vigor and the laughs were frequent as they proceeded to "dish the dirt" about "Margie," winding up the humorous gossip fest with some stepping. Jugglers, certainly, are nothing new in vaudeville, but occasionally one comes along who stands out. That is the achievement of Serge Flash, who is another feature of the Keith-Albee bill in the Davis. His skill compels attention. In an act called "Cuckoo," in which the performance supposedly is given by escaped inmates of an asylum, there is good singing and dancing, in which the high spots are the acrobatic dances of Irene Vermillion, very graceful, selections by a male vocal quartet and a burlesque of the "Lucia" sextet. Steve Freda and Johnny Palace please with songs and spaghetti comedy. Songs and dances by Grace and Coly Worth and the playing of four girls on baby grand pianos, with songs by the group and Mollie Klinger, contralto, directed by Geraldine Valliere, complete the stage bill. Sammy Cohen and Ted McNamara, as a taxicab chauffer and horse cab driver who find themselves before the mast, go through many supposedly funny experiences without very many laughs in the screen feature, "Why Sailors Go Wrong." There also are news pictures and a Lupino Lane film comedy, "Sword Points."

Good Photoplay, Frances White in Stanley

A varied bill, running all the way from sainted melodrama of John Fox, Jr., to glorified jazz is offered in the Stanley. The melodrama is a new screen version of that classic of the Cumberland hills, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," and seldom has a popular novel been more faithfully reproduced on the screen. The atmosphere of the Kentucky mountaineers and in the aristocratic Blue Grass region "befo' de wah," has been religiously preserved in the scenario and no undue liberties have been taken with Fox's story. It is played by Richard Barthelmess with an intelligence of the theme which makes it one of this star's outstanding achievements. His success is made possible by the support of Molly O'Day and a strong company throughout. Frances White, little singing comedienne, heads the stage bill with Broadway character songs in true Follies style. With Phil Spitalny's orchestra, her songs got away to a flying start in capturing the audience. Spitalny's orchestra features a medley of melodies from the Italian operas before abandoning the program to a rip-ranting bit of musical terror which Phil calls a "jazz carnival." It is a good bill all the way through and yesterday's audiences seemed to be immensely pleased.

ADOLPH MENJOU FILM IS GRAND PHOTOPLAY

Adolphe Menjou, looking as sophisticated as usual and all dressed up in a neat-fitting uniform of a French army captain, is the star of "A Night of Mystery," the Grand Photoplay feature. The film story puts the gallant Adolphe in a rather difficult situation. The brother of the girl Menjou loves is convicted of murder. He knows the youth didn't do it. But should he disclose the fact that the brother is innocent it would compromise a former woman friend, wife of the trial judge. The Menjou personality and the Menjou acting ability make the photoplay. The cast includes Evelyn Brent, Nora Lane and William Collier, Jr.

Wet Garbage to Make It Heavy; Gets 30 Days

More weight meant more money for Morris Dorsey, 32, North Side garbage collector, so he sprinkled his product with water, it was testified in Magistrate E. M. Hough's court.

Whenever Dorsey's wagon would stop in front of homes, a pool formed on the street and his customers complained.

He was sent to the workhouse for 30 days.

"UKE" HENSHAW IN ALDINE

Bobby "Uke" Henshaw, yodler and ukulele player, features the Aldine stage show this week. Vocally he imitates various musical instruments. Then he shows what an artist he is on the ukelele by playing one of Sousa's famous marches. And all the while he chatters humorously. Two other players assist him. Bobby, as well as other entertainers on the bill, aided in Parker and Babb's act yesterday, the reason being that one of the partners—Ethel Parker, was unable to appear because of illness. A Filipino sextet, a feature of this act, won quite a bit of applause. Naturally, the dancing which is a big part of this presentation—Parker and Babb being exponents of fast dance steps—was curtailed. George Yeomen and Lizzie offer a skit titled "Information." Cynthia and Claire display some harmony. The Five Maxellos, tumblers, balancers and jugglers, please.

The photoplay is "Finders Keepers," featuring Laura La Plante and Johnny Harron. It is an amusing story of a girl, who accepts engagement rings from many men and who finally finds herself in love with a soldier boy, who hasn't any ring to give her. News pictures are on the bill.

BOY MUSICIAN TOPS NEW SHERIDAN SHOW

Broadus Erle, boy musician, who is heralded as a musical prodigy, tops the bill in the Sheridan square this week. Tampa, a magician, who is said to have the backing of Howard Thurston, presents a bagful—or maybe two bagfuls—of tricks. Wright and Marion offer a comedy affair, titled "Food for Squirrels." Ellen Harvey performs on the slack wire. The photoplay is "Pay as You Enter," featuring Clyde Cook. This comedian has the role of a street car motorman. He is in love with a quick-lunch waitress—and so is the conductor on the car with him. An organlogue and short screen entertainment complete the bill.

EVELYN NESBIT AGAIN FLOTILLA CLUB STAR

Evelyn Nesbit opened the third and concluding week of her present engagement in the Flotilla Club and Venice Restaurant, last night. Miss Nesbit is appearing nightly now at the Flotilla Club in her new skit entitled "Personality Personified," accompanied by her pianist, Malvin Walker. Through a recent arrangement made with the management of the Follies Bergere, Atlantic City, all attractions presented there are to appear at the Flotilla Club.

HIT BY STOLEN AUTO, MAN IS NEAR DEATH

Standing in Center avenue at Reed street awaiting for a street car early today an unidentified man was injured seriously when an automobile ran onto the pavement and struck him. The automobile had been stolen in Hobart street only a short time before, police say. They arrested John Young, a Negro of Wightman street as the driver. The victim is in a critical condition in the Montefiore Hospital while police make efforts to identify him.

Mrs. Leidia Deroma (right), 1345 Bluff street, was giving a wedding party for Rose Marie Avetta, 21 (left), and her husband, Steve Avetta (center) when uninvited "guests"—the police—"dropped in." Brandon discharged the young couple and the visitors—and fined Mrs. Deroma, in whose home certain fluids were found, $50.

"The Family Upstairs," Pitt Comedy, Is Pleasing Play Of Life in Average Home

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS.

"The Family Upstairs," a comedy of the commonplace, humdrum affairs of the every-day folks, written by Harry Delf, pleased a large Pitt audience last night, when it was presented for the first time by the George Sharp Players. In it one meets the street car conductor, his wife and three children, a young bank clerk, the gossiping neighborhood seamstress and others whom we know very well. Their struggles and their heartaches and their aspiration and their attempts to achieve happiness, their naturalness even in their pretensions—all these make "The Family Upstairs" a nice little enjoyable play, and those who attended made it evident they were having a very good time.

Anne Forrest made especially appealing her characterization of a sensitive young girl whose chances for happiness were almost spoiled by her own mother putting on more airs than her father's pay envelope warranted. Ralph Morgan effectively played the young man to whom she gave the promise of her heart, but who was frightened at the prospect of marriage when the pretending mother intimated to him that her daughter was accustomed to and expected luxuries his salary as a bank clerk would not buy.

Gus Forbes was as natural as life as the street car conductor father who, plain man that he was, believed everything would be much better if folks would just be their natural selves, but permitted mother to practice her little deceptions for the welfare of his daughter, as he thought. Louise Gerard Huntington gave humorous force to her characterization of mother, who just wanted to see her daughter happy and almost spoiled everything by blundering when she thought she was being subtle and scheming.

Others who served to complete the illusion of a real average family included Gordon Anderson as the young son who wanted to be a politician and whose father dubbed him a "bum"; Miriam Kirkell, as the child sister, who cheated on time at her piano practice and babbled family secrets in an embarrassing way, and Mabel Kroman, the seamstress.

Altogether a nice little play, with plenty of moments of laughter and some wholesome sentiment, very well done.

AILS IN HARRIS WINNER

Roscoe Ails and His Gang are responsible for quite a lengthy vaudeville presentation in the Harris this week. Roscoe is a keen head in the trick of laugh-getting. He keeps the audience handclapping much of the time and in attention all of the time. There was an episode during the opening performance yesterday when his dance stepping caused prolonged applause. And there was a moment or so when his jesting showed a tinge of vulgarity. The comedian's "gang" includes a small jazz band and two feminine performers—all of whom display talent. The feature sequence of his act was a navy setting, ending with the booming of guns and the unfurling of Old Glory. The show opens with a bicycle stunt act. Then Hayes and Mae appear in a skit that offers comedy chatter and songs. Other acts include Walter and Norman Nelson, talkative jugglers. The photoplay is "Midnight Rose," which proves another of those underworld affairs that the movies have gone "wild" over. Lya De Putti is the star. Kenneth Harlan is featured. The usual short film numbers and organlogue are on the bill.

ACADEMY BURLESQUE IS "FRENCH MODELS"

"French Models" is the burlesque attraction in the Academy. Viola Elliott, the featured player, is given special prominence in her "Dance of the Seven Veils" and in her song, "St. Louis Blues." Edna and Edythe Bates, versatile girls, appear in specialties. George Grafe has a pleasing tenor voice which is heard in several songs. A burlesque dealing with the activities of bootleggers, gives the comics, Hap Moore and George Hart, their opportunity. "The Poor Smith Family," "The Egyptian Mummy" and "Behind the Scenes," are other comedy skits. Hinda Wasau, held over for a second week, appears in new dance specialties.

BOYD'S "SKYSCRAPERS" IS ON OLYMPIC SCREEN

William Boyd's starring photoplay, "Skyscrapers," opened yesterday in the Olympic. The story concerns two steel workers, who forgot their animosity long enough to combat a mutual enemy—the boss. The second worker is played by Alan Hale. And of course, there's a girl—Sue Carol in this case. The Vitaphone offers "Dream Cafe," a comedy sketch; Rin-Tin-Tin, in an act of tricks, and the orchestra of Vincent Rose and Jackie Taylor.

HARMON'S ORCHESTRA FEATURE AT SANDERS'

Sanders, on the Freeport highway, Aspinwall, opened the annual summer season last night, with Dave Harmon and his orchestra playing for dancers. He is to present dance music and auxiliary features each night for the next two weeks. Sanders has been entirely redecorated and renovated for the summer season.

MARATHON DANCERS TO VISIT CANOE CLUB

Eddie Leonard, Marianne Jacques, Tony Phillips, Teeny Nieman, of dance marathon fame, will be present as entertainers at the annual spring dance of the Inca Canoe Club tonight in Eastern Star Temple, Highland avenue.

'KING OF KINGS' IN ALVIN

"The King of Kings," which was presented here for an engagement of two weeks earlier in the season came to the Alvin last night and again impressed, as it did previously, as a photoplay of extraordinary power and appeal. It is a picture drama of the final two years of the life of Christ, bringing vividly to the eyes a visualization of the drama that preceded the crucifixion and was terminated thereby.

The Bible story is reproduced with accuracy and there are many human touches to intensify the spiritual scale, all characters and scenes being treated with due reverence. H. B. Warner, as Jesus, gives one of the best portrayals that he has ever given on the screen and he appears to have imparted to the role much of the gentleness and spirituality we are wont to associate with The Son of Man.

Ernest Torrence is Peter and Dorothy Cumming is the Virgin Mother, both very well done, as are the parts of Judas, played by Joseph Schildkraut, and the High Priest, played by Rudolph Schildkraut.

The photography, some of it in color, is worthy of comment and many of the scenes are remarkable for their size and semblance of realism. The musical accompaniment by a large orchestra is excellent.

Hereafter there will be two showings daily during the engagement.

Marion Davies in "Patsy" Is Penn Hit

Marion Davies in "The Patsy," a King Vidor picture, features a good bill in the Penn this week. "The Patsy" has lost none of its humor and swiftness of plot in its adaptation for the screen from the play by Barry Connor, and with that favorite star of the comedy stage, Marie Dressler, in the cast, the picture rendition measures up in first-class support for Miss Davies throughout. Lawrence Gray is cast in the leading male part and the minor roles are in capable hands. The photography is high-class and the scenario is to be commended for its effective titles and the fact that they are few. This helps in the swift movement which develops the sprightly comedy situations. It is perhaps the best and greatest Marion Davies comedy. The stage presentation is up to the standard with Teddy Joyce in a fast-stepping revue to the tunes of the Penn band. In the bill are featured Jack North, he of the back-talking banjo, and Cy Landry, who tells jokes with his feet; Kathryn Lewis, Charles Chesney, Don Albert and Dick Leibert.

"MIRACLE WOMAN" COMING TO STANLEY

The Stanley promises a surprise in "The Miracle Woman," the feature attraction announced for next week. Secrecy surrounds her identity and not a hint has filtered through that might lead to a solution of the mystery. She will be present, in person, on the stage in the Stanley, topping the stage presentation, "Venetian Nights." Other acts will be Berinoff and Eulalie, the Three Whirlwinds, Georges Dufranne, Edward Albano, Grace Yeager and the Serova dancers.

"WINGS" OPENS LAST WEEK ON NIXON SCREEN

"Wings," Paramount's popular picture of war and aviation, opened the final week of its Nixon engagement yesterday. The photoplay is being shown twice daily and the last performance is scheduled for Saturday night.

How Western Union Treats Workers; Paid Vacations.

By B. C. FORBES

"FIND out how telegraph and cable company employes are treated," wrote one reader. He indicated that all was not well with them.

Instead of snooping around, I asked the president of the largest company of them all, Western Union, if he cared to make a reply.

Western Union officers and employes are such a familiar feature of American life that it is a matter of very widespread public interest as to how this organization handles its army of 60,000 workers.

The facts revealed are interesting. Their publication may influence other corporation managers to adopt some of the progressive plans introduced by Western Union.

NEWCOMB CARLTON, president of the company, writes:

"The operations of the Western Union system are conducted by a working force of approximately 6000 employes. A comprehensive plan for employes' pensions and accident, sickness and death benefits was inaugurated in 1913. Disbursements have amounted to $12,652,476.

"All new employes have the benefit of a medical examination. In the larger offices lunch rooms, rest rooms, with emergency hospital accommodations, and trained nurses in attendance, are provided. A doctor is available for consultation at scheduled times during the week. The company's medical examiners do not treat employes, but a sensible effort is made to discover incipient troubles and many cases of incipient troubles, such as tuberculosis, have been discovered in time to prevent serious results.

"THE principles of the eight-hour day were recognized in May, 1917. Overtime and Sunday is paid for at time and one-half regular time. Employes are excused on holidays as work permits, in rotation, without deduction in regular pay. Double time is paid for all work done on Christmas.

"Annual vacations with pay, amounting to approximately $2,365,000 yearly, are allowed after a period of service.

"WE also have a plan, inaugurated in 1910, for lending money without interest to worthy employes in distress.

"In 1916 educational courses were prepared by the company and arrangements made with the American School of Correspondence to conduct the courses at reasonable rates, the company advancing the fees in meritorious cases without interest.

"In 1918 the employes organized under the name of the Association Western Union Employes to promote the welfare of its members, encourage cooperation and efficiency, and to establish and maintain a relationship between the employes and the company permitting of amicable discussions and adjustments of all questions relating to working conditions and wages, and the arbitration of disputes. Agreements respecting conditions of employment, wage scales, disciplinary measures, etc., have been made and a nominee of the association appointed to the employes' benefit fund committee.

"The wage level, as measured by average wages per employe, is higher than ever before. It is about double that of 1916, compared with an advance of 68 per cent in living costs. Continuing the policy of regulating wages of employes according to their merit, individual wage increases aggregating $3,100,000 per annum were made in 1927. Out of each dollar of gross revenue, 59 cents is disbursed for employes' wages, benefits and pensions, compared with 48 cents in 1916.

"IN May, 1919, the directors authorized a committee of three to meet a like committee appointed by the Association Western Union Employes, to consider plans of profit-sharing and report their recommendations. After many conferences an income participation plan was adopted for 1920 as an experiment. The plan has since been extended from year to year.

"It provides for the distribution in cash among qualifying employes of one-half of the company's net income, over and above an amount designated at the beginning of the year as the company's primary return. Since the inauguration of the income participation plan the employes have received over $14,000,000.

"In 1926 an employes' stock subscription plan was approved. Fifty thousand shares were offered to the employes on May 15, 1926, at $120 per share, payable in installments over a period of two years. At the close of 1927 over 7,400 employes were paying on subscriptions for approximately 26,500 shares."

PLEASE note, particularly, the granting of vacations, with pay. I know of no company that regrets having adopted such a humane, considerate plan.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The raw sugar market was quiet today and prices were nominally unchanged. Cuban holders were asking 4.52c and some nearby duty free sugars were available at 4.46c, but buyers showed no interest.

Trading in raw sugar futures was again of small proportions with operators inclined to limit fresh commitments and await developments in the spot market. Prices were easier under selling by houses with Cuban and European connections. Prices at midday were net unchanged to 2 points lower.

Buyers of refined sugar continued to limit purchases to nearby requirements. Prices were unchanged at 5.95c to 6.00c for fine granulated.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Studebaker Pushes Ahead.

The Street displayed considerable interest in the Studebaker bulge today, but there was no definite explanation of the stock's rapid rise. The overnight gain of 5 points surprised the trading element as there had been more or less veiled suggestions to take profits in General Motors. Observers tried to read some connection into the fact that Pierce Arrow showed noticeable strength and recalled the fact that Packard was the strong feature yesterday, but Packard's rise was credited as much to its air motor activities as to its position as an automobile company. In the absence of news traders here were inclined to attribute the Studebaker rise to belated recognition of the company's position in the industry and its earning power. Studebaker has been earning its dividend comfortably for the past few years, but for a period of almost two years the stock lay waterlogged at a 10 per cent return level and the Street was naturally chary of a stock offering such a yield. The stock still shows a desirable return from an investment standpoint, especially when considered from the angle of yields on other industrial issues. The stock pays $5 a year.

Daily average crude oil output in the United States for the week ended May 12 amounted to 2,355,556 barrels, which was a decline of 99,250 barrels from the preceding week, according to the Oil and Gas Journal. Light oil output dropped 106,856 barrels.

This is the lowest level reached since the week of November 13, 1926, when 2,328,651 barrels were produced daily. The sharp recession was due to placing the Hendricks pool, in Winkler county, West Texas, under restriction.

During the year $3,000,000, representing a federal income tax reserve no longer required, had been restored to the surplus and a reserve of $1,800,000 created for pensions and other possible adjustments. The account for patents, charters and franchises was written down to $5 from $4,700,000. Approximately $40,000,000 had been spent in the past six years for new plants and extensions with the result that the company now is prepared to take care of business 25 per cent greater than this year's shipments.

Heavy Pressure Absent.

J. S. Bache & Co. say: "Since the resumption of the current swing on April 24, following several weeks of backing and filling which succeeded the February-March upswing, there has been a notable absence of heavy selling pressure. On only three occasions was liquidation sufficiently large in scope to bring about moderate dips in the average price. Following precedent the current phase of the advance may continue for approximately 7 to 10 average points further before running into a reaction of more than nominal proportions. For the present it would therefore seem that the maintenance of a constructive attitude would be the most profitable."

Crude Oil Exchange Planned.

Announcement of the appointment of a committee on grading and inspection of raw silk for the newly organized Raw Silk Exchange in New York has directed attention to plans for establishing a commodity exchange to deal in crude oil, another industry on a world-wide basis. Plans of both groups call for the establishment of exchanges or markets along the lines of the Chicago Board of Trade grain and cotton market, the New York and New Orleans Cotton exchanges and other markets dealing in commodities having a world interest. Each industry feels the need of the price stabilization and business efficiency provided under the rules of an organized exchange or central market. New York has been chosen as the location of the silk exchange to be known as the National Raw Silk Exchange, and some important oil center, such as Tulsa, Okla., in close touch with producing and refining operations, is the probable seat of the oil exchange.

In the early days of the oil industry Oil City, Pa., was the center of the trade and an oil exchange was maintained in Pittsburgh for several years. It was disbanded many years ago and was succeeded by the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange.

"Yields Too Low."—Col. Ayres.

Wall Street paid considerable attention to the latest analysis of stock market conditions of Col. Leonard P. Ayres of the Cleveland Trust Company. After commenting on the national-wide craze for speculation, Colonel Ayres says: "How much longer this market may run is as impossible to predict as was the duration of the Florida boom, and for similar reasons. Leading stocks in this market taken as a group now yield in dividends about half as much as it costs to carry them on margin. Speculators think they are discounting the future earnings of the prosperous companies. In the bull markets of the past 30 years, the prices of groups of stocks have repeatedly been carried up to levels quite out of relationship to their earnings or their dividends. This has happened with the express companies, the rails, the coppers, oils and equipments. The record shows that these extreme price advances have always turned out to be based on belated recognitions of past performances rather than on [illegible] of future possibilities."

Approximately $600,000 will be spent at its terminal at Wilmington which is to be made chief loading port for the company's export movement. Business Conditions.

Some of the conservative economists are of the opinion that the business situation is improving steadily. They point out that commercial loans have increased, corporation earnings are good, industrial activity has been expanding and prices of agricultural products have been moving upward. These, they contend, are indications that conditions are growing better right along. Discussions are heard in many quarters which have been optimistic that a number of the leading corporations of the country are likely to do some common stock financing when additional funds are required, and that this will bring valuable rights to present stockholders. In addition there are expectations that the current high prices for many securities foreshadow numerous splitups and stock dividends later this year, so that interest in the market is likely to continue at a high pitch.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened steady today at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points and soon showed net gains of 3 to 9 points. The technical position of the market appeared to have been improved by the selling of yesterday. Offerings were comparatively light, while there was buying on apprehension of rains in the eastern and central belts.

The bulge met further liquidation, however, and prices eased later, July selling off to 20.75c and October to 20.66c before the end of the first hour, or about 6 to 9 points net lower. Trading was comparatively quiet, the market apparently waiting for further weather developments.

Private cables reported continental buying, covering and calling in Liverpool, supplied by liquidation on yesterday's report of Texas rains.

Nervousness over the weather outlook in Eastern and Central belt sections caused considerable buying in the forenoon. Prices rallied 20 or 25 points from the early lows, July selling up to 20.97 or about 11 to 15 points net higher. As it approached the 21.00 level, however, offerings increased with some selling on private reports that rains had improved conditions in West Texas. Prices sagged off, with the midday market comparatively quiet and within 1 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

STANDARD SANITARY CONTINUES STRONG HERE

PROFIT TAKING TURNS STOCKS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—Heavy profit-taking in many of the standard industrial and railroad shares turned the course of prices irregular in today's stock market after an early outburst of strength in the airplane, copper and motor shares. Early gains of 1 to 11 points were materially reduced in the late realizing movement, although new leaders were quickly brought forward by operators working for higher prices.

The volume of business again taxed the facilities of the exchange, the ticker falling 45 minutes behind the market by early afternoon, with total sales in the first three hours again running close to 2,500,000 shares.

Call money was again in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 5½ per cent despite the heavy mid-month demand for funds.

Heavy accumulation of the copper shares, half a dozen of which moved into new high ground, was stimulated by the increase in the export price of copper, coincident with reports of a brisk foreign demand for the red metal, and the announcement of a sharp decrease in the stocks of the metal above ground last month.

Studebaker, which has been dormant for some time, assumed the leadership of the motor group by climbing 6 points to the highest price in four years at 73¾. Nash and Hupp also were in good demand, although General Motors ran into heavy profit-taking after its initial advance of 1½ points. Radio, General Electric, International Match preferred, Victor Talking Machine and Consolidated Gas also were under pressure.

Equitable Office Building, which advanced 8 points yesterday, ran up 21 more points today by touching a new top at 145. Foundation Company was bid up 5 points, and Allied Chemical, American International, Magma Copper, American Zinc preferred, A. M. Byers, Liquid Carbonic and International Business Machines sold 2 to 4 points higher. Curtiss and Wright airplane issues ran into heavy realizing after their early rise of about 11 points each, and fell back several points from the high level.

Rails were mixed, strength of Lehigh Valley and Delaware and Hudson being offset by the heaviness of Wabash and Southern Railway.

The closing was irregular. Losses became more widely distributed in late dealings, as realizing or short selling increased. The "Bulls", however, maintained a good grip on many stocks, and further heavy accumulation of Studebaker carried it above 75. Curtiss Aero, and Wright Aero were quoted 6 and 8 points respectively below their early peak prices. Total sales approximated 4,100,000 shares.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP.)—Trading was dull and prices remained firm in the bond market today. Continued hesitancy was apparent in early trading evidently because of the fact that funds have been flowing into the call money market for short-term financing rather than into the time money mart, leaving a smaller proportion available for bond transactions.

Coppers again attracted most of the buying, Andes Copper 7s advancing a point. Anaconda and Chile Copper 7s made small gains. Buying of copper company obligations is said by those close to the industry to be based largely upon favorable trade conditions, increased export prices and shipments and a noticeable reduction in the domestic stock.

A 6 point gain by Liquid Carbonic convertible 6s was outstanding among other industrials. United Drug of Delaware 5s and Remington Rand 5½s with warrants continued in demand.

Rails were inclined to heaviness, Bangor-Aroostook first 5s, Chicago Great Western 4s and St. Paul 5s of 1975 sagging. New York Traction issues eased off slightly on profit-taking. Continued buying caused limited advances in St. Paul 5s of 2000 and New York Central and Hudson River refunding 5s.

Strength of Fiat 7s with warrants, which reached a new year's peak at 114 after an advance of 1½ points, was the feature of the foreign list.

New York Clearing House.

NEW YORK, May 15.—(INS.)—Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $1,601,000,000; balances, $124,000,000; Federal Reserve Bank's credit balance $118,000,000.

GENERAL LIST IS NARROW

Stocks were quiet and prices held to a narrow range in the early dealings on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. Volume of business in Standard Sanitary, recent leader of the trading, was restricted to a few trades in the forenoon session with the price holding steady around the levels reached on yesterday's upturn.

Lone Star Gas was narrow with the quotations showing no important changes from the previous closing level. The 52-level at which the stock seems to be pegged in current markets was maintained most of the day.

Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt, which recently bulged up to around 60, slipped back to 55 where it met fair demand from traders who have been more or less favorable to the issue for several weeks. The company issued a good report for the year 1927 and unofficial estimates place earning for the first half of this year at a figure sufficient to cover the dividend for the entire year. There have been rumors of a raise in the dividend rate from the present $3 annual basis but interests usually informed on the company say that such action would probably take place late in the year, if at all.

Among the miscellaneous issues May Drug was the favorite with buyers taking the stock on a moderate rise to a level close to the previous high.

Carnegie Metals was handled around 24½ with several hundred shares changing hands in that area. Buying was thought to represent activities to traders who expect Carnegie to fall in line with the metal shares in the New York market where prices have been going up for the past several days.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, May 15.—Indications of better export demand, together with unexpected firmness of Liverpool quotations, led to material upturns today in wheat values here. Unfavorable crop comments came from Europe and the world's available supply of wheat showed 5,921,000 bushels falling off for the week. Toward the last, liquidating sales of corn appeared to have ceased, and there was an improved cash demand for oats.

Wheat closed firm, 2¾@3c net higher, corn 1⅝@2⅛c up, oats varying from ¼c decline to 1⅜c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

The following grain quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.

ERIE GASOLINE PRICE JUMPS AS WAR ENDS

ERIE, Pa., May 15.—Erie's enjoyment of cheap motor fuel has come to an end. Gasoline yesterday was retailed practically throughout the city at 21 cents, 18 cents from the dealer and a 3-cent tax, an increase of 4 cents a gallon over the week-end. The price was raised from previous levels of 11, 12, 13 and 14 cents and ends a "price war" which has been in progress for several months.

Win Court Fight to Save Toad From Stone.

EASTLAND, Tex., May 15.—(AP.)—Humanely inclined Eastland citizens obtained a court order against the sealing of a horned toad in the cornerstone of the new court house and the toad, placed in the stone Saturday was released, none the worse for its 48-hour entombment.

Protests calling for the reptile's release "out of respect for Christianity, and the humane citizenship of Texas," moved the commissioners' court to order the stone unsealed and the subject of the experiment liberated.

The tradition in this section that a Texas horned toad can live indefinitely without food, water or air was said to have been proven here recently when one was removed alive from the cornerstone of the old court house when it was torn down after a reputed entombment of 31 years.

LONG REACH OF U. S. SLEUTHS BRINGS PLEAS

Sentence is yet to be pronounced on Antonio Falchini, former storekeeper at Ebensburg, Cambria County, and his daughter, Josephine Falchini, 24, who yesterday pleaded guilty in Federal District Court to concealing $15,000 worth of merchandise from a receiver in bankruptcy, appointed by the court.

Last August, about the time an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the estate of Falchini, he and his family disappeared from Ebensburg, about the same time the receiver learned that thousands of dollars worth of furniture, groceries and other merchandise, had been secretly removed from the store.

A few days later a letter was received at the Ebensburg National Bank saying Falchini and his family were on their way to Italy. Special agents of the Department of Justice, searching for the missing stock, learned that a freight car load of goods had been shipped from Johnstown to "Frank Feretti, San Bernardino, Cal." At its destination it was claimed by Falchini. He was arrested by Department of Justice agents who, upon advice from Pittsburgh, had kept the shipment under surveilance at San Bernardino.

HOLD WOMAN IN PADLOCK SUIT

The federal grand jury suspended the liquor probe long enough this morning to return indictments in three minor cases. The true bill yesterday charged her with sale and possession of intoxicating liquor and cites two prior offenses for which she pleaded guilty and of violating the prohibition law and paid fines.

Week to Be Dedicated To Educating Pedestrian

About everybody and everything now has a special "day." But we jay-walkers are unusually honored. A day isn't enough for us, so they are giving us a week. Polite about it, too, they are. They know we are thin-skinned and don't like to be called jay-walkers, which we are, so they are going to call our week "Pedestrian Week."

And they are going to educate us—think of that! Motorists, too. For some reason or other, despite evidence that we appear to care little for our own lives, they are trying to prevent us from losing active personal contact with the impatient world, in which we jay-walkers really are engaged in conducting scientific experiments.

There is an axiom that no two bodies can occupy the same space at the same time—for example, a jay-walker and an automobile or a street car. We jay-walkers have done our best to disprove that theory and now they are going to give us a whole week, beginning May 20, to prove that we can't prove what we have been trying to prove.

Perhaps we should pay attention. Especially as 130 lives were lost last year by persons struck in the streets.

New Memorial Monument To Arsenal Blast Victims

A new memorial monument is to replace that erected during Civil War days to those who lost their lives in the Arsenal explosion September 17, 1862. On the Arsenal plot in Allegheny Cemetery, where the victims rest, there will be unveiled a granite block bearing four bronze tablets containing the names of all of the 78 victims of the disaster. The dedication takes place Sunday, May 27.

Weather had obliterated all but a few names on the old obelisk, which recorded the names of only 40 of those whose lives were sacrificed to their country's service in this Civil War disaster. Prolonged effort and research have been required to ascertain the identity of the 38 whose names did not appear on the memorial shaft erected many years ago.

That omission is now corrected through the activities of a committee sponsored by the Sons of Veterans and the auxiliaries. A praiseworthy service has been rendered and in appreciation of that fact there should be a large public attendance at the ceremony to be held May 27.

Progress in Near East

Six American colleges in the Near East are seeking an endowment fund of $15,000,000.

These schools, the best known of which is Robert College at Constantinople, are remaking this part of the Orient.

For example, the Turkish government is sending 24 young men to Robert College to study engineering. They will be used to install modern sewage systems, water supply and electric lighting in interior Turkish towns.

At the university in Beirut the government of Iraq is supporting 27 students, the government of Palestine seven, the government of Ethiopia six and the Soudan five.

Nearly every modernizing influence which is lifting this part of the world into line with scientfic progress can be traced to these Amercan institutions. And while their purpose is not commercial, they bring opportunities to American business.

It is in work of this kind that the exported American dollar does a lasting service for peace and progress.

The Merciless Camera
It Has No Respect for Royalty.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS "RECOVERS."

Here is the Prince of Wales, pluckily riding in a steeplechase, regardless of possible falls.

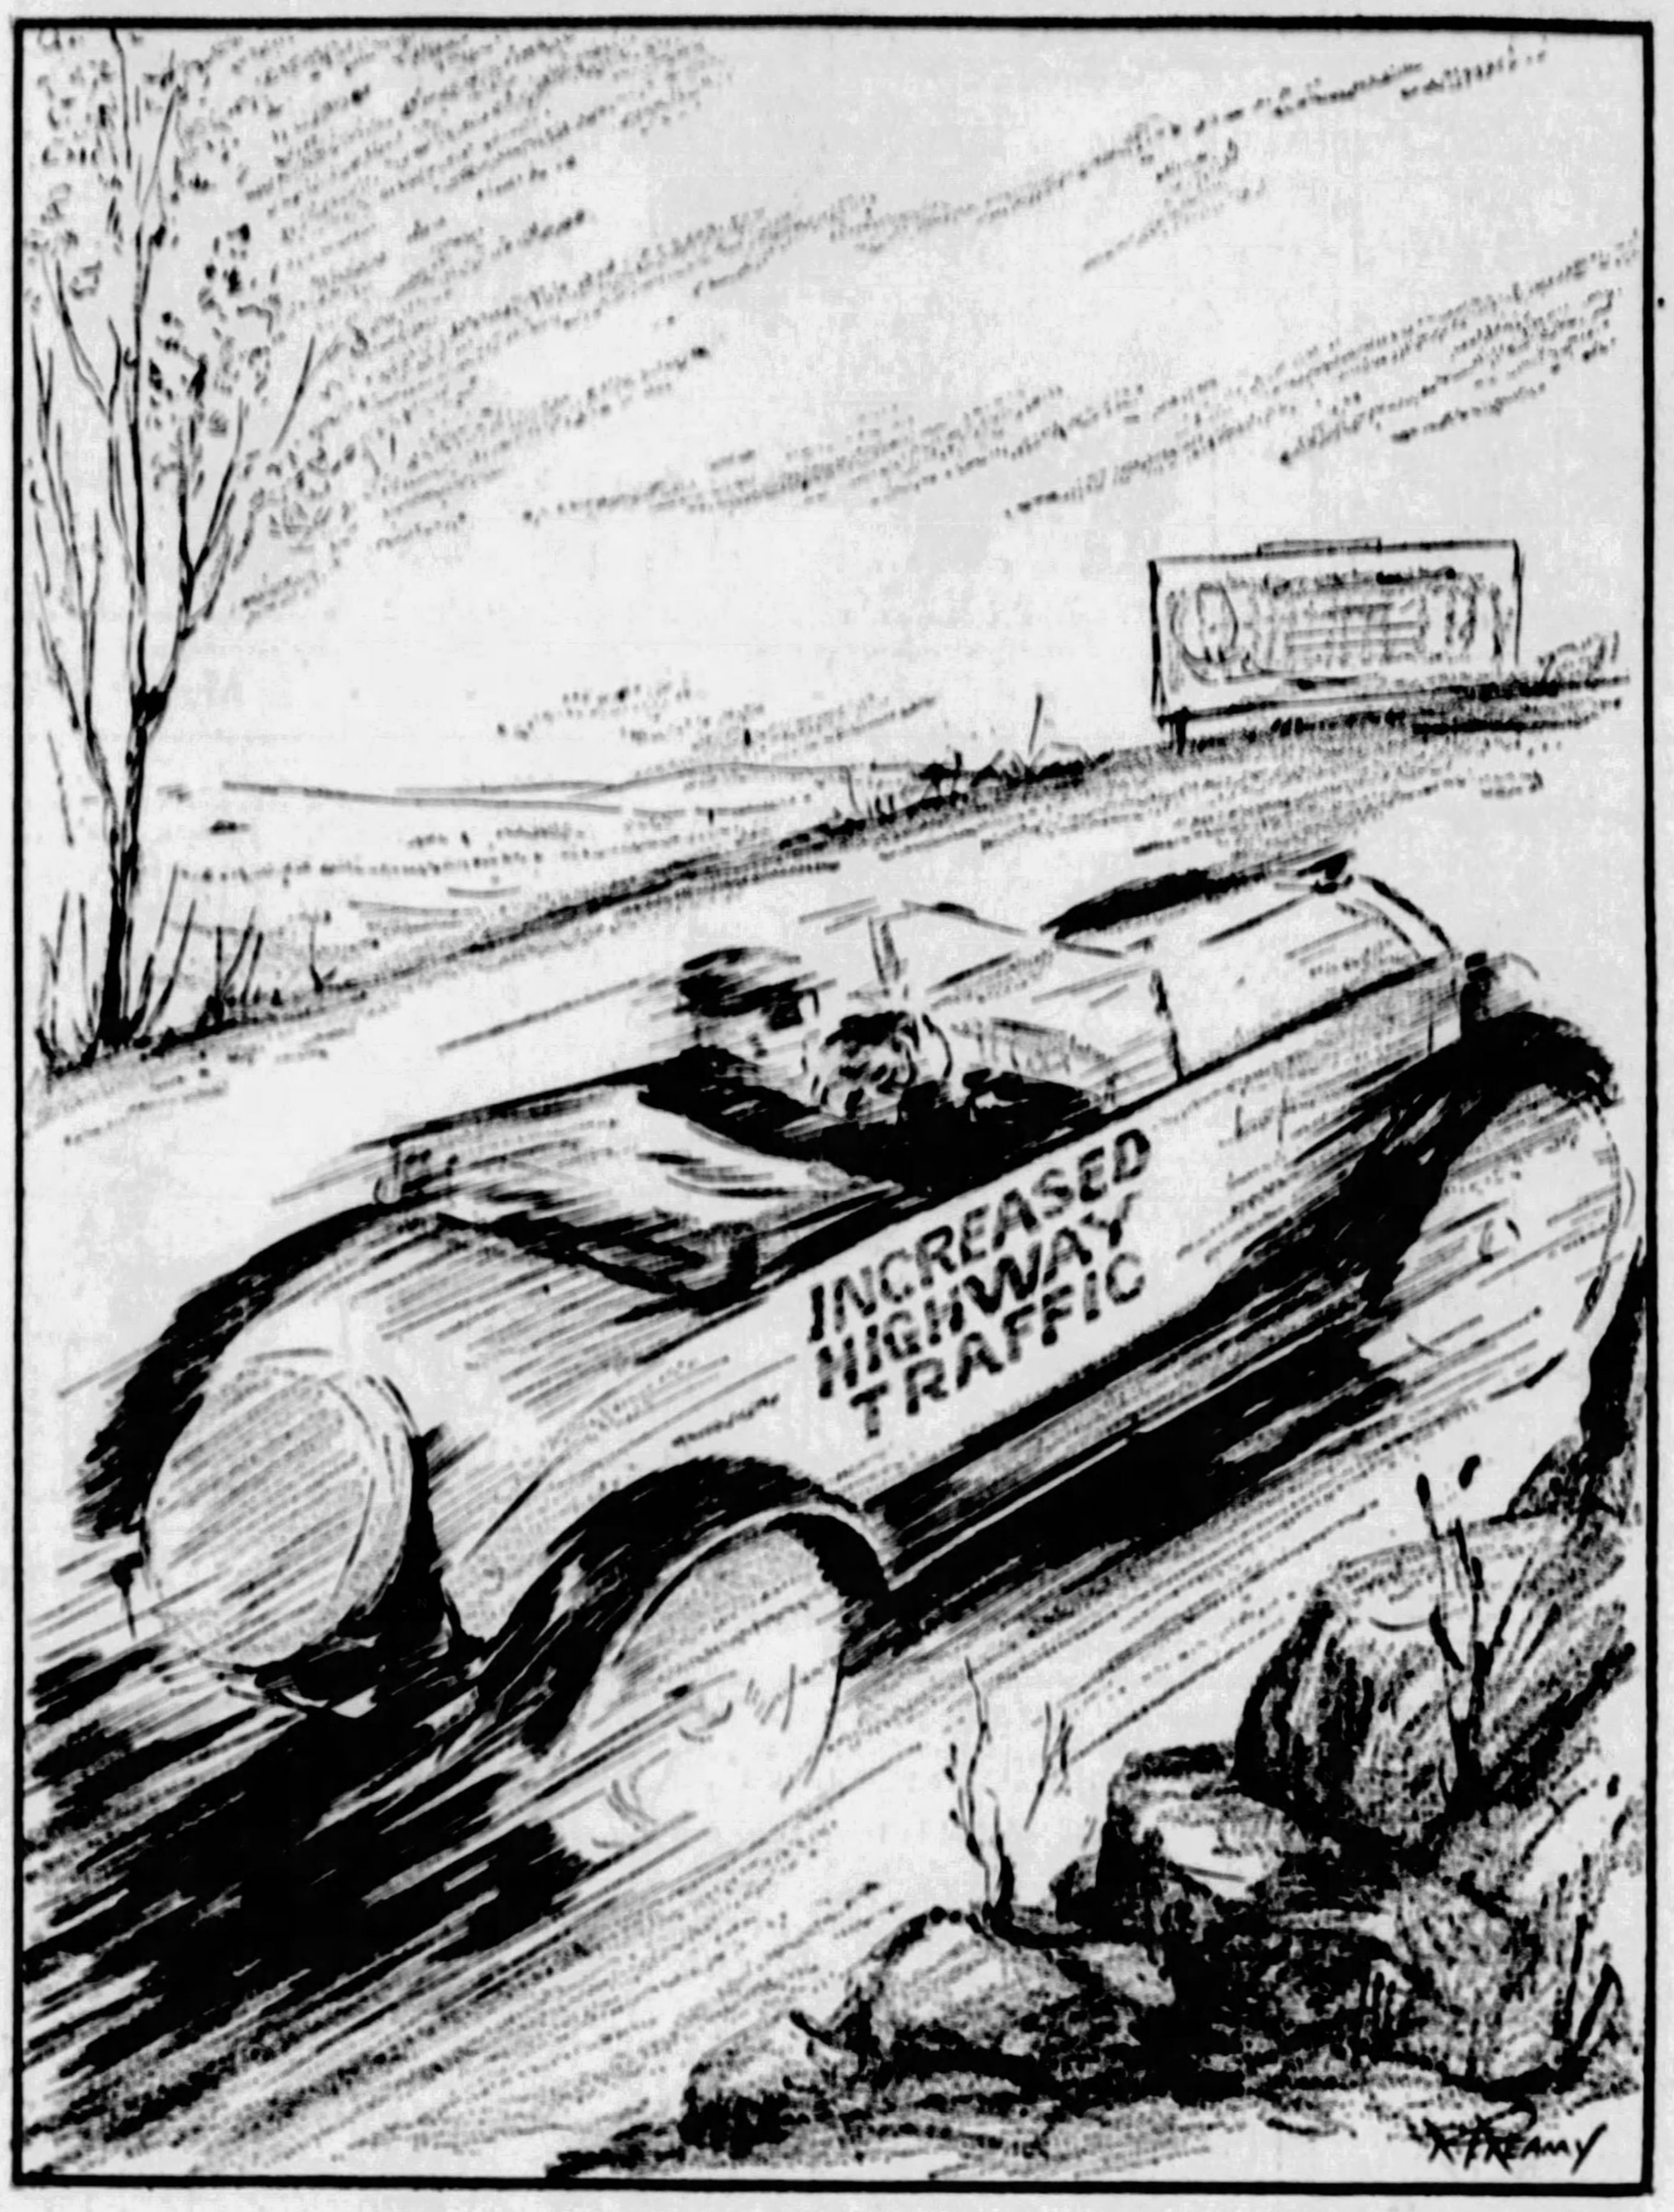
The camera shows why it is that some men fall often and some fall rarely. Here the Prince is pulling his mare, Lady Doone, together, after she nearly came down over a fence, riding hard, as he always does, and afraid of nothing. The young Prince finished second, in spite of his mishap.

The photograph is interesting because it shows, by the position of the hands, that even heirs to the throne of the British Empire cannot INHERIT a knowledge of riding.

Ten thousand grooms can ride better than he can. But they are no pluckier than he, and that contents him.

Courage is more important than riding skill.

THIS MEANS CARE AND CAUTION



Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Tides and Earthquakes

WHEN you hear of a great earthquake, notice the age of the moon. By the age of the moon is meant the time that has elapsed since the last new moon phase. Remember that the actual new moon is never visible, because the moon when precisely at that phase is between the earth and the sun and lost in the solar rays. What we ordinarily call "the new moon" is already two or three days "old" before it gets far enough east of the sun to be readily espied as a silvery sickle in the sunset sky. The almanac will give you the date of the real new moon.

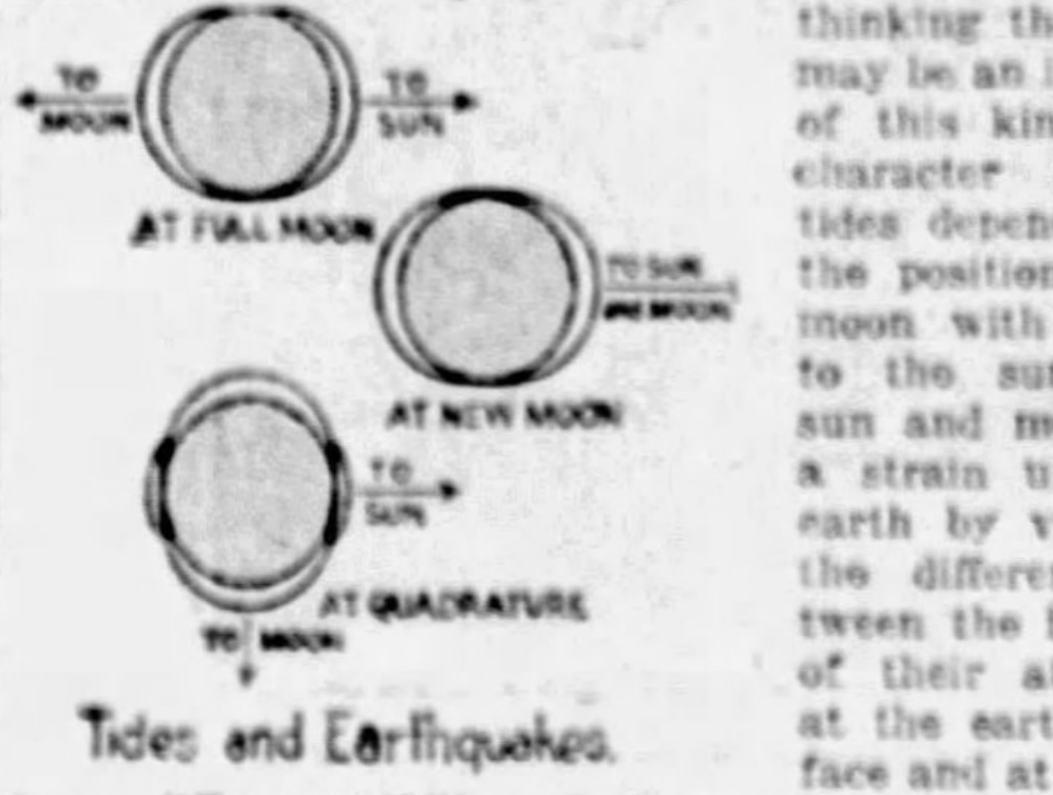
The reason I am advising readers to note the "moon date" of earthquakes is in order that evidence may be collected bearing on the question whether such disturbances are more apt to occur near the phases of new and full moon than at other times in the lunar month. The evidence now at hand seems to be indecisive, though much of it strongly favors the affirmative.

The little group of pictures herewith shown is intended to exhibit graphically the prior reasons for thinking that there may be an influence of this kind. The character of the tides depends upon the position of the moon with respect to the sun. Both sun and moon put a strain upon the earth by virtue of the difference between the intensity of their attraction at the earth's surface and at its center, a difference that varies inversely as the square of the distances. The most noticeable effect of this difference is seen in its production of the oceanic tides. But it has been proved that the solid globe of the earth is slightly distorted by the same forces that raise the tides.



Tides and Earthquakes.

Now, as the pictures show, the tides are highest at full moon and new moon, when both moon and sun act together in the same line; and they are lowest when the moon is at quadrature, i. e., at first or last quarter, because then moon and sun act at cross purposes, pulling in directions at right angles to one another. Owing to its much greater nearness to the earth, the moon is more than twice as effective as the sun in producing tides, and in the practical study of the tides attention is concentrated upon the moon.

Of course the same variation of force must affect proportionally the tidal strains felt by the globe of the earth, and in that fact lies the argument that some degree of coincidence should exist between tides and earthquakes. Geology indicates that the earth is heated within and very slowly losing its heat, so that the rocky crust should have a tendency to settle down upon the shrinking interior. This state of things, which is complicated by many special considerations not to be discussed here, is the general source of the internal disturbances of the earth manifested at the surface as earthquakes.

Change in the amount or the direction of a tide-producing force may be supposed, in many cases, to precipitate a slip or break in the strained subterranean strata sufficient to cause an earthquake at the surface. It is a very interesting problem to determine just how and when these effects become noticeable.

How's Your Spelling?

THIS year's champion speller of the grammar schools of New Bedford, Mass., is discovered in Aram Belanger, a Franco-American of thirteen years. Aram's competitors numbered twenty-nine.

Here are the twenty-four words that finally cleared the field of all contestants save the little winner:

gallery
valve menace allege kimono menagerie addition radius ancient criticize aluminum treacherous welcome genius occurrence heifer effigy efficiency initial talent
alfalfa rarefied jeopardize prophecy

The ancient spelling bee has returned to the stage to enjoy a run equal to that of the rejuvenated debate. Neither is at all likely to displace football as an "attraction," but the spelling competition appeals to fathers and mothers who are eager to know "what the schools are doing."

The "Joiner"

LIKE scores of other men you probably feel you belong to too many clubs and lodges.

They make a considerable demand upon your income and require a lot of time attending the meetings.

Probably there are some organizations whose meetings you never attend, for they come at a time impossible for you to manage.

So you don't get the good out of your affiliations you should.

Well, what is the use of continuing your membership, then?

You like to be known as belonging to such-and-such a body. It pleases your vanity.

Then why censure yourself so often for unnecessary expense?

Isn't it a fact that when you figure on reducing your expenses you never think of giving up the expensive organizations to which you belong?

You cut in other ways but you retain the affiliations which necessitate the largest outlays.

You are not very logical when it comes to a matter of self-satisfaction, are you?

Have Patience

TOUCH not each lightly offered prize,
Though brilliantly its glow
May fall upon your eager eyes;
Be sure its worth you know.

The tinsel crown may sometimes gleam
As does a monarch's pride;
You gave your best of work and dream,
Be not soon satisfied.

The tawdry, for a little time,
May glisten like the true;
But you, who toiled with faith sublime,
Know gauds are not for you.

Have patience still, for not in vain
Was spent one hour, one thought;
Sometime your steadfast will must gain
Rewards it long has sought.

Tales that are Told

"A Little Knowledge—"

AN ATTRACTIVE-LOOKING, rather well-dressed woman, shopping in a large London shop, noticed that as she passed from one department to another, the shopwalkers would remark to each other;

"Two-ten!"

Struck by the peculiarity of the term, she called a smart lad in buttons and said:

"Do you know what 'two-ten' means?"

The boy grinned cheerfully.

"That's easy, ma'am," he answered. "It's a kind of watchword here, and it means 'Keep your two eyes on her ten fingers.'"—London Answers.

As Requested

TO PUT it briefly, the two simplest souls in the village desired to marry.

The ceremony took place in the village chuch, and in order to help them, the vicar put in rather more asides than usual.

When they reached the middle of the service he whispered to the kneeling couple:

"Follow me up the aisle," and proceeded to the altar.

As he reached it he looked around. An astonishing sight met his gaze—the bride and bridegroom, with as much dignity as possible, were approaching on all-fours. —London Answers.

The Verdict

HE WAS a theatrical aspirant and had been introduced to a well-known manager who agreed to give him a trial in a forthcoming production.

This duly took place, and afterwards the would-be actor awaited the manager's verdict.

"Well," he said breezily, "what did you think of me in the part?"

The other raised his eyes to heaven in search of inspiration.

"Ah," he answered slowly, after a profound silence, "all I can say is, that if ever you are put in prison for acting it will be a grave miscarriage of justice."

It Didn't Matter

WITH a certain amount of satisfaction the old lady climbed laboriously on the tramcar and sat down in the corner.

"How far does this go?" she inquired of the conductor, when that worthy gentleman asked for her fare.

"As far as the terminus," he replied wittily, and his passenger asked to be put down there.

When the tram finally stopped at the end of the run the old lady once again turned to the conductor.

"Which end do I get off at?" she asked.

"Please yourself, ma'am," he replied. "Both ends stop at the same time."—London Answers.

It Sounded Plausible

TWO men up from the country paused in astonishment as the word "Chiropodist" on a brass plate caught their attention.

Said the first:

"What in the world is that, Bill?"

His friend scratched his head vaguely. Somewhere he remembered seeing the word before, but he could not recall it, though he tried hard. But, he decided, it would never do to let the other think him ignorant.

"Heavens!" he exclaimed. "Don't you know? Why, a chiropodist is a man who teaches young canaries to chirrup."

Air Mail

WHILE the tenth anniversary of the first American mail service by air falls on May 15, it was not until August, 1923, that this great convenience began to get into its stride.

During four days in that month test flights were made between New York and San Francisco, yielding the extraordinary time of 26 hours and 14 minutes, with 15 intermediate stops, as compared with the old-time transcontinental mail record of 87 hours by rail.

Today 22 air routes are operated, covering a total mileage of 9,916. Every day mail pilots fly an average of 22,110 miles, carrying nearly three tons of mail. They could carry much more and make the extension of the service more rapid if more citizens would think to use their air mail.

The sooner this habit of greater use is cultivated, the sooner the high postage rate of 10 cents for each half-ounce will come down.

New York Day by Day
by
O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 15.—Every columnist is besieged—meaning he receives a letter now and then—about how to write a New York column. As everybody is doing it, the formula seems simple enough, but like door knob polishing or train wheel tapping, there are certain tricks to the trade.

It is highly important, indeed almost imperative, at the outset to find an editor who will print the stuff. This is often tedious, for editors are a strange people, largely influenced by whims. Many of us have grown beards in the outer offices, waiting to catch them off guard and put over a fast whim.

A columnist should give the impression of receiving shoals and shoals of mail. He must give himself a patina of sophistication now and then by declaring the most popular play in town is tripe. His job is to convey the idea he is quite a fellow, always merry and bright and kind to his folks.

Yet at intervals it is well to pull out the Pagliacci stop at talented despair. The "Laugh Clown, Laugh" obligato will help hide from his readers that his job is really a cinch. And anyway, when a job appears too easy, the editor begins glancing about for a new boy.

One of the rackets in columning is to throw an intellectual smoke screen about the work and thus hide the deficiencies. Sprinkling a few terms like sui generis, tour de force, flagrante delicto and such are dandy and make the readers suspect you might have been educated abroad.

It is also well to mention tautology, mixed metaphors, split infinitives and other grammatical complexities, as though you know all about them. Then when some glaring "bull" leaps out from the printed page the reader will lay it to journalistic haste, and not ignorance.

When people ask the columnist how in the world he thinks up material to write an article every day, he should merely look like a sick awe, give a deprecatory shrug and murmur; "It is nothing." This will send them off raving about his innate modesty.

Columnists must appear charitable toward fellow columnists. That is to say, when another member of the tribe is mentioned, immediately respond with: "He's a fine chap." That doesn't mean anything particularly, but hides your true impression he's a bum and has shot his wad.

* * *

The columnist must at all times be versatile. Now and then introduce variety by writing short sentences separated by periods such as: Mayor Walker was late as usual for the theater . . . Marilyn Miller's mash notes require two special secretaries . . . Texas Guinan and her grandpa played leap frog in Central Park this dawn . . . Flo Ziegfeld has received his latest supply of robin's egg blue shirts from Paris . . .

* * *

Thus in a few lines he has mentioned the three absolutely essential personalities for every New York column—Mayor Walker, Texas Guinan and Flo Ziegfeld.

It is important that the columnist give the appearance of being invited everywhere. No first night performance, night club opening, prize fight or such is supposed to be complete without him. He is busy bowing to celebrities all evening. That is the saga of the columnist, and must be perpetuated. The low down is that few columnists attend such functions and when they do they are about as conspicuous as a walking stick on Fifth avenue. Sophie Tucker, for instance, will create more of a stir at first night than all the columnists in town walking two abreast down the center aisle.

The idea that columning requires special gifts is one of the magnificent myths of the trade. Most of us took it up like people take up soliciting life insurance—after everything else we tried was a flop.

* * *

And so that, children, not only explains how to write a column, but how I happened to marry your aunt—the Duchess.

The Main Question
By DR. FRANK CRANE

What is the difference where the proposition comes from? It may come from a bootblack, a prime minister, a most learned professor, or a bughouse lunatic.

The main question is, is it sensible?

There is probably no other thing wanted by so many people in this world today as that we shall have no more war. Curiously enough, the efforts are going on in every country to prepare for war, and at the same time probably nine-tenths of the population of every country, loathe and despise war.

The effect of the last war was to impress upon the world the filth, horror, stupidity and uselessness of an armed conflict.

The day has gone when some big bully nation can start out to conquer other nations, as France did in the days of Napoleon, or Greece did in the days of Alexander, or Rome did in the days of Caesar, and get away with it.

There is one thing that invariably stops such a nation; that is the combination that rises against it.

Combination is the one enemy that no warring nation can overcome.

It was combination that was sought in Woodrow Wilson's plan for a League of Nations. That league up to date has been so tied up with prejudices and passions and petty nationalisms that a combination has been impossible.

And now comes a voice of one crying in the wilderness, a voice from a nation almost everywhere discredited, snubbed and despised, a nation that is carrying on a vast and interesting experiment.

It is Russia. And Russia says to the assembled nations of the world what, after all, would be a very simple thing coming from any source. It is that the way to disarm is to disarm. The way to get rid of war is not to be ready for war.

It would seem that the commonsense of this proposal ought to appeal to everybody. On the contrary, it was almost universally met by amused smiles and tolerant shoulder shrugs. M. Litvinoff demanded an immediate debate on the Russian plan, which was to force immediate disarmament within four years. He said of the American proposal of Mr. Kellogg:

"The sincerity of that proposition could not be emphasized more persuasively than by adherence to the Soviet project for disarmament; not only with view to moral prohibition, but to destruction of the possibility of making war.

"As armed forces exist for no other purpose than to make war and as they would be perfectly useless were it prohibited, it would appear consistent and logical if the government in question supported our proposals."

This is cutting the Gordian knot with a vengeance. And while "practical" statesmen pooh-pooh it the gentleman up a tree or a Martian visiting this planet will wonder why in thunder the whole world does not immediately adopt the idea.

OH, THESE WOMEN!
By LEOLA ALLARD.

MRS. NELLIE HAWKINS married a mail order husband named Frank Lloyd. He told her he was a banker, rancher and friend of Tom Mix. Immediately after the wedding the fellow borrowed money from all concerned and ran away. The bride believes something in the way of ill fate has befallen him.

Wouldn't that be nice?

There are ways to get good husbands, but a want "ad" is not one of them. Even after you have seen them and learned first hand how they behave, the chance is great enough. One nice thing about marriages, there is a surprise in every one. You knew about the prize fighter who when he got his bride home from the wedding, gave her a beating. He followed it with the remark:

"Now, that's what you get when you don't do nothin'!"

At a clothing survey in Milwaukee, only 20 girls out of 1,318 wore corsets, and most of the girls earning an annual income of $402 wore silk underwear.

The 20 probably were fat in the body and the others in the head.

Two elevator girls in a department store, waiting for their cars to fill:

"He told me to take up freight that trip. Can you 'magine?"

"Freight? in that elevator?"

"Yah—freight, 'magine that!"

Pause—

"When did he tell yuh?"

"Last trip. Imagine taking up freight. He said I should."

"Can you beat it, telling you to take up freight."

"Yah. Hum! Freight in that elevator."

"Yah, that's a good one. But that's what he told me."

Mrs. Clara Greer, of Metropolis, Ill., tried to kill her husband, by feeding him ground glass and tacks. Then she sued for separate maintenance. The jury found her guilty of the attempt on his life and gave him a divorce.

The story didn't say how it happens that Mr. Greer is still alive. It just said he was a "hardware merchant."

The wife didn't even have to buy the glass and tacks. And she asked the jury to give her separate maintenance.

The fair sex!
